DRY OFFERS BILL TO TIGHTEN UP PADLOCK LAW

Would Allow Service by Publication.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., Feb. 5.—[Special.]—Wholesale padlocking of places of business by prohibition prosecutors in the absence of their owners is made possible under an amendment to the Volstead act introduced in the house today by Representative Carroll L. Beedy [Rep., Me.].

Although lacking the formal indorsement of the Wickersham law enforcement commission, the Beedy bill is exactly in line with one of the commission's recommendations and was accepted generally as an administration measure. Reports were that the bill has been examined and approved by the department of justice. Beedy, a militant bone dry, is one of the leaders of the house prohibition forces.

Two Wickersham commission bills already are in the house. The Williamson bill to transfer the prohibition unit to the department of justice will be taken up on the floor tomorrow, and the Christopherson bill to eliminate jury trials in minor cases is before the judiciary committee.

Provides "Dummy" Subpœna.

Beedy's bill provides that a district, state, county, or city attorney, failing to locate the owner of premises alleged to be a nuisance, may issue a "substitute" or dummy subpœna and, without serving it on the owner, may go into court and have his place padlocked. It also provides that the judge may speed up the case if his docket is congested by referring it to a master for proceedings under equity rules.

Representative Beedy declared that his bill would close hundreds of liquor dispensaries and assist in relieving congestion in the federal courts.

"There are today 7,455 of these pending padlock cases," he explained. "In a large percentage of these the government is unable to proceed until some authority for substituted service is given by federal statute. It is to meet this urgent need that I have introduced this substitute service bill."

Amazes Even Drys.

When the contents of the Beedy measure became known the congressional wets assailed it fiercely and even some of the drys were taken aback at its severity. It is certain to get rough treatment before it reaches the voting stage.

Up to the present padlock injunctions have been invoked in the main against beer flats, speakeasies, and cabarets. Under the Beedy bill, the writs fear, padlock enforcement tactics would be extended to include thousands of business houses of all kinds. They charged that the "substitute service" provision was an invasion of constitutional private property rights.

"Under this bill, if a man is in Europe and a tenant is suspected of selling beer, the dry authorities could go ahead and lock up his place for a year, and he wouldn't know a thing about it," declared Representative Loring M. Black [Dem., N. Y.]. "If that isn't confiscation of private property, I don't know what it is. But what's the constitution to the drys? All they are interested in is the 18th amendment."

Beedy Bill's Provisions.

The major provisions of the Beedy bill are as follows:

If any unknown persons, including corporations and associations of any kind, have, or appear to have, an interest in suspected premises, they may be made party defendants by describing them as "unknown owners." When a personal service of a subpœna upon a party defendant is not practicable a subpœna referring to the property by its street address shall be "served by publication"—by being printed twice, by posting on the premises and by mailing to the last known address of the defendant. If such defendant does not appear within 20 days, a court may hear the case, render sentence and execute it. If the court cannot handle the case within 30 days, he may refer it to a master.

New York Club Cited.

As an outstanding example of the type of alleged violator his bill will reach, the Maine representative cited the Waverly club, 122 West 44th street, New York City. The club continued to run because marshals were unable to secure personal service on the true owner. The exasperated dry officials finally went before Federal Judge D. J. Thatcher, who cleared the club, on the ground that, in the absence of a federal law to the contrary, personal subpœna service was mandatory.

Lincoln Park Board Saves $250,000

100 Needless Jobs Cut Off Rolls.

ONE BRIGHT SPOT

While officials hunted in vain yesterday for cash to pay overdue salaries of thousands of public employes the Lincoln park board introduced a note of economy by announcing the elimination of 100 needless jobs from the pay roll, with a saving of $250,000.

Statistics showed that if the city and the county governments realize their hope of selling $123,940,000 worth of tax anticipation warrants they will increase the public floating debt to $403,940,000, or $263,849,000 more than the estimated 1928 tax collections can pay.

President Caldwell of the school board departed for New York City in the hope that "favorable information" would lead to the purchase of school tax warrants by eastern bankers.

A cut of $250,000 in the 1930 pay roll for the Lincoln park system was announced yesterday by Warren Wright, president of the park board, at a meeting of the commissioners. The saving was made by eliminating 100 jobs, Mr. Wright explained, and was effected without in any manner impairing the efficiency of service to the public.

The pay roll in 1929, under the régime of the previous board, approximated $1,000,000, Mr. Wright said. A few weeks' study of the roll showed that jobs could be dispensed with in all departments and when the dead timber had been cut out, the $250,000 saving, or 25 per cent of the entire pay roll, was accomplished, he explained.

Further Economies Planned.

"The move wasn't brought about by shortage of funds," President Wright pointed out. "The commissioners merely were carrying out the program of economy to which we pledged ourselves when we assumed office. Moreover, this slash is only the beginning. We believe we will find spots in which to economize during the year and expect to effect an even greater saving."

The action of the commissioners was regarded as setting an example for city and county governments which are involved in financial difficulties. Both city and county have insisted that their payrolls are not excessive, it was pointed out, but the new Lincoln park board immediately found a payroll overloaded by one-fourth and took action accordingly.

Speed Plans for Outer Bridge.

Two other important developments in the Lincoln park system were recorded at the meeting. President Wright revealed that plans for construction of the outer drive bridge over the Chicago river are being rushed to completion and that an important announcement regarding the bridge will be made at the next meeting of the board on Feb. 12.

This bridge, which will link the south park and Lincoln park drives at the mouth of the river, is regarded as one of the most important projects in the completion of the parks' traffic system, Mr. Wright said, and every effort will be made by the board to hasten its early completion.

William H. Dean, Lincoln park engineer, was also ordered to speed up plans for the extension of the outer drive north of Montrose avenue to Foster avenue and to arrange for the filling in of land necessary to the extension. A court decision is expected within a month to remove legal barriers to the completion of the drive.

Refuse Oil Company's Request.

That the new board will tolerate no projects which might detract from the beauty of the boulevards was indicated when a request of the Standard Oil company, advanced by a prominent law firm, for permission to construct a driveway into a gas filling station at Devon avenue and Sheridan road, was turned down. Commissioner Sheldon Clark, an official of the Sinclair Oil company, declared that his

Want Ad Heals Family Breach of 50 Years

One of those cryptic messages in the "Personal" column of this newspaper has brought both family and fortune to Mrs. Anna Anderson Myers of 9741 South Seeley avenue. Yesterday she found fourteen cousins, an uncle and aunt, and more than $2,000 because an acquaintance brought one of these classified ads to her attention. Yet for fifty years she had had no communication with the relatives, who located her through THE TRIBUNE.

Mrs. Myers was born in Moberly, Mo. A few years afterward her mother, Mrs. Carrie Tollefson Anderson, became seriously ill and entered a hospital there. During her illness Mrs. Myers' father wrote to his wife's family in Minnesota, asking them to come and see her. No one came, nor did he receive any message. Believing that this evidenced willful neglect, he never again communicated with these relatives of his wife. After the want ad had healed this breach in the family Mrs. Myers learned the letter never had been delivered.

Family Moves to Chicago.

Mrs. Anderson died in Moberly, and her husband brought his daughter to Chicago, where he established a home in Pullman and began work for a railroad. She has lived here since. The father died ten years ago.

As a small child, after the death of her mother in 1880, Mrs. Myers sent a picture of herself to her uncle, Lauritz Tollefson, in Minnesota, scrawling on the back of it the fact that her mamma had died. Tollefson communicated with the authorities at Moberly, but could not locate his brother-in-law and niece, who had already left Moberly.

Tribune Ad Finds Her.

Lauritz Tollefson, living at Elbow Lake, Minn., is now the last survivor of his family of seven. When his youngest brother, Bernt Tollefson, died in 1925, he left an estate to be divided among the children of his brothers and his sister, Mrs. Anderson. Lauritz Tollefson conducted lengthy correspondence in an endeavor to locate his missing niece, without result. Her share, amounting to more than $2,000, was deposited with the county treasurer.

At last an advertisement in THE TRIBUNE was advised. It appeared on Aug. 16 of last year, and was seen by a Chicago friend, who showed it to Mrs. Myers. She corresponded with the Minnesota inquirers and went to Elbow Lake, where she met her uncle and cousins for the first time and established her claim to the inheritance. A copy of the photograph Mrs. Myers had sent to Minnesota as a child helped to establish the identity at the family reunion.

W. J. GREENEBAUM CRUEL, WIFE SAYS IN DIVORCE SUIT

Walter J. Greenebaum, grandson of Elias Greenebaum, pioneer Chicago banker, was sued for divorce in the Superior court yesterday by Mrs. Adah Stern Greenebaum of the Ambassador hotel. The bill, drawn by the law firm of Brundage, Landon & Holt, charges cruelty.

Mr. Greenebaum is the son of Henry Everett Greenebaum. He is a director of the Greenebaum Sons Investment company and the Greenebaum Sons Securities corporation. He retired as vice president in charge of sales of the investment company last December. He is 42 years old.

The Greenebaums were married on April 9, 1913. They have a son, Richard, 9 years old. Mrs. Greenebaum charges that her husband threw her against a window frame while he was angry three years ago. On another occasion he struck her with his fist. She charges on both occasions he used opprobrious language, the bill states.

Mrs. Greenebaum asks for the custody of their son and for substantial alimony. Greenebaum is out of town, Mrs. Greenebaum declared at her apartment last night.

Dry Law Jails Woman on Her 70th Birthday

Indianapolis, Ind., Feb. 5.—[Special.]—Mrs. Anna Walter, who lives south of Versailles, entered the Indiana woman's prison here on this, her seventieth birthday, to begin a thirty day sentence for the manufacture and sale of intoxicating liquor.

She made her first trip to the Ripley county courthouse at Osgood late yesterday and her first appearance in a courtroom. She admitted making the liquor and selling it, and told Judge John R. Carney that she had on many occasions hitched up her horse and buggy late at night and made deliveries of liquor to dance halls and other places of amusement for her customers.

Shoulders All the Blame.

Her 80 year old husband, George, who was arrested with her and who is almost too feeble to get around, was discharged when Mrs. Walter said she alone had made and sold the liquor.

Judge Carney gave Mrs. Walter a severe lecture and told her she was old enough to know that she was violating the law. He said he would give her a light sentence, but warned her that if she resumes the practice after her release she will be dealt with to the extent of the law.

Fine and Costs Total $141.

In addition to the sentence of thirty days the court fined Mrs. Walter $100 and costs, amounting to $141. No arrangement had been made for payment of the fine.

COPS' AUTO HITS STREET CAR IN RUNNING BATTLE

A pistol battle in which two policemen fired more than twenty shots at a fleeing automobile in a chase of more than 2 miles through west side streets ended abruptly last night when the policemen's automobile crashed into a street car at 57th street and Western avenue. The fugitives escaped and the two policemen, Michael Tidings, 28 years old, 5201 South Peoria street, and James Quinn, 26 years old, 6104 South Talman avenue, were taken to the Southwest General hospital, suffering from cuts and bruises.

Tidings and Quinn first saw the fugitive automobile at 52d and Halsted streets and decided to question the two men in it. As they approached, however, the car speeded away, and one of its occupants opened fire on the policemen.

Mixes Love with Business and Wins Suit

Mrs. Geraldine Cade, 50 years old, 3043 North Ashland avenue, who has been married four times, yesterday lost her breach of promise suit against her divorced husband, Herman Bachal, 52 years old, a chef living in La Grange. A jury in Superior Judge Hugo Pam's courtroom returned a verdict in favor of the fourth husband after he characterized the love letters on which she based her suit as intimate business letters.

Mrs. Cade and Bachal were married in June, 1926. She had been married three times previously, having been twice a widow and once a divorcée. He, too, had been married. Mrs. Cade procured a divorce May 1, 1928.

Plan Second Marriage.

Mrs. Cade testified that in the August following the divorce Bachal came to her and said that they had made a serious mistake in getting divorced. He proposed marriage a second time and was accepted. They decided to set their marriage for the first of November, on which date they expected to move into a house she offered to build for a second honeymoon in Elgin, she said.

To support her testimony she introduced letters, which she read to a crowded courtroom.

"O my dear," she began reading a letter dated from Elgin in August, 1928, "I see you won't come out today. I am disappointed. The carpenter did not come today. So, dear sweetheart, I would like to know if you want the bathroom even with the kitchen floor or on the ground. But my idea is on the kitchen floor. I would like to see you here as soon as possible. I will be in Elgin in front of the depot tomorrow between 2 and 3 o'clock.

"You know I like to see you, honey dear. From your Herman Bachal. Call me Harry Bachal. P. S.—Just received the last load of lumber."

House Nearly Half Finished.

A second letter read:

"Now my sweet little sugar.

"My little honey and little dear.

"O my sweet love. O wait until I get you, somebody will suffer. Now, dear, I must let you know that the house is nearly half finished. I want to let you know that the back steps and bathroom are now finished. I want to see you. For truly your lovin' sweetheart and signed with a hundred kisses. From your

"HARRY BACHAL.

"P. S.—O dear, I must start to paint at once on the outside and get paint every where."

Crowd in Uproar.

Judge Pam repeatedly threatened to clear the courtroom because of laughter during the reading of the letters.

Mrs. Cade closed her testimony by declaring that Bachal told her, when it became evident that the home would not be completed in time for the wedding, that they could have their honeymoon in the garage of the home, overlooking the Fox river. They quarreled when she refused to pay him for painting the home, she said.

Bachal, a serious little man with white hair, glared at his former wife as he denied the proposal of marriage. "Yes, I wrote those letters," he said, defiantly. "That foolishment was not love but business."

BOAT CAPSIZES AT SEA; SWIMS 2 DAYS; RESCUED

(Copyright: 1930: By the New York Times.)

HAVANA, May 5.—After a struggle of 48 hours in high seas and contrary currents, swimming and floating, barely managing to keep his head above water, Isidro Rivero was rescued today, fifteen miles off the Oriente coast, and was brought ashore at Baracoa.

Lack of food and water and the constant fear of being dragged under by sharks, caused him to collapse when rescued.

Rivero and two other men were in a skiff which capsized. One man swam to shore. The other was not found and is believed to have succumbed to sharks.

NEW PRESIDENT OF MEXICO AND WIFE WOUNDED

Bullet Shatters Jawbone of Chief.

BY JOHN CORNYN.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

MEXICO CITY, Feb. 5.—Two hours after he had taken the oath of office today as president of the Mexican republic, Pascual Ortiz Rubio narrowly escaped assassination. A young man, who laid in wait for the presidential party at the gate of honor in front of the national palace, poured a fusillade of shots into the presidential car. President Rubio was shot through the left jaw. The bullet shattered the lower jawbone and lodged in the right cheek.

Three other persons in the presidential car were wounded. President Rubio's wife, Josefina, was grazed by a bullet, drawing blood from her ear and scalp. Rubio's young niece, Maria Rosh, was wounded slightly on the head. Felix Galvan, the chauffeur, who proved to be the hero of the incident, was wounded in the face.

Assassin Fires Six Shots.

The shooting occurred as President Rubio was leaving the presidential palace after swearing in his cabinet. As the automobile was passing through the gate, the assassin suddenly lifted his .38 caliber revolver, took careful aim, and let go six shots. The chauffeur, although hit in the face by a bullet, stepped on the accelerator and skilfully sped through the lines of soldiers to President Rubio's home. None of the hundreds of people who had gathered to cheer the new executive knew that he had been injured.

Shortly afterward President and Senora Rubio were driven to the nearest Red Cross hospital under heavy guard. Word spread quickly that the president and his wife had been wounded, and crowds moved toward the hospital, only to find a strong military and police guard preventing all from approaching the building. Dr. Julian Villareal, one of the most skillful surgeons in Mexico, removed the bullet from the president's cheek. The wound was found to be not serious.

Assailant Is Captured.

Meanwhile, at the scene of the shooting the young assailant who had fired at President Rubio over the heads of a dense line of soldiers packed around the door of honor, had been seized by police and rushed into the palace. A car full of young men who had stood behind him fled, according to witnesses.

The assailant was questioned and searched by Joaquin Amaro, who had just been sworn in as secretary of war, and by José Puig-Casauranc, chief of the federal district. The youth, who gave his age as 22, said he was Daniel Flores of San Luis Potosi. Catholic literature was found on his person, but Gen. Amaro said he was convinced the assassin and his aids were not religious fanatics, because one of the men behind him, when he fired, called out:

"Be sure to get the woman!" meaning Señora Rubio. As the latter is a good Catholic, a religious fanatic would have no reason to kill her, Gen. Amaro said.

Follower of Vasconcelos.

The youth admitted that he was a follower of José Vasconcelos, defeated candidate for president. This recalled charges recently by police that they had nipped a plot engineered by Vasconcelos' followers to kill Rubio and Portes Gil, the retiring provisional president, and seize control of the government.

It was also stated that several days ago communists threatened President Rubio because he was believed by them to have inspired the expulsion of the soviet minister from Mexico, and the arrest of many reds.

It was also revealed by Portes Gil, whose place Rubio takes, that Señora Rubio a few days ago had received an anonymous letter telling her that her husband would never take the oath of office.

After the bullet had been removed from President Rubio's jaw, he was taken to his home in a heavily guarded ambulance. The president was inclined to make light of his injuries.

Mexico City Calm.

The attempted assassination caused intense excitement in Mexico City, and wild stories went around. Tonight, however, the city has quieted down after being assured that President Rubio is out of danger. There is still some anxiety that complications may result from the president's wound.

All inaugural celebrations, including the grand parade, which had been scheduled for this afternoon, were suspended after the shooting.

The attack on President Rubio recalls the assassination of Gen. Alvaro Obregon on July 17, 1928, at a reception in La Bombilla restaurant at San Angel. Gen. Obregon, to succeed whom President Rubio was elected recently, was shot five times by José de Leon Toral a short time before he was to have been inaugurated.

Inaugural Ceremony Simple.

The inaugural ceremonies which preceded the attempted assassination were simple. More than 50,000 persons, including about 2,000 Americans, jammed the national stadium and a greater number were massed outside under a boiling sun. Twelve bands played the national anthem of Mexico and the immense throng stood hatless as Provisional President Portes Gil and President Rubio entered. A presidential salute of 21 guns greeted the new executive.

President Rubio took the oath of office at 12:25 p. m., following which he delivered his inaugural address. Former President Calles, who recently declared his intention of retiring from active politics, was not on the presidential platform. This was taken to indicate his desire to remain out of the public eye.

President Hoover's personal ambassador to the inauguration, Reuben Clark, occupied the diplomatic box nearest the presidential stand.

Adopts Policy of Reconstruction.

In his inaugural speech President Rubio emphasized that the ideas of the revolutionary party had won out all along the line against the reactionaries and conservatives, that revolution is now an unneeded preoccupation, and that the time had come for a policy of reconstruction.

Carrying out of this reconstruction program, President Ortiz Rubio said he considered as his chief work as president of Mexico during the coming five years. The president affirmed his affiliation with the revolutionary party and its ideas, which have been sustained for the last nine years by Alvaro Obregon, Plutarco Calles, and Portes Gil. He declared his policy would be in line with theirs.

Wants a "Modern Nation."

President Ortiz Rubio asserted that he stands for reorganization of Mexico along lines to create of it a modern nation in every sense.

The new president proposes, in the treatment of the great and pressing Mexican problems, instead of allowing agitators and professional politicians, unexperienced in government, to load half baked plans for revolutionary changes and legislation on the nation, to important bills prepared through the government by educated and intelligent men who are capable of making a profound study of each question submitted, thus directing legislation along safe and intelligent lines.

The new president pledged his government to fight the tremendous illiteracy in Mexico, to strive to incorporate the vast body of Indians into the body social, to reclaim the 5,000,000 or more social outcasts, and work to create a homogenous people and nation out of the 101 ethnical and linguistic elements existant in Mexico.

He emphasized the friendly relations of Mexico with all nations, especially the United States.

Sons Told of Shooting.

Gettysburg, Pa., Feb. 5.—(AP)—While celebrating the inauguration of their father, Pascual Ortiz Rubio, as president of Mexico, his two sons, Fernando and Guillermo Ortiz Rubio, students at Gettyburg academy, were informed that he had been wounded by a would-be assassin.

The youths had been excused from the regular routine of the academy following the close of classes today, and together with two fellow Mexican students had taken dinner at a restaurant, after which they attended a movie. It was while they were at the show that they were told of the shooting of their father.

The boys phoned Mexico City and were told by José Penaloza, a secretary, that their father had been removed to his residence. After the call, the brothers said they "felt good" and were ready to resume their regular schedule of classes tomorrow.

U. S. ACCEPTS BRITISH PLAN TO CUT BATTLESHIPS

Stimson Falls in Line with Proposal.

BY ARTHUR SEARS HENNING.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

LONDON, Feb. 5.—Despite denials that the American delegation is committed to any definite position, it is learned tonight that Secretary of State Stimson has virtually accepted the British proposition to reduce the number of battleships of each nation and suspend all building of capital ships until after 1936.

Although Mr. Stimson has placed the injunction of utmost secrecy on the American delegation, information has been obtained in British quarters that the Americans have made concessions to the British demands for a reduction of battleships without obtaining any concessions by the British to American demands that cruiser tonnage be materially curtailed.

British Show Satisfaction.

The British do not conceal their satisfaction with the present trend of the negotiations, which is in the direction of their object to effect a radical reduction of battleship fleets and the size of capital ships, not only without reducing their present cruiser strength appreciably, but with permission to increase their present aggregate cruiser tonnage.

The proposition offered by Prime Minister MacDonald, to which Mr. Stimson is giving favorable consideration, is to scrap five British battleships, three American battleships, and one Japanese. Inasmuch as Great Britain now has 20 battleships, America 18, and the Japanese 10, adoption of this plan would leave Great Britain and America with 15 battleships each and Japan with nine.

British Put in a Joker.

On the face of it, this plan would establish battleship parity between Great Britain and America and retain the 5-5-3 ratio of the three leading naval powers, as provided by the Washington conference.

It transpires, however, that Great Britain is not proposing to scrap any but ships already nearing the age limit. She has no intention of scrapping either the Rodney or the Nelson, two crack super-dreadnaughts built after the Washington treaty. America has no equal to these ships.

Moreover, it has transpired by the translation of the measurement of naval strength of the respective powers into standard tonnage, that Great Britain has 75,000 instead of 25,000 more tons of battleships than the United States.

Parity Still Far Away.

American naval authorities estimate that as long as Great Britain retains the Rodney and Nelson, Anglo-American naval parity never will be established, unless the United States is allowed to build at least one new battleship while Great Britain builds none. As far as can be learned, Mr. Stimson has not yet made a proposal of this character. However, there is a report that the United States will insist on the right to construct one Nelson type post-Jutland boat with such modifications as the navy general board proposes.

Mr. Stimson is understood also be discussing with Mr. MacDonald the British proposition for reducing the size of capital ships, despite the fact that American naval advisors are strongly opposed to such an innovation. They were ordered to appear for sentence later.

United States require a strong battleship fleet, chiefly because of its lack of outlying naval bases.

Why British Want Cut.

The British are intent upon a radical reduction and eventual abolition of battleships, for numerous reasons. The labor government is under the stern necessity of reducing the budget if it is to stay in power. What it wants is to save a huge amount, through cessation of battleship building, which would enable it to find funds for unemployment insurance and other socialistic innovations.

Mr. MacDonald has been maneuvering from the start to get an agreement on a reduction of battleships before considering the cruiser question. Mr. Stimson at first refused, but now he has been persuaded to discuss the battleship question in advance of the cruiser problem. He insists, however, that no commitment will be made on battleships before an agreement on cruisers is reached.

The negotiations between Mr. Stimson and Mr. MacDonald have, however, progressed to a point where Mr. Stimson has broached the battleship reduction program to the Japanese.

SIX OLD CRUISERS AND NAVY YARD TUG SOLD FOR $286,707

Washington, D. C., Feb. 5.—(AP)—Acting Secretary of the Navy Jahncke today approved the sale of six obsolete cruisers and one yard tug at a total price of $286,707.20.

Three cruisers, the Albany, New Orleans, and the Salem, at Mare Island, off San Francisco, were bought by D. C. Seagraves, San Francisco, for $89,305. The Charleston and the Huron, once the South Dakota, at the Puget Sound navy yard, were sold to Abe Goldberg & Co., Seattle, for $118,222.20.

The Frederick, once the Maryland, at Mare Island, was sold to Rothenberg and Sugarman, Oakland, Cal., for $68,400, while the yard tug Lively, at Mare Island, was bought by the Puget Sound Tug and Barge company of Seattle for $10,780.

REMOVE BULLET FROM BOY'S HEAD; WILL RECOVER

Dean Grover, 7 years old, 801 Commonwealth avenue, Waukegan, who has been partially paralyzed since last fall, was recovering last night at the Passavant hospital following an operation for the removal of a bullet from the base of his brain. Physicians said the operation had been successful and that the boy would regain the use of his limbs and the sight of his right eye.

Dean was struck by a stray rifle bullet last November while playing in front of his home. His father, George Grover, a laborer, was unable to pay for the necessary treatment and Dr. H. F. Cannon of Waukegan, who had given his services free, laid the case before the Waukegan Kiwanis club, explaining that a delicate and expensive operation was the only hope of saving the lad from the life of a hopeless cripple. The club immediately raised $155 and promised to meet all the expenses of the operation. As a result the operation was performed yesterday at the Passavant hospital by Dr. Loyal Davis of Chicago.

NAVAL SLASHERS AGREE TO TAKE UP SUBMARINE FIRST

MacDonald Gets Action on Demand for Speed.

BY JOHN STEELE.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

LONDON, Feb. 5.—The representatives of the British dominions, "fed up to the teeth," as one expressed it, with the slow progress of the naval conference, have at last asserted themselves vigorously. As a result of their resolutely expressed protests yesterday the British delegation, headed by Prime Minister MacDonald, conveyed to the delegates of the other four nations a demand for more speed and orders were issued that concrete facts be taken up by the conference.

The first sign that the work has gotten into high gear was the announcement of a plenary meeting, summoned for 11 a. m. next Tuesday, to discuss the subject of submarines. The second sign was an announcement that the first committee, which is a plenary session under another name, will meet tomorrow morning at St. James's palace to seek a solution for the controversy between the global and categorical method of limiting tonnage.

Would Abolish Submarines.

When the plenary session meets next week both America and Great Britain will lay on the table a demand for abolition of submarines without, however, any hope of securing it. The other nations will state their formal positions and after that the matter will be referred to a committee to be threshed out.

The position of France will be put in a plan offered by Premier Tardieu, to "humanize" submarines so they will not be ruthless seawolves, like U-boats were during the war, but innocuous defensive craft for the weaker nations to protect themselves against dominant naval powers. Public opinion in France is solidly behind Premier Tardieu for maintaining submersibles.

But a settlement on the basis of retention of submarines will give the British admiralty a strong card for demanding additional cruiser strength by citing the exploits of German food ship raiders during the war.

Try to Halt Rumors.

Perhaps another factor which induced the "big five" to speed up was the fact that, owing to the slow speed and the secrecy, many fakes and rumors appeared yesterday.

Press officials spent most of their time giving official, semi-official, and man to man denials. One of the first dealt with was a story that at a meeting with the Japanese last night Secretaary of State Stimson presented for discussion an alleged agreement between Great Britain and America for Great Britain, America, and Japan to scrap a large number of battleships. This was denied by Hugh R. Wilson of the American delegation. However, it is certain that some such subject was mentioned by Secretary Stimson in his talk with Reijiro Wakatsuki, head of the Japanese delegation, yesterday. The denial points out the fine distinction between "mention" and "discussion."

Deny Building Holiday.

Another rumor was that a naval building holiday plan had been put before the Japanese. This got a sort of semi-official denial, it being explained that no doubt some such plan had been mentioned but not formally put forward.

Mr. MacDonald, as chairman and chief steerer of the conference, had a long list of engagements today. He began at 11 o'clock with a cabinet meeting, where the progress of the conference was discussed. This was followed by a meeting of the whole British delegation at 3 o'clock, where the dominion delegates made their protest about the "low gear driving."

Then came a meeting with Mr. Stimson, Premier Tardieu, and Foreign Minister Briand of France at 5 o'clock, where Mr. MacDonald and Mr. Stimson told the French delegates all that had happened during the week-end while they were in Paris.

After that Mr. MacDonald went to the "big five" meeting at 6 o'clock, where the speeding up decision was reached, and then to a dinner for the delegates at 10 Downing street at 7:15, after which all of them went to a great reception at the admiralty house.

Japanese Stall for Election.

It is hoped that by the time the plenary session meets next Tuesday the question of the method of limitation will have been agreed upon and that some sort of start can be made on fixing the figures of global and categorical tonnage. While submarines are the only subject on the agenda of the plenary session, there is no reason why between now and Tuesday the agenda should not be enlarged to include the announcement of such decisions.

It is not likely, however, that any real progress will be made toward fixing tonnage figures until near the end of the month. This is due to the fact that the Japanese have a general election on Feb. 20, and the Japanese are stalling vigorously on the figures until the present government can get settled in the saddle or a new government formed.

This also explains why the Japanese have refrained from taking a more active part in the conference and have refused to more than state their case in most general terms. When the delegates know how they will be supported at home they will be ready to talk business.

French Have New Plan.

There is a good prospect that the problem of French and Italian parity may be settled by the French suggestion to fix the same global tonnage for all nations and each nation then state what it expects to build. This would give the Italians theoretical parity, which is all they want, and they would not be compelled to build up to it.

LABOR SEA LORD HOLDS FETE FOR NAVY DELEGATES

Foreign Guests See Inside of British Admiralty.

BY HENRY WALES.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

LONDON, Feb. 5.—First Lord of the Admiralty Albert V. Alexander and his wife entertained the delegations to the naval conference at a reception at the Admiralty house tonight. All the department heads of the British war office, treasury, home, and foreign offices were present.

The ground floor of the Admiralty was swept clear of desks and files and turned into cloakrooms and dressing rooms and its stone passageways were covered with an amazing display of the flags of the five countries represented at the conference.

Sentries Wear Full Dress.

Towering palms decorated the entrance to the Admiralty. The guests, after driving through the Horseguards' parade, past the red coated sentries with fixed bayonets, entered through a scarlet and white marquee.

Mrs. Alexander, who received the guests, wore a gorgeous gown of shaded orange and flame brocade. Then the guests passed into the dining room, where hangs a portrait of Samuel Pepys, the witty diarist, once a secretary at the admiralty.

In the outer hall the buffet was spread, and white wine, from the great cellars under Lancaster house, was served. This supply is restocked annually by the government and includes some of the finest vintages and champagnes, especially imported by the government for official entertainment.

Marine Band Plays in Bower.

The Marine band played upstairs in a bower of pink azaleas, and the adjoining chamber, which is normally the first lord's bedroom, was turned into an extra reception hall.

Ishbel MacDonald was hostess at a dinner before the reception. Among the guests were David Lloyd George, Dame Lloyd George, and their daughter, Megan, Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Baldwin, Sir Austen and Lady Chamberlain, Rose Rosenberg, the prime minister's secretary; the Countess of Oxford and Asquith also attended.

Women to Present Petitions.

LONDON, Feb. 5.—(AP)—Women representing four nations were preparing tonight to tell the diplomats who are tangled in the mazes of the five power naval conference, that women the world over want naval armaments reduced.

Feminine delegates from the United States, Great Britain, Japan, and France will present memorials asking "actual reductions in navies so as to make peace effective," to Ramsay MacDonald at St. James's palace tomorrow morning.

He in turn will inform the full conference of the women's assurance that they are fully backing the delegates of their countries in the effort to obtain a five power agreement for naval reductions.

OVER 90% OF THESE DOCTORS SAID "YES"

Group of Physicians Favor Natural 100% Bran for Constipation

Perhaps you are one of the millions of people in this country who suffer from atonic constipation—bowel irregularity resulting from intestinal sluggishness. Here is expert advice for its relief—the opinion of thousands of physicians on this vital subject.

Not long ago ten thousand doctors were asked this question, "Do you believe that raw natural 100% bran is the best form of bran for the relief of constipation?"

92% of the answers were "Yes."

Pillsbury's Bran is natural 100% bran — nothing added, nothing taken away. Doctors say natural 100% bran is best. Think over these two statements—then go to your grocer tomorrow, get a package of Pillsbury's Bran, and start the natural relief of that aggravating and dangerous condition. The unpleasant results of constipation are well-known—headaches, lassitude, sallow complexion, loss of sleep, nervousness, loss of vitality and increased susceptibility to more serious disease.

Add roughage to your diet—primitive man ate roughage, and had no constipation. Pillsbury's Bran is roughage in a particularly effective form. You can use it to prepare many delicious foods—muffins, tea cakes, apple cake, macaroons, doughnuts, etc.—the recipes are on the Pillsbury package. You can sprinkle it over salads, or mix it with cereals. You can eat it as it comes from the package, with cream and sugar. No matter how you eat it, Pillsbury's Bran is the best kind of bran—natural 100% bran, recommended by this overwhelming majority of doctors.

U. OF C. SHOOTING PUTS BUSINESS ON GANGS' TRAIL

New Gunplay Blamed on Labor Trouble.

Business leaders were brought into the campaign against the unusual series of crimes of the last week when Philip H. Meagher, construction superintendent for the H. B. Barnard company, was shot twice yesterday, supposedly because his firm is operating under Landis award conditions.

As the business interests were offering coöperation, Abe S. Buhai, 441 Friar place, owner of a factory at 415 Armour street, and said to be a relative of Corporation Counsel Ettelson, was under police escort and his home and factory were given special police protection. He had been threatened over the telephone with "the same that happened to Julius Rosenheim," a crime investigator who was a friend of Buhai's son and who was slain last Saturday in front of his home.

Shot on U. of C. Grounds.

Meagher was critically wounded while directing the erection of the new Lying-In hospital on the University of Chicago grounds. Detectives coming from the deathbed of William Healy, hoodlum who was shot Monday night, took charge of the investigation.

Beside the Healy shooting the police were seeking light on the killing Tuesday night of Joseph Bucheri in his room at 2709 West 71st street, the murder of Philip Marchese on the sidewalk near the Irving school at Lexington and Hoyne avenues Tuesday afternoon, the death of Vito Russo in the explosion in a building at Harrison street and Kildare avenue, and other murders of last week still unsolved. There have been seven deaths in as many days as a result of gang shootings.

State's Attorney Swanson and Police Commissioner Russell said they believed the crime wave was over, but they would be glad of any assistance given them. A reward of $1,000 was offered by the Landis Award Employers' association for information leading to the arrest and conviction of "the gunman who wantonly and in cold blood shot Philip H. Meagher."

Blame Non-Union Workmen.

The crime was attributed to the fact that the Barnard company employs some non-union workmen and has done so since the refusal of some union officials to accept the decisions of former Judge K. M. Landis, who acted as arbiter on a wage scale dispute.

Col. Robert Isham Randolph, president of the Chicago Association of Commerce, also took cognizance of the Meagher shooting and said he would call it up for discussion when the executive committee of the association meets tomorrow. He said the meeting was not especially called for this purpose, nor had the officers of the association become alarmed over crime conditions, but they are interested now as business men.

How Shooting Occurred.

Meagher is 25 years old, married, the father of two children, and lives at 6918 Prospect avenue. He was walking from a shanty at 59th street and Maryland avenue, where the hospital is being built, to Drexel avenue to confer with Charles Johnson, mason foreman on the building. Andrew Ebert, carpenter foreman, was walking with him. Two men had previously made inquiries about Meagher's whereabouts and then walked back to an automobile parked a block away.

This machine followed Meagher and Ebert and as it drew alongside them, two men alighted from it and commenced firing at Meagher's back from a distance of eight or ten feet. The first bullet punctured a kidney and narrowly missed severing Meagher's spinal column. Meagher turned and the gunmen ran back to their machine, firing three more shots as they reached it.

"I have no enemies," Meagher said to Sergt. James Murphy. "It must be because of labor trouble."

Russell Blames Dry Law.

Commissioner Russell said he believed much of the crime of the present day is due to the prohibition law. "What can we do when gangsters who are mortally wounded will not name their assailants?" he asked. "We've had many instances of this kind recently and the latest is that of Healy, who was vague in his story that three men shot him as he left a beer flat. He didn't say which of the three shot him.

"Gangsters cannot go into court with their differences so when one of them steals or swindles another or double crosses him in a deal a shooting usually follows. Bombing, too, has its secrets because the bomb victim seldom gives the police any assistance. In nearly all cases the owner of the bombed place knows why the bombing was done, even if he doesn't know the identity of the actual bombers, but he doesn't tell the police."

Fails to Identify Captives.

Healy died at 2 p. m. yesterday after failing to identify George (Monk) Campion and Jerry Cotter. He had named them with Jack Neville, businessman with whom Jack Neville, a union business agent, as the men who shot him, but when they were brought to his bedside he refused to implicate them.

The killing of Bucheri was ascribed to a row between bootleggers. Louis Bucheri, brother of the slain man, reluctantly informed the police that the dead man had been in the booze business with Philip Smriglio, 33 years old, 3500 West 58th street. Smriglio was held for investigation.

Expects to Solve Crime.

Lieut. John Norton expressed the belief he would solve the Marchese slaying in a few days. One of the killers did not have an overcoat on when Marchese was shot, and the slayers didn't have an automobile in which to escape. For those reasons Norton was convinced they had an alcohol plant somewhere in the neighborhood. Norton made a half dozen arrests in his quest for the killers.

Fire Attorney Scott Hogan ordered the detention of Louis Blumenthal, part owner of the building at 3246-56 West 26th street in which there was an explosion and fire early yesterday morning. Police of the Fillmore district decided to place charges of murder and arson against Sam Modonia, tenant of the building at Harrison street and Kildare avenue in which Russo was killed at the time of an explosion and fire there early Monday morning. They believe Modonia hired Russo to set fire to the building in which gasoline had been poured, and that the explosion came too quickly for Russo to escape.

BOY, 17, CAUGHT STRIPPING AUTO, IS SHOT BY COP

Bruno Novel, 17 years old, 2312 Kroll street, was wounded, probably fatally, last evening when a policeman who was pursuing him and another youth fell over a gate, shooting Novel in the side. The youth was taken to the Bridewell hospital in a critical condition.

Novel and Stanley Lietis, 17 years old, 1730 String street, were taking the accessories from an automobile stolen from James McDonald, 4441 Washington boulevard, when Sergt. Thomas Cooper's detective squad discovered them in the rear of 1821 South Peoria street. As the policemen started down the alley, Novel and Lietis ran.

Edward Hillgard, one of the policemen, drew his gun and fired two shots in the air as the youths jumped over a fence, and then started in pursuit. As he started through the gate, he tripped and fell, discharging the gun directly at Novel, who was only a few feet away. Lietis stopped when Novel fell.

Joseph Wojtyla, 16 years old, 2213 Custer street, who was shot by Policeman John Walsh on Saturday while he and three companions were robbing a store at 2663 Milwaukee avenue, died last night in the Bridewell hospital.

Leroy Grant, colored, 17 years old, 4235 South Clark street, was shot twice by Sergt. Ralph McKenna of central police early this morning as a suspect in a robbery of the Thompson restaurant at 7 South Wabash avenue, which occurred a few minutes before. The bandit took $28 from the cashier. August Sonntag, 1225 South Wells street.

Grant was shot at the Monroe street entrance of an alley between State and Dearborn streets, where McKenna caught up with him after a pursuit in the squad car. The sergeant fired through the windshield of the car and Grant fell with two bullets in his back.

TWO STREET CARS AND TRUCK CRASH PASSENGER DIES

Twelve Are Injured in a Freak Accident.

A freak traffic accident in which a street car struck a motor truck and shunted it into the path of another trolley caused the death of one street car passenger and the injury of a dozen others yesterday at Western and Berenice avenues. The driver of the truck, which was wedged between the two cars and crushed, escaped injury.

The dead man, George Pluth, 32 years old, 807 South Leavitt street, a painter, was injured fatally when the platform of a south bound car on which he was riding was demolished.

Car Moves Truck.

The truck, driven by Edward Ward, 1818 Belmont avenue, was going west in Berenice avenue and ran directly into the path of the southbound Western avenue car. The car struck the truck in the center and shoving it down the tracks, pushed it in front of a northbound car, which was unable to stop in time to avoid the crash. Windows of both cars were shattered and passengers in both cars were showered with flying glass.

Pluth, riding on the front platform, with Edward Winer, 27 years old, 919 North Leavitt street, was caught in the wreckage of the platform and his skull was fractured as he was thrown to the floor. He died on the way to the Martha Washington hospital. Winer's left collar bone was broken and he was injured internally. He was taken to the Martha Washington hospital with Pluth.

Ward, a driver for the Belmont Ice Cream company, was being held by the police pending an investigation to determine responsibility for the accident.

Pluth's death and four others raised the 1930 Cook county county motor toll to 70. The other victims:

Albert Battles, 40 years old, 820 Cass street. Died in the Passavant Memorial hospital of injuries received last Sunday night when he was struck by an automobile at Ohio and Dearborn streets. The driver, Jack Ellsworth, 4278 Hazel avenue, was notified to appear at the inquest today.

Matt McCormick, 59 years old, 5402 South Carpenter street. Died in the German Deaconess hospital of injuries he received when struck by an automobile on Jan. 16.

Mrs. Matilda Larson, 58 years old, 3316 Clifton avenue. Died at the John B. Murphy hospital of injuries received on Feb. 1 when struck by an automobile at Broadway and Barry avenue. James Moretti, 1300 Addison street, the driver, was charged with speeding and reckless driving after the accident, but his case in Speeders' court was continued until Feb. 18. He will be ordered to appear at the inquest today.

George Wick, 30 years old, 6440 South Claremont avenue. Died at Holy Cross hospital after being struck by a hit and run automobile while he was repairing a tire on his car at 65th street and Western avenue. Wick was dragged several feet.

Make Coasting Regulation.

An order prohibiting boys from hitching sleds on the rear of automobiles was issued yesterday by Police Commissioner Wilson Gee of Waukegan after Thomas Kelley, 12 years old, 1419 Victoria street, North Chicago, had been injured seriously in a sledding accident in Waukegan. Kelley's nose was severed and his skull was fractured when the rope by which he had hitched his sled to a truck broke and threw him in the path of another automobile.

TAFT CHEERFUL AND SITTING UP, SAYS PRESIDENT

Little Hope Held Out for Him, However.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., Feb. 5.—The President and Mrs. Hoover motored to the home of William Howard Taft today and spent ten minutes at the bedside of the former chief justice of the Supreme court. Upon their departure, the president stated that he had found "Mr Taft sitting up and looking very cheerful."

The President arranged to call on the former chief executive after attending physicians had issued a morning bulletin announcing that Mr. Taft was slightly better and had spent a quiet night. This improvement was maintained throughout the day. At 11 o'clock tonight physicians said Mr. Taft was resting comfortably.

Virtually No Hope.

Notwithstanding the issuance of the more reassuring reports today, there was no attempt on the part of physicians to minimize the gravity of Mr. Taft's condition. Virtually no hope was held out today for his recovery.

The President and Mrs. Hoover arrived at the Taft residence at 3:40 o'clock this afternoon and left just ten minutes later. Mrs. Taft met the callers and chatted with them a moment before they entered the sick room.

Mr. Taft recognized President Hoover and spoke to him at once. Mrs. Hoover withdrew after a moment and let the two men alone until it was time to return to the White House. Later, it was stated that the President chatted with Mr. Taft, although details of the conversation were not made public.

Justice Holmes Calls.

There was a constant stream of callers at the Taft house today. Associate Justice Holmes, 89 year old member of the Supreme court, was among the first. Most of the other callers left their cars only to make inquiry at the door or to have their chauffeurs leave a message of greeting and cheer.

Mrs. Taft relaxed her vigilance this morning sufficiently long to take an automobile ride. Mr. Taft's two sons, Charles P. and Robert A., have been summoned from their Cincinnati homes. They are expected to arrive tomorrow.

DEATH RIDES WITH AUTOIST IN 2 CRASHES

As David Anderson, 38 years old, 5645 Emerald avenue, a sewing machine salesman, was driving home from Chicago Heights yesterday with his brother, Walter, 34 years old, asleep in the rear seat of the car, he crashed into the rear of another automobile at 81st and Halsted streets. After a brief discussion, David gave the other driver, Andrew Engle, 9227 State street, $1 to pay for repairing a tire which was punctured in the collision.

At 79th and Halsted streets, Engle stopped again for a red light and again Anderson's car crashed into his machine. Engle accused David Anderson of being intoxicated and, parking his own car, he drove the Andersons' car to the Gresham police station, where he called the police to watch David stagger.

"I'm not drunk," David said. "I'll get my brother to prove it."

But Walter couldn't be roused and the police took him to the Auburn Park hospital where physicians said he had been dead for two hours, apparently of heart disease. David collapsed and was taken to the Bridewell hospital.

HIT BY STREET CAR, DIES.

William O'Malley, 36 years old, 4532 Wallace street, a laborer, died yesterday at the Chicago hospital of injuries received on Jan. 30 when struck by a street car at 47th and Federal streets.

'BRIDE' ACCUSES EARLE OF FAKING RITES AND GIFT

Miss Salazar Describes Two False Weddings.

Los Angeles, Cal., Feb. 5.—(AP)—Dolores Salazar, Spanish dancer and actress, testified today in her suit for $30,000 damages against Fepdinand Pinney "Affinity" Earle for alleged breach of contract that the artist took her to a church in the outskirts of Mexico City in 1927 for a fake marriage ceremony.

"I thought it was a real marriage," she said, "but it was a fake ceremony. There was a priest there—apparently part Mexican and part Indian—dressed in a black robe and wearing the usual clerical collar. He read the ceremony and I signed what I thought was a marriage certificate. Later I learned it was simply a worthless piece of paper. I also signed a book in which were recorded the names of persons married there."

Money in Bank Mythical.

The plaintiff alleges that Earle promised her work in a motion picture he was producing and a $15,000 bank account as a pledge of good faith. She waited at a bank while Earle was inside, supposedly depositing the money in her name, she said, but found later that he had made no deposit.

This morning Miss Salazar, sobbing frequently, described Earle's love-making. She said that on New Year's eve, 1926, Earle took her into the garden at his Hollywood home while a party was being held and at the stroke of midnight repeated a marriage ceremony from memory and said, "Now we are man and wife in the eyes of God."

Scrap with Family Reported.

Before this episode, the girl testified, Earle purchased an engagement ring and trousseau for her. In January, 1927, she related, Earle came to her, his face scratched, and said he had been to see her family.

"Your father turned down the $15,000—he says his daughter is not for sale," Miss Salazar quoted him as saying. "Your sister, Rosie—the little spitfire!—scratched my face. I'm kicked out like a dog."

Several letters, one of which was alleged to have been written by Earle to the girl's father, were read. The letter to the father stated, in part: "I could have scores of beautiful girls, but I want Dolores for marriage."

A letter to Miss Salazar averred: "Darling, one is silenced by such happiness as you give me tonight. One is awed. It would make an atheist need to pray to God. It would make a brass monkey walk up telegraph poles."

Earle is in Paris with his fifth wife and will reply by deposition.

CITY'S DEBTS PILE UP

BY OSCAR HEWITT.

Chicago and Cook county have $123,940,009 of tax anticipation warrants for sale this morning. Thus far no buyers have been found.

This amount—$123,940,009—the tax expending bodies would add to the present floating debt, estimated by Mayor Thompson at $280,000,000. If they succeed, there will be a total of $403,940,000.

What the Figures Show.

The citizens' committee, headed by Silas H. Strawn, estimates the 1928 tax collections at $140,091,000. That sum deducted from the $403,940,000 would still leave a floating debt of $263,849,000, plus unpaid bills, salaries, and wages which will not be met by borrowed money. The figures refer only to the city, county, school board, and sanitary district.

A much darker picture than that was painted yesterday by Controller George K. Schmidt for the city alone. Even with the 1928 tax collections and the sale of all the tax anticipation warrants possible, he forecasts no salaries for employés after July 1 or 15.

The Controller's Forecast.

"Under our tax levy ordinance," Mr. Schmidt said, "we should be able to sell a trifle more than $30,000,000 in tax anticipation warrants, but the investment bankers have told us that $27,150,000 will be the limit this year. Out of the first warrants sold, $10,000,000 must be placed in the city treasury to make good the money withdrawn last year for salaries, and $3,000,000 in bills must be settled. To the remaining $14,000,000 we can add $10,000,000 in miscellaneous receipts. That $24,000,000 will run us until about July 1."

H. Wallace Caldwell, president of the board of education, has admitted twice publicly that the public schools are doomed to close about Nov. 15 unless more money is obtained from the legislature.

County's Bills Piling Up.

Cook county's unpaid bills totaling $7,035,000 will probably be largely augmented by the end of the year, even if the 1928 taxes are collected.

These are the prospects presented to 40,122 public employés to whom the local governments now owe $11,275,500 in overdue salaries.

Mr. Caldwell, who acted as though he had a buyer for $48,000,000 worth of tax warrants, supplied yesterday's only hope for the employés. From the agent whom he has had in New York for ten days Mr. Caldwell said that he had received "some favorable information." Mr. Caldwell and the school tax attorney, Thomas V. Sullivan, boarded the Century for New York yesterday noon.

Caldwell Gets Encouraged.

In addition it is said that Mr. Caldwell was encouraged by an article in the New York Daily Bond Buyer which said: "Chicago and Cook county bonds easily meet every requirement of the New York law governing investment of savings bank funds."

The article said that the bonded indebtedness of the local governments in Chicago is about one-third as large as New York's, is substantially under Philadelphia's on a per capita basis, and "smaller than the debt of Detroit, Cleveland, Baltimore, Pittsburgh, Buffalo, Newark, Minneapolis, and several other large cities." It said that Chicago is rich and good for all the bonds outstanding, which has been known to western investment houses for many years. No one locally has questioned the fundamental soundness of the community.

Tax Warrants Are Listed.

A complete list of the tax anticipation warrants of the four chief local governments, which they are attempting to sell, or will offer in a few months, is as follows:

City.	Tax levy.	Tax warrants.
Corporate	$41,612,500	$33,439,375
Bonds and interest	13,025,000	9,768,750
Police pensions	4,070,000	3,052,500
Fire pensions	1,760,000	1,320,000
Other pensions	2,640,000	1,980,000
Public library	2,583,600	1,937,700
T. B. sanitarium	2,567,100	1,925,325
Totals	$71,258,200	$53,443,650
Schools—
Educational	$46,901,555	$35,176,166
Buildings	17,970,946	13,028,209
Playgrounds	694,837	521,128
Totals	*$66,878,161	$48,725,504
County—
Corporate	$12,000,000	$ 8,375,625
Bonds and interest	2,926,970	2,195,227
Totals	$14,926,970	$10,570,855
Sanitary district—
Corporate		$ 4,000,000
Bonds and interest		7,200,000
Totals		$11,200,000
Grand total of warrants		$123,940,009

*Complete levy, on part of which the school board cannot borrow.

No progress was made yesterday on the sale of any of these warrants locally. Nothing that looked like relief appeared. The teachers will have another payless pay day today. The third empty pay day flitted by for county employés yesterday. Approximately $1,125,000 is now due them, and in addition the 1,642 beneficiaries of the mothers' pension fund are still waiting for $135,000 due them.

Coöperation Still Delayed.

Coöperation of public officials with the Strawn committee to curb waste and adopt laws to prevent a recurrence of present conditions is still blocked by the city and school board.

The county and sanitary district have promised complete coöperation. The city council unanimously ordered Mayor Thompson, Controller Schmidt, and Corporation Counsel Ettelson to coöperate. It was reported yesterday, with a tone of authenticity, that the mayor will ignore the Arvey resolution, adopted by the council on Tuesday, pledging the city's coöperation to the Strawn committee.

Newby Calls for Action.

Commissioner Harry A. Newby, chairman of the county board's finance committee, said the county will continue to coöperate as it has been doing. He added:

"We've got to have action damn soon, or we will be compelled to issue warrants to the employés in lieu of cash. Some of them are in terrible shape."

Before leaving for Washington, D. C., yesterday afternoon, Mr. Strawn said: "It is depressing that public officials do not appreciate the serious predicament of many public employés who have not been paid for more than a month. We cannot make fish of one set of employés and fowl of another. The nurses of the city sanitarium are as much entitled to pay as the nurses of the county hospital.

"I hope that Mayor Thompson will see the light. The pressing task is getting salaries for employés, and the committee desires to coöperate with Mayor Thompson and Mr. Caldwell."

Direct from the Mayor.

When Mayor Thompson was asked last night the direct question of whether he would coöperate with Strawn, he replied:

"We are still working on a way to pay the employés."

"You are willing, aren't you, to do anything to get the employés their pay?" he was asked.

POLICE PETITIONS CALL ON GOVERNOR FOR SALARY RELIEF

Petitions were being circulated for signatures in the police department yesterday asking Gov. Emmerson to take steps to relieve the financial situation in Chicago so that the policemen and other city employés can be paid. The petition was drawn following a meeting of the Policemen's Benevolent association, which numbers most of the force in its insurance organization.

Distress has been caused in the homes of many policemen, the petition points out, because January salaries have not been paid and because it is uncertain when any money will be forthcoming. The association has been unable to pay death claims to widows and children, the petition says, because the members have been unable to pay their dues. The petitions will be gathered Saturday and forwarded to Springfield.

Two hundred members of the south parks police force, at a meeting in the Gage park fieldhouse last night, voted to accept the wage cut of nearly 15 per cent ordered for all south parks employés by the commissioners. A stipulation was made that they be reimbursed for their loss in case the park revenues are larger than is now estimated.

AGREE ON PHONE FRANCHISE; WILL DRAFT ORDINANCE

Company, Aldermen O. K. 23 Year Pact.

The provisions of the new telephone franchise were agreed upon yesterday at a meeting of a council subcommittee and attorneys for the Illinois Bell Telephone company, putting an end to months of wrangling. A draft of the new ordinance will be worked out by the company's attorneys and Ald. B. A. Cronson (4th), chairman of the subcommittee.

The agreement provides that the franchise shall run for twenty-three years. After that period it may continue in force indefinitely, but may be terminated upon a year's notice by either the city or the company. Compensation to the city for the franchise and for use of the streets remains at 3 per cent of the gross revenues of the company.

Company Accepts Plan.

The draft of the ordinance will include a section providing that the company will occupy galleries in a subway to be constructed for its cables, on conditions to be based on the cost of the space to the city and the value of the space to the company. This section was accepted tentatively by the company, and is expected to be definitely settled when the ordinance goes to the gas, oil and electric light committee of the council for approval.

Two points of contention that are to be settled by the company's attorneys, William P. Sidley and William D. Bangs, and Ald. Cronson are the free telephone service to the city and the maintenance of the city's telephone bureau. The free service amounts to nearly $200,000 a year and the upkeep of the telephone bureau amounts to $27,000 annually.

Basis for Settlement.

The basis for settlement of the telephone service to the city, according to Ald. Cronson, will be free service for the police and fire departments, with other departments paying for their calls. Additional compensation will be asked of the company in an amount equal to the payments of the city for service. The company, according to indications, will be exempted from paying for the upkeep of the city telephone bureau.

GIRL COMPANION OF WHIM SLAYER FREED BY COURT

Mrs. Fay Allison, one of the companions of Gus Vogel, "whim slayer," on the night he shot and killed Lyle Perrenoud, a salesman, was freed yesterday in Judge Otto Kerner's court when Assistant State's Attorneys Harry Ditchburne and Walter Butler said they could prove no case against her. She had been indicted as an accessory in order to assure her appearance at the trial.

George Vogel, brother of Gus Vogel and another member of the party, entered a plea of guilty to two charges of robbery. He was sentenced to 1 year to life on each charge. Herbert Y. Curry and Jesse Tiller, other members of the Vogel gang, also admitted their guilt to some of the robbery charges. Sentence in their cases was withheld until Saturday morning, at which time Judge Kerner will decide whether he will heed the plea of the prosecutors for the death penalty for Gus Vogel.

Inquest Held in Death from Falling Revolver

A verdict of accidental death was returned yesterday by a coroner's jury at the inquest into the fatal shooting of Joseph C. Gutenkauf, 35 years old, in his home at 1210 North Dearborn street. Gutenkauf was wounded fatally early yesterday when he dropped his pistol on the floor while investigating a strange noise in the house. His wife.

Sour Stomach

Just a tasteless dose of Phillips' Milk of Magnesia in water. This is an alkali, effective, yet harmless. It has been the standard antacid for 50 years among physicians everywhere. One spoonful will neutralize at once many times its volume in acid. It is the right way, the quick, pleasant and efficient way to kill the excess acid. The stomach becomes sweet, the pain departs. You are happy again in five minutes.

Don't depend on crude methods. Employ the best way yet evolved in all the years of searching. That is Phillips' Milk of Magnesia.

I can't tell you

Many a happy hour has been spoiled and many a hope destroyed by a condition none of us can ignore. We note its presence in others but never mention it. It is the cause of stained, ugly yellow teeth, decay and gum diseases. Authorities call it Bacterial-Mouth. The sensible way to keep teeth sparkling white and sound, is to use the dentifrice that kills the germs that cause Bacterial - Mouth. That dentifrice is . . . Kolynos.

as ugly Bacterial-Mouth is removed

TEETH WHITEN

3 shades in 3 days

USE the Kolynos Dry-Brush Technique for 3 days—a half-inch of Kolynos on a dry brush, morning and night. Then look at your teeth—fully 3 shades whiter.

In 10 days the improvement will be so marked you will never again say that white teeth are a gift received only by a fortunate few.

Dentists have long advocated the Dry-Brush Technique as the one way to use a dental cream full strength and keep brush-bristles stiff enough to clean every tooth surface and massage gums properly. Only Kolynos permits this approved technique.

This highly concentrated, double-strength dental cream is unique in action. It multiplies 25 times when it enters the mouth—thus a half-inch of Kolynos is equal in effectiveness to 12 inches of the ordinary tooth-paste. It becomes surging, antiseptic foam that makes wetting the tooth-brush unnecessary.

You can feel Kolynos work. It foams into every pit, fissure and crevice.

Germs that cause Bacterial-Mouth and lead to stain, decay and gum diseases are instantly killed. They vanish and the entire mouth is purified. Kolynos kills 190 million germs in 10 seconds, 424 million in 60 seconds.

This amazing Kolynos Foam removes food particles that ferment and cause decay . . . neutralizes acids . . . washes away tartar and the unsightly mucoid coating that clouds teeth.

Easily and quickly, it cleans and polishes teeth down to the naked white enamel—without injury. And for 3 hours after each brushing this cleansing purifying process continues.

So long as you use the Kolynos Dry-Brush Technique, teeth will remain gleaming white and sound, gums will be firm and healthy.

ALDERMEN VOTE TRIP TO PROTEST BRIDGE NUISANCE

"First Available Funds" Asked for Journey.

Only through personal pleas to high war department officials can Chicago hope to find relief from the open bridge evil, the aldermanic subcommittee on harbors and bridges decided yesterday, and a motion calling for a junket to Washington with "the first available funds" was unanimously passed during the morning meeting.

The motion was made by Ald. James G. Coyle [17th] after the reading of a communication from Secretary of War Patrick J. Hurley, which refused the city the right to extend the present bridge closed hours and insure pedestrians and motors free traffic to and from the loop during rush hours. The Hurley ruling was given in accord with the recommendations of Maj. H. J. Wild, resident government engineer, whose report favored the operators of small river craft.

Says Congressmen Lost Interest.

Chairman William A. Rowan [10th] started the protest meeting on the tenor of its action, and suggested that Chicago congressmen, who originally evinced interest in the passage of an amended ordinance but gradually slackened their efforts in its behalf, might do well to exert their influence upon the war department and ask for a reconsideration of the entire matter.

"These congressmen have been talking in Washington," Rowan said, "demanding that we tell them what we want done. Our position is perfectly plain and is amply set forth in the argument we sent to the war department with the amended ordinance we wished approved. If they had bestirred themselves in its behalf, better results might have ensued."

Engineers Are Changed.

Ald. Coyle called attention to the change of heart in the war department engineer's office here. "First, we find Col. W. C. Weeks proposing city datum as a bridge clearance measurement point, which would prevent tugs from opening the bridges during closed hours," he said.

"Then Weeks is transferred to other duties and Maj. Wild, who succeeds him, knocks that suggestion into a cocked hat and says that the water level should be the point of measurement. We have no control over the water level. And it's now apparent that we can get nowhere with correspondence; it would only be referred back to Wild and there it would end.

Plan Is Approved.

"Our best plan, it seems to me, would be to go to Washington and interview Secretary Hurley, Secretary of Commerce Lamont, and all the government engineers who have any jurisdiction." Coyle put his suggestion into the form of a motion and it was unanimously passed.

That quick action is needed before the opening of the spring shipping season was further evinced yesterday by the prediction of H. P. Ramey, assistant chief engineer of the sanitary district, who believes that the water level will be virtually as high this season as it was last summer. High waters reduced the clearance beneath the loop bridges to less than 16 feet, and tugboats called for openings even during closed hours.

Blushes Fail to Move Girl Bandit

HARRY MAY.

LOUIS TWOREK.

Forced to Disrobe

Louis Tworek, 3043 West 21st place, and Harry May, 3121 West 15th street, taxicab drivers, didn't find the experience of being robbed by a girl bandit and her male companion especially thrilling yesterday, but they did decide it was highly embarrassing when the girl forced them to undress in their cabs and carried off their clothing. Tworek was robbed at La Salle and Goethe streets, the bandits taking $11 and carrying his clothes for a half block before throwing them away. A few minutes later the same pair rode in May's cab to Fullerton and Spaulding avenues where they took $17 and his clothes.

WIFE WON IN SKY OBTAINS DIVORCE FROM JACK VILAS

Mrs. Susanne Wharton Vilas yesterday was granted a divorce from Logan A. [Jack] Vilas; one of Chicago's first aviators and a wealthy sportsman, in the chancery court at Hot Springs, Ark., where the Vilases have lived for several years. Vilas did not contest the suit and Mrs. Vilas was awarded the custody of their three children, with Vilas being given the privilege of visiting them on "all reasonable occasions."

Mrs. Vilas had charged cruelty in her bill and had obtained a temporary injunction restraining her husband from disposing of $100,000 worth of property when the suit was filed. In court yesterday counsel for both sides announced that property rights had been agreed upon and the court approved the settlement.

Mr. and Mrs. Vilas were married in 1913 after a courtship in the skies. Since moving to the south both have become well known in golfing circles. The elder daughter of the couple, Ariel, who is attending school in New York, won the junior western golf championship here last year.

Woman, 70, Ends Her Life by Plunge Into Lake

Mrs. Tillie Richards, 70 years old, 5025 Harper avenue, committed suicide yesterday by jumping into the lake at 51st street, near the Chicago Beach hotel. A hotel guest saw her plunge into the water and called the Jackson park coast guard, who recovered the body. The body was identified last night by Mrs. Richards' daughter, Mrs. Harvey Nagle, with whom she lived. Mrs. Nagle said she knew no reason for her mother's act.

Burns in Blast Fatal to Mrs. Louise Gray of Gary

Mrs. Louise Gray, 56 years old, wife of Otto V. Gray, president of the Gary city council, died yesterday in the Mercy hospital at Gary, of burns received on Tuesday in an explosion of naphtha which she was using as a cleaning fluid. A maid, Mrs. Joseph Petruch, who was assisting Mrs. Gray was burned slightly. Mrs. Gray had been a resident of Gary since 1911. Her husband is assistant manager of the Gary sheet mills of the United States Steel corporation.

RICH MAN HELD BY KIDNAPERS FOR BIG RANSOM

Eight Arrested, but He Is Still a Captive.

New Haven, Conn., Feb. 5.—(AP)—Max Price, 62 year old real estate dealer, tonight was believed to be in the hands of a dangerous band of kidnapers. For the first time since his disappearance, Jan. 28, positive information came today that he was being held for ransom. Eight persons in New Haven, Bridgeport, and New York were arrested, but the whereabouts of Price was not learned.

The arrests followed a visit to New York last night of Abraham B. Price, a brother, with a satchel containing $30,000 to pay for Price's release.

For several days, it was revealed, Price's family has received demands by letter and telephone for sums ranging as high as $75,000. The connection of the eight under arrest, one of them a fortune teller, was not made clear by police who refuse to discuss the case. Two are Detroit gunmen, members of the "Purple" gang, notorious kidnapers.

The men, Samuel Hendel and Henry Fleisch, were arrested in a drug store in New York last night by a detective who said he overheard a telephone conversation between Hendel and some one in New Haven concerning the kidnaping.

In New Haven, Jacob Prober, Hyman Orchowsky, and Soloman Bodek were taken into custody. Shifting the scene to Bridgeport, police picked up Isaak L. Katzman, Morton Lessner, and Mme. Emma Delmater, who in 1921 figured prominently in the Nott murder case as a close friend of Mrs. George Nott, now serving a life term for her husband's murder.

Abraham Price, it was understood, went to New York last night to meet representatives of the gang. He was accompanied by Assistant City Attorney Nelson R. Durant. The meeting fell through when, apparently, a spy saw Durant with Price.

Hendel and Fleisch admitted that they had been promised $2,000 to "do" a job, but were noncommittal on the Price kidnaping.

U. S. Claims $1,571 from Actress for Back Taxes

Frances White, musical comedy star and headliner on this week's bill at the Palace theater, was notified yesterday that income tax liens had been filed against her salary to satisfy a claim of $1,571.49 in delinquent income taxes. The lien was filed in United States District court by Mrs. Myrtle Tanner Blackledge, collector of internal revenue. According to Robert E. Neely, chief deputy under Mrs. Blackledge, Miss White owes income taxes for 1924 and 1925.

U. S. MAY BUY UP SURPLUS GRAIN TO HALT SLUMP

Farm Board Leaders Meet in Market Crisis.

BY PAUL POTTER.

In the face of another chaotic day in the grain exchanges both here and in foreign countries, the federal farm board yesterday called together for the first time its newly appointed advisory committee of wheat growers.

While the closed session adjourned last night for another day's deliberations, rumors persisted that a national stabilization corporation would be formed. This type of holding organization is provided for in the federal farm marketing act as a last resort in case of surplus production or other critical marketing situations in the United States.

Leaders Meet with Legge.

Meeting with Alexander Legge, chairman, and Samuel R. McKelvie grain member of the farm board, were the following men, representing the entire wheat growing interests of the nation: W. G. Kellogg, general manager of the Farmers' National Grain corporation; Bert Lang, St. Louis, called a "handler or processor" in his appointment; F. J. Wilmer, Rosalia, Wash., president of North Pacific Grain Growers; John Manley, Enid, Okla., president of Oklahoma Wheat Growers' association; William Settle, Indianapolis, president of Central States Soft Wheat Growers, and J. A. Schnitzler, Froid, Mont., and E. H. Hodgson, Little River, Ark.

While no indication of the committee's discussion yesterday could be obtained from its spokesmen, Mr. Legge branded as "utterly without foundation" a report carried on yesterday's grain ticker that the federal farm board had applied for some $100,000,000 more of the half billion dollars appropriated subject to call by the board.

Wheat Drops Again.

After closing at a small advance Tuesday, the wheat market dropped off again yesterday, wavering under uncertain trends, and closing the third day of lowest prices for wheat of the season at ⅝ to 1⅝ cents lower, May wheat was quoted at $1.18⅝ in Chicago.

Reports current that the coöperatives had accumulated some twelve million bushels of grain during the recent heavy runs of country sales were denied at the Chicago headquarters. It is understood that under 2,000,000 bushels has been bought on the farm board's basic loan figures in Minneapolis, Duluth and Chicago, very little having been purchased in the southwest. In the last three days the coöperatives have obtained at least 750 cars in the three markets named.

Provisions of Act.

Should the advisory committee on wheat decide to recommend the formation of a stabilization corporation to the federal farm board, it will carry out the provisions of the marketing act, which make it possible to use government funds to buy up such part of the commodity as is deemed necessary to relieve domestic markets, and to hold, process or sell the commodity at its discretion.

Charged with Practicing Law Without a License

Thomas Victor Novotny, 80 South River road, Riverside, who has been arrested twice before on charges of operating a confidence game, was arraigned yesterday in the Municipal court on a charge of practicing law without a license. Mrs. Florence Malone, 2013 Point street, the complaining witness, charged that she had given Novotny $500 on his representation that he could obtain a commutation of her husband's sentence for violation of the postal laws. The Chicago Bar association is assisting the state's attorney in prosecuting Novotny.

ITALY GRABS UP AUSTRIA AS ALLY IN BALKAN RING

Two Nations Will Sign Amity Pact Today.

BY ROBERT SAGE.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

ROME, Feb. 5.—A signal step in strengthening Italy's position in Central Europe will be taken here tomorrow, when Premier Mussolini of Italy and Chancellor Schober of Austria sign a friendship treaty between the two nations.

This treaty means that post-war Austria's 7,000,000 inhabitants will be added to the circle of friends Italy has been cultivating in the Danubian states, and which, at present, includes Hungary and Bulgaria, plus the diminutive Adriatic monarchy of Albania. It means likewise that, besides burying the hatchet in South Tyrol, Italy extends her range of influence to the border lines of the little entente.

Treaty Boost for Austria.

Austria, on the other hand, makes a noteworthy advance from her previous status of a political zero through this Italian alliance.

The present treaty omits any clauses dealing with military and political matters, and is specifically a "treaty of friendship, conciliation and judiciary regulation." Austria's amity can be fully counted upon in any case, not only because of her gratitude for Italy's action at the second Hague conference in supporting Austria's claim to be freed from reparations, but because of the ardent reception Chancellor Schober received in Rome.

"This is another demonstration of the moderate equilibrating force which Italy exerts in the Danube and Balkan states, and which cannot be expressed by any other power," the extreme Fascist daily, Il Tevere, says today. "Sovereign Austria, which has faith in itself and will not dream of impossible unions, nor pay attention to the illusory plans of Prague or Paris, will find indispensible aid in Italy today as it did yesterday, and will tomorrow."

Changes Jig-Saw Puzzle.

The addition of Austria to Italy's list of friends makes an interesting change in the central European jig-saw puzzle, forming two interlocking semi-circles—one made up of Italy, Austria, Hungary, and Bulgaria, and the other, the little entente, composed of Czecho-slovakia, Rumania, and Jugo-Slavia, all allies of France. The Italian hookup, however, is much looser than the little entente, since the former's semi-circle is broken by Rumania and the states are not allied by military agreements as are those of the little entente.

The Austrian and Italian accord is also looked on in many quarters as a death blow to the hopes of those Austrians, working for the Anchluss, or the union of Austria with Germany.

In a statement today, Chancellor Schober, for the first time, committed himself to a veiled reference to sympathy with the Fascist movement in Austria, saying that discontent, resulting from disorderly economical and political situations, has invaded all classes of the Austrian population and "has provoked this popular movement, and now the government cannot overlook the idea of a corporative construction of society and the state."

Club Will Honor Veteran Chemist at Dinner Tonight

Chemists of Chicago will celebrate tonight what they regard as the golden jubilee of the recognition of their profession in Chicago. A dinner will be given at the City club by the Chicago Chemists' club for William Hoskins, for 50 years a consulting chemist. The members of the club declare that the establishment of offices by Mr. Hoskins in 1880 was the first recognition of chemists here as a distinct profession.

DIES AS RESULT OF FALL.

Samuel Wade, colored, 34 years old, died yesterday at the county hospital of injuries he received on Sunday when he fell on the stairs at the rear of his home at 3521 State street.

"SHADOWS HUGER

[Alfred, Lord Tennyson, 1809-1892]

"Coming events cast their shadows before"

AVOID THAT FUTURE SHADOW*

By refraining from over-indulgence

Men who would keep that trim, proper figure, women who prize the modern figure with its subtle, seductive curves—eat healthfully but not immoderately. Banish excessiveness—eliminate abuses. Be moderate—be moderate in all things, even in smoking. When tempted to excess, when your eyes are bigger than your stomach, reach for a Lucky instead. Coming events cast their shadows before. Avoid that future shadow by avoiding over-indulgence if you would maintain that lithe, youthful figure.

Lucky Strike, the finest Cigarette a man ever smoked, made of the finest tobacco—The Cream of the Crop—"IT'S TOASTED." Everyone knows that heat purifies and so "TOASTING" not only removes impurities but adds to the flavor and improves the taste.

"It's toasted"

Your Throat Protection—against irritation—against cough.

*Be Moderate! . . . Don't jeopardize the modern form by drastic diets, harmful reducing girdles, fake reducing tablets or other quack "anti-fat" remedies condemned by the Medical profession! Millions of dollars each year are wasted on these ridiculous and dangerous nostrums. Be Sensible! Be Moderate! We do not represent that smoking Lucky Strike Cigarettes will bring modern figures or cause the reduction of flesh. We do declare that when tempted to do yourself too well, if you will "Reach for a Lucky" instead, you will thus avoid over-indulgence in things that cause excess weight and, by avoiding over-indulgence, maintain a modern, graceful form.

NO. SHORE BANK ROBBED; GANG LOOTS MANSION

2 Bandits Stage Holdup in Hubbard Woods.

CRIMINAL COURT.

Fred Trosen, robbery, sentenced to one year to life in the penitentiary by Judge William N. Gemmill.

Fred Brown and Alonzo Conrad, robbery, sentenced to one year to life each in the penitentiary by Judge Peter Schwaba.

Highwaymen and house breakers again invaded the north shore yesterday. Their appearance followed the spectacular looting on Tuesday of the Edward B. Mallers home at 506 Sheridan road, Kenilworth, in which three robbers locked up the master of the house, his wife, two children and four servants and escaped with their loot in the family limousine.

Yesterday two bandits armed with a pistol and a sawed off shotgun walked into the Hubbard Woods Trust and Savings bank at 952 Linden avenue, Hubbard Woods, at 9:20 a. m., terrorized the officials and employés and eight patrons and escaped with $4,500 in an automobile driven by a third man.

Gang Ransacks Farm Mansion.

A band of a half dozen prowlers spent probably all night in the Hill Top farm mansion of Fred A. Poor, wealthy railway supply man, two miles west of Lake Forest. They ransacked the residence from top to bottom, broke into every one of its 22 rooms and smashed doors and bureaus with axes to get at their loot.

The gang backed a truck boldly up to the front gate of the farm, carried their booty across the half block from the house and drove away with goods valued at between $45,000 to $75,000.

Hold Up North Shore Bank.

The bank robbers entered the Hubbard Woods institution a half hour after it opened its doors. Yesterday was pay day for maids and chauffeurs along the north shore and the bank had an unusual amount of cash on hand. A half dozen maids were lined up at the paying teller's window and several chauffeurs also were present.

One of the robbers—who appeared to be brothers—flourished a double barreled sawed off shotgun. The other carried a pistol.

"Back in the vault there!" ordered the one with the shotgun, waving to the line at the pay window. The man with the pistol covered H. A. Mark, assistant cashier, who was talking over the telephone to the cashier, Arthur Laser, who was in Glencoe.

Girl Employés Put in Vault.

Miss Mary Anderson, stenographer, and Miss Mary Glover, bookkeeper, were ordered into the vault with the patrons. Mark hung up the receiver and he, too, was forced in there. Then the door was closed and the man with the shotgun walked to the bank door and stood guard while his companion emptied all the cash drawers into a sack.

As the robbers were leaving they almost bumped into Mrs. H. P. Kent, 493 Woodlawn avenue, Hubbard Woods, who was just entering the bank.

David Medlock, chauffeur for Mrs. Frank Payne of Glencoe, saw the bandits depart. He followed their car south in Linden avenue, east in Tower road, and south again in Forsdale avenue, but at Powell road they outdistanced him.

Bandits Say It with Posies and Ruse Nets Them $100

Two bandits who said it with flowers and guns yesterday robbed Edward F. Tupa, heating contractor, of $100 in his home at 2212 South Scoville avenue, Berwyn. Tupa returned home from the West Suburban hospital on Tuesday after a ten days' illness of pneumonia and when two men approached the house yesterday with their arms loaded with flowers, Mrs. Tupa opened the door for them. On reaching the living room where Tupa was lying the visitors dropped the flowers, revealing pistols in their hands. They forced Mr. and Mrs. Tupa into the kitchen and took a purse containing the money from Tupa.

HAS 13 REASONS

MRS. CATHERINE STONE.
[TRIBUNE Photo.]

Thirteen reasons were cited in a cross-bill for divorce filed yesterday in the Circuit court by Mrs. Catherine Stone, 4903 North Leavitt street, against Joseph L. Stone, an official of the United Petroleum corporation. They were married after an elopement in 1926, when Mrs. Stone was 16 years old and her husband, 35. He filed a suit for divorce last Oct. 12 on charges of cruelty.

Mrs. Stone's sixteen page bill charges that Stone was mean, irritable, disagreeable, temperamental, selfish, nasty, bitter, jealous, brazen, miserly, gluttonous, and cruel. She says her husband was so jealous he refused to permit her to go to church for fear she would arrange meetings with the deacons.

JUDICIAL COUNCIL PONDERS SIFTER FOR LEGAL CASES

Impressed by 40% Cut in Ontario Litigation.

BY ARTHUR EVANS.

Canada's court system whereby litigation has been reduced 40 per cent in the province of Ontario by putting cases through the sifter to discover their merits and strength, is to be discussed tomorrow by the Illinois judicial advisory council.

The conference, called by Senator A. S. Cuthbertson of Bunker Hill, chairman of the council, is to be held at Rockford. The first item on the agenda is revision of the civil practice act. A memorandum sets forth that in discussing a bill on rule making, it has been argued that if instead of granting rule making power to the Supreme court, a modern practice act were presented to the general assembly, the legislators would act upon it. The council plans to treat the practice act and the chancery act together and prepare a revision for the 1931 session of the legislature.

Questions set for discussion are: Uniform procedure in law and chancery, and uniform pleadings; modernized pleadings with the Chicago Municipal court as a working model; uniform modes of process; examination for discovery, and related questions.

During the recent research tour of Toronto, Montreal, and Boston, the members of the council were impressed with what they learned in Toronto from Mr. Justice Riddell of the Supreme court and other jurists on examinations.

In Canada they learned that special examiners are appointed by the court. Two out of every five cases in Ontario were said to be abandoned or settled without cluttering up the court by the expedient of examining the cases to discover what it's all about, what the claims are and the evidence, the merits and the chances of winning or losing.

Riddell's Conception of Court.

Justice Riddell in describing the system remarked:

"Examination for discovery has reduced the volume of litigation in our courts 40 per cent. We've got rid of a lot of rubbish. Our idea of the courts is not as a place for smart aleck lawyers to string out technicalities to a fine hair, not as a place for gladiatorial combat between keen intellects and nimble wits, but we regard the courts as a business institution organized to give rights according to law to those coming before it with a minimum of time and expense."

Crime statistics likewise are to be considered. The council will discuss a bill providing for some state official to collect and analyze statistics, and a sister bill requiring the reporting of crime data by courts, prosecutors and police officers. New York has started such a bureau.

Uniformity is sought, the criticism of present conditions being that some of the figures are so haphazard and susceptible to manipulation by authorities who are intent on making a good showing on paper that they give no basis for scientific comparisons. And as the Harvard law professors told the council: "Scientific crime statistics are to the criminologist what the stethescope is to the doctor."

DRINK WATER IF KIDNEYS BOTHER

Flush your kidneys by drinking a quart of water each day, also take salts occasionally, says a noted authority, who tells us that too much rich food forms acids which almost paralyze the kidneys in their efforts to expel it from the blood. They become sluggish and weaken; then you may suffer with a dull misery in the kidney region, sharp pains in the back or sick headache, dizziness, your stomach sours, tongue is coated, and when the weather is bad you have rheumatic twinges. The urine gets cloudy, full of sediment, the channels often get sore and irritated, obliging you to seek relief two or three times during the night.

To help neutralize these irritating acids; to help cleanse the kidneys and flush off the body's urinous waste, get four ounces of Jad Salts from any pharmacy here. Take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast for a few days, and your kidneys may then act fine. This famous salts is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and has been used for years to help flush and stimulate sluggish kidneys; also to neutralize the acids in the system so they no longer irritate, thus often relieving bladder weakness.

Even Liberals Call It Impracticable.

BY ARTHUR CRAWFORD.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., Feb. 5.—[Special.]—Proposed formation of a new "liberal" party attracted wide attention today as a possible development in the controversy over prohibition, but leaders in both Republican and Democratic parties were inclined to ridicule the suggestion.

There was general agreement, however, that the wets have scant chance of obtaining a modification of prohibition laws unless some violent break in present party alignments takes place.

The proposal was made by Samuel Harden Church of Pittsburgh, president of the Carnegie institute, at last night's dinner in New York of the eastern directors of the Association Against the Prohibition Amendment. While the organization itself has not indorsed Church's proposal, it was decided at yesterday's meeting to call a nation-wide convention at Baltimore in the spring, and the third party proposal undoubtedly will be among the schemes that will be advanced for the overthrow of the present dry control of congress.

An Uphill Fight.

That a single convention will lead to formation of such a party is doubted by those wets most interested in the suggestion. Inability of the wets to force any modification of present policies of the Republican party on the prohibition question, or to make substantial gains in congressional elections, might eventually, it is felt, lead to a third party movement. The politicians laugh at the idea that such a party, based on a single issue, could win. They concede, however, that by placing wet candidates in the field in three cornered contests for the senate or house the effect might be to defeat present dry Republicans and elect wet Democrats.

Smashing of Republican organizations by such methods, the wets think, might be the method to bring about a changing of Republican policies, just as the wrecking of the Republican party in 1912 by the Bull Moose movement had an influence upon the subsequent party programs.

Practical Men Against Plan.

The wets who have had experience in practical politics would much prefer to work within the old parties. They have in mind the experience of the drys, who were ineffectual in a prohibition party, but obtained results through the Anti-Saloon league's method of operating in the primaries of the Republican and Democratic parties and then choosing between the nominees of the two parties.

WILLS CLOTHES TO POOR, KILLS SELF.

JAIL 7 KENTUCKIANS IN LYNCHING TRIAL; THREW VICTIM IN DITCH

Jackson, Ky., Feb. 5.—(AP)—Seven men indicted in connection with the lynching here Christmas day of Chester Fugate were ordered to jail today by Circuit Judge Chester Bach as their trials were started. The eighth defendant, Allie Watkins, 16, was permitted to remain free on $10,000 bail.

All the defendants, who include young Watkins and five other kinsmen named by Fugate in a dying statement as having been members of the mob that took him from the jail, shot him and threw him in a ditch, had been free on $10,000 bail each, granted in County court.

In addition to the men on trial, charged with lynching Fugate, two others, S. L. Combs, former jailer, and Louis Combs, his son, were indicted in connection with the forcible removal of Fugate from jail.

Commonwealth's Attorney Allen had contended that legally the defendants could not be freed on bond and his motion was sustained.

Twenty-nine veniremen were examined today and three tentatively seated.

HEFLIN BACKERS SEEK INJUNCTION TO BAR PRIMARY

Attack Plan to Exclude Anti-Smith Men.

Birmingham, Ala., Feb. 5.—[Special.]—A petition for temporary injunctions to restrain officials of Jefferson county and Birmingham from holding the regular Democratic primary Aug. 12 in accordance with the rules of the state Democratic executive committee, was filed in Chancery court here today.

The petition, which attacks the legality of the resolutions adopted by the committee which barred as candidates persons who failed to vote for the Democratic presidential nominees in 1928, was filed by Horace C. Wilkinson, attorney and supporter of Senator J. Thomas Heflin. Heflin was barred as a candidate for reëlection by action of the committee, because he refused to support Al Smith.

Political observers here tonight said that the bill was a move to force the state committee to reconsider its action and to permit Heflin to run as a qualified Democrat, in that if it is supported and the injunctions issued, the primary can not be held under the barring action.

Among the reasons set out in the petition as to why the injunctions should be granted were:

1. Because qualifications for electors and candidates were different, according to the committee's ruling, which permitted any person to vote if he believed in the principles of the Democratic party.
2. Because large numbers of persons are illegally disqualified from becoming candidates.
3. Because the resolution of the state committee violates the constitutional guarantee against retroactive laws.

The petition closes with a prayer that upon final hearing of the case the court will make each of the requested injunctions final and perpetual.

GAS FATAL TO WOMAN.

HEAR APPEAL FOR PRIOR LIEN ON C. & A. BONDS

The United States Circuit Court of Appeals yesterday took under advisement the appeal of holders of $16,000,000 in general mortgage bonds of the Chicago and Alton railroad. The bondholders seek to have their claims considered a prior lien against the railroad.

The appeal is an effort to set aside a ruling by Federal Judge Carpenter declaring holders of 3½ per cent equipment bonds, amounting to $22,000,000, held a prior lien. The railroad has been in receivership since 1922 and the road has been ordered sold.

Charged with Laziness—

Guilty Simply of Acidity!

More than one man today is misjudged and unjustly penalized because of a not understood physical condition rather than any lack of willingness or ability.

So many of us are only half ourselves, only fifty percent efficient, because we are victims of an insidious condition of acidity! That persistent tired feeling — that clouded mind—that lack of dash and fire—that missing punch that decides so many situations in business—are all usually due to an acid system.

Acidity is brought on by our unnatural eating, excessive smoking and irregular hours. It impairs digestion, and causes fermentation and putrefaction in the intestines and drags us down physically and mentally.

A remarkable new corrective of acidity has been developed by a famous 100-year-old pharmaceutical house in Germany.

This new, improved magnesia comes in the form of small white tablets called Magnesia Oxoids which do not have to be chewed, but may be swallowed whole.

Magnesia Oxoids, upon contact with the acid in the stomach, generate nascent, or active, oxygen. Now, active oxygen, as any doctor will tell you, when generated within the digestive tract does just the things required for acidity. It stimulates the secretion of the alkaline mucus. It checks the putrefaction and fermentation in the gastro-intestinal canal. It exercises a stimulating effect upon the activities of the intestinal walls and aids the movement of the bowels.

All three effects are necessary to the true relief of acidity and Magnesia Oxoids supply them in a perfectly natural manner.

5-Day Acidity Test

See for yourself how much acid has to do with your run-down condition and that persistent feeling of tiredness. Make this 5-day acid test. Get a package of Magnesia Oxoids from Walgreen's Drug Stores and Economical Drug Stores or any other druggist on our money-back guarantee. Take two after each meal for five days. Note the pick-up in your pep and vigor. Mark the new peace of your stomach and nerves. If five days' test doesn't show you a decided improvement in your health, return the balance of the Oxoids to your druggist and he will refund your money.

WALTER ALFORD OF NASH MOTORS DIES AT KENOSHA

Philanthropist Succumbs to Heart Attack.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Kenosha, Wis., Feb. 5.—[Special.]—Walter H. Alford, 53, millionaire vice president of the Nash Motors company since its organization and one of Kenosha's greatest philanthropists, died here this afternoon following a heart attack. He had been ill for two days.

He suffered a heart attack Monday afternoon and yesterday physicians said that he had improved sufficiently to give hope for his recovery. This morning he suffered a relapse and in his weakened condition he was unable to rally. His wife, Gertrude Alford, and C. W. Nash, president of the Nash Motors company, were at the bedside when he died.

Director of Three Banks.

Mr. Alford was identified with virtually every civic movement in Kenosha during the years he spent here. He was for five years president of the city council, receiving the highest vote ever accorded any candidate for any office in Kenosha. He was a director in many organizations, including the Chicago and North Western railroad, the First National bank of Kenosha, the First National bank, and the Union Trust company of Chicago.

In philanthropies, Mr. Alford had given generously. It is estimated that his gifts to social agencies and to civic organizations reached a million dollars in the last five years.

Planned New Building.

Mr. Alford invested heavily in many local projects. On Monday plans were announced for the construction of a $200,000 Alford business block which he had decided to build at once to provide jobs for unemployed.

The Alfords' only child, Ferrin Alford, was killed on Dec. 28, 1928. He and four others lost their lives when a train struck their automobile.

DEALERS IN SUPPLIES FOR FARMERS URGED TO ADVERTISE MORE

Philadelphia, Pa., Feb. 5.—(AP)—"Advertise as never before during 1930 and obtain the share of the business that is rightfully yours," was the advice given to members of the Eastern Farm Equipment Dealers' association, in annual convention today, by F. A. Wirt, advertising manager of the J. I. Case company, Racine, Wis.

Mr. Wirt urged the individual dealers to "follow up" the advertising campaigns of the big manufacturers whose products they handle.

SPAIN ROWS OVER $131,000 IN FINES LEVIED BY PRIMO

Foes Demand He Return the Cash.

MADRID, Feb. 5.—(AP)—Whether Primo de Rivera will be asked personally to return 1,000,000 pesetas, about $130,000, in fines levied by his decrees during the dictatorship against persons too critical of his government is a question discussed today by some Madrid newspapers.

Neither the treasury nor Primo profited by the fines, as the money went to charitable institutions, so public opinion seems to be that Primo should not be forced to return the fines. But the newspaper El Sol, always strongly opposed to the dictatorship, urges that something be done.

Count Fined $65,000.

The count of Romanones, Conservative leader, paid the greatest amount—500,000 pesetas, or about $65,000. Lieut. Gen. Francisco Aguilera paid 175,000, or $22,750, and there were numerous smaller assessments.

El Sol says that if the acts of the dictatorship are illegal, then its fines are in the same class. It adds that the question should be settled, because if Spain has another dictatorship the people ought to know whether they have to pay its fines.

Meanwhile, the new government of Gen. Damaso Berenguer continues to study the acts of Primo's six year rule with a view to revising, rescinding, or keeping some of them. The administration is proceeding with its replacements of Primo's appointees over the country.

Will Reëstablish Parliament.

The government announced today that it would continue in office only such time as is necessary for the reëstablishment, which will then determine the future political program and government.

It probably will require several months before the new premier can call elections for senators and deputies and reëstablish the Cortez, which was defunct during the dictatorship.

Persons claiming to have reliable information say that Gen. Berenguer, after completing the administration's organization, plans to call on various leaders of the old political parties such as the count of Romanones, former Premier Sanchez Guerra, Señor Garcia Prieto, and Señor Melquiades Alvarez.

The purpose, it is said, will be to reëstablish relations between the government and the factions of the opposition which were suppressed when Primo de Rivera became dictator. Meanwhile most of the newspapers continue to counsel patience to the people.

FALLS DOWN STAIRS, DIES.

Naddie Ziegfield, 75 years old, 2808 Wallace avenue, died yesterday at the county hospital of injuries received on Tuesday when he fell down a flight of stairs at the rear of his home.

GERMAN STATES O. K. YOUNG PLAN; REICHSTAG NEXT

Separate U. S. Debt Pact Also Approved.

BY SIGRID SCHULTZ.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

BERLIN, Feb. 5.—The German reichsrat, or national council of the German states, this afternoon approved the Young plan by 48 to 6 votes, with 12 members abstaining from voting. A little later this same body approved the separate German and American debt agreement. The reichsrat having approved of the Young plan, it goes to the reichstag for final discussions on Tuesday.

Bavaria's premier, Dr. Held, tried everything in his power to prevent the reichsrat from accepting the Young plan. He declared that the Young plan was based on the assumption that Germany was responsible for the war. Foreign Minister Julius Curtius countered by saying that Germany never has and never will sign a pact admitting war guilt.

Back Law Against Reds.

The reichstag committee on penal legislation, impressed by the recent Red riots in Berlin and Hamburg and the communists' efforts to stage a revolt, has finally accepted the law for the protection of the German republic which was submitted by the government.

This law met strong opposition, not only among the radicals but also among the Centrists, who felt that part of the measures it provides for the protection of the republic represent an infringement of personal liberty. Their opposition wore down, however, in the face of the general restlessness throughout all Germany.

Reds Liquidate Properties.

The government is convinced that it is high time to have the law enforced, since new communist intrigues have been discovered. The communists are now said to be trying to sell out secretly close to $4,000,000 worth of real estate they own. It is thought this attempt to turn their property into cash is in preparation for a general strike.

The latest communist trick to break the police order against street demonstrations failed tonight when the Reds, in their anxiety to get out of the way of police clubs, dropped the coffin of a comrade they were carrying from his house to the crematorium. As the coffin was being taken out 200 Reds at a pre-arranged signal began singing the Internationale.

The police, promptly construing the singing as a violation of their ban, vigorously charged the procession with night sticks. Later the Reds retrieved the coffin and tamely completed their procession to the crematorium.

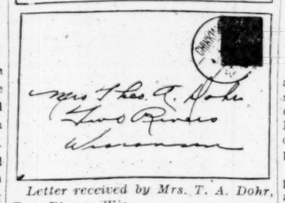
From Chinkiang, China



Letter received by Mrs. T. A. Dohr, Two Rivers, Wis.

Chinkiang is an important Chinese treaty port on the Yangtze-kiang, at the junction of the grand canal, 160 miles up to the river from Shanghai. It lies on the left bank of China's greatest stream, about 40 miles east and north of Nanking, the present capital of the Chinese republic. Both these cities are in Kiang-su province, as is also Shanghai, the country's greatest port.

Chinkiang was once a strongly fortified city, but its walls have been mostly dismantled. It offered a stiff resistance to the British in the war of 1842 and was the last of the Yangtze-kiang cities to surrender to the British.

WILKINS' RADIO IN ANTARCTIC SILENT 8 DAYS

New York, Feb. 5.—(AP)—For eight days and nights efforts to reach Capt. Sir Hubert Wilkins by radio have failed, the New York American will say tomorrow in a copyrighted dispatch from the antarctic ice fields.

Loss of contact with the explorer was reported by Victor Olsen, wireless operator aboard the steamship Melville, base vessel of the Wilkins-Hearst expedition now at the Deception islands. Olsen stated that Sir Hubert Wilkins and his entire personnel were somewhere in the vast area of broken ice south of the Melville.

Fears were expressed that Sir Hubert's ship, the Scoresby, had suffered irreparable damage to her radio outfit. The Scoresby was carrying Sir Hubert and his airplane pilot to a point where they could find a runway for a proposed flight to the polar cap.

INDUSTRIAL UNITY CAN SAVE BRITISH TRADE—BALDWIN

Conservative Chief Urges Empire Tariff Wall.

BY JOHN STEELE.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

LONDON, Feb. 5.—Addressing an audience of 2,000 members of the Conservative party in the Coliseum, London's great vaudeville house, Stanley Baldwin, former prime minister, today declared the empire's fate in trade depends largely on industrial unity.

The chief plank in Mr. Baldwin's program for the Conservative party is a protective tariff, but with continuation of the policy of not taxing food, no tariff truce, and unification of the empire industrially by the formation of empire trusts for steel, cotton, wool, and other industries.

Ignores Free Trade Idea.

The empire free trade idea, which Lord Beaverbrook has been pushing, was practically ignored by Mr Baldwin, who only said that "whether the day may come, when the British empire may become a unit in the sense that the United States is, whether it may be guarded by one tariff with a vast area of free trade within, I know not.

"In any case, upholding of the Conservative shibboleth of no taxes on food effectively prevents the conception of the British empire as an economic unit with free trade within, high tariff walls barring all goods which can be obtained within the empire."

Mr. Baldwin criticized the present government on three points—secrecy regarding the disarmament conference, the economic policy, and Russian relations.

Urges Rigid Economy.

He pointed out that the condition of the country is worse than when the Laborites took office, insisting that only rigid economy could save the situation.

Two years more would have seen industry in calm waters, Mr. Baldwin claimed, saying that when the Conservatives left office eight months ago that trade was improving, unemployment was falling, the cost of living was dropping, widows' pensions granted, an old age pension system revised, direct and indirect taxation reduced on industries.

"Now trade is falling," he said, "and the cost of living is rising and the government is interfering with vital industries and the coal trade is martyrized.

"I estimate our industrial progress has gone back five years. As for unemployment—what a bitter farce. The unemployment figures go up by leaps and bounds. The situation is most grave since the war, which calls for more drastic measures. The first thing to which any new government must devote itself is economy."

DETECTIVES TURN FIREMEN, RESCUE BOY FROM FLAT

Lieut. Walter Storms and his detective squad were driving past an apartment building at 808 Drexel square yesterday and they saw smoke rolling out a third floor window. While one of the detectives ran to an alarm box, the others dashed up to the third floor and found the living room in the flat of Charles S. Wren, supervisor of the public service department at the city hall, in flames.

Detective Harry Newman picked up Wren's 4 year old son, Charles C., and carried him to safety, while the other detectives picked up a blazing couch, rugs and other furniture, and, unable to open the window, shoved them through the glass, dropping them to the sidewalk as the engine company drove up.

Miss Mary McMillan, 1032 Hyde Park boulevard, an aunt of Mrs. Wren, who was staying with the boy, said he had started the fire by playing with his father's cigar lighter, which ignited the curtains in the living room.

PAIR ROB TAXI DRIVER.

Two young men who entered the taxicab of Clayton Sullivan, 2205 Roscoe street at Van Buren street and Michigan avenue, ordered him to drive to 23d street and Troy avenue, where they robbed him of $10.

ALLEGHENY METAL

An unrusting, lustrous, ever bright, lasting unplated metal twice as strong as steel . . . that replaces old-fashioned plated materials.

It has been used for the last several years on bridges, buildings . . . in cafeterias, hotels and cooking utensils . . . any place where a lustrous, bright, extra strong, uncorroding metal is needed.

Now the Ford Motor Co.—noted the world over for its efficiency—has adopted this metal for the bright parts on its new model. That means on the roads of this nation in 1930 you will see . . . in actual test under all conditions . . . this amazing new metal.

Examine it yourself. See its lasting lustre—that cannot rub away or rust away, since it is part of the very metal itself!

It is, remember, not a plate laid on a coarse base, but a solid, beautiful, high lustred, rustless alloy . . . as pure throughout as Sterling silver.

Any article made of Allegheny Metal has enhanced beauty and utility. It requires no polishing . . . you merely clean it as you would clean your windshield.

Thus all through industry . . . in the home . . . in business, Allegheny Metal has a thousand uses.

Will you not make it a point to see for yourself this amazing new unplated metal that is bound to upset all your conceptions of what a lustrous, unrusting, tarnishless alloy can do? Ask for it by name next time you buy pans, pots, or other kitchen utensils.

If you are a manufacturer, possibly your product may be improved by the use of this new metal . . . since it is available in several commercial forms. Full information about Allegheny Metal is instantly available from its makers.

PRESIDENT ASKS CAPITAL TO GIVE TO CHARITY FUND

Praises Community Chest Aid for Needy.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., Feb. 5.—[Special.]—Too much importance is attached by this generation to material and economic success, President Hoover asserted today, in a short appeal to the citizens of the District of Columbia to contribute more generously to the local community chest charity fund.

"Works of charity are the tests of spiritual development of men and women and communities," the President said, after he had paid a high tribute to the value and importance of community chests in the administration of the multitudes of charities necessary in America's large cities.

Aids Spiritual Development.

"At this time, when we attach too much importance to material and economic success, we place great emphasis on the idea of greater comfort, the possession of riches, and we too often overlook the necessity for stimulated spiritual development. The community chest has come to stand for this spiritual development of a community."

The President's address, delivered before 150 local charity workers in the East room of the White House, was broadcast throughout the city in an effort to inspire more liberal contributions to the Washington community chest fund, which now faces a serious shortage. Mr. Hoover spoke, he said, as a citizen of the district.

Chests Prove Value.

"Community chests in our cities have demonstrated their value and importance for effective conduct in administration of the multitude of charities necessary within our great municipalities," Mr. Hoover stated. "They represent our greatest advance in the administration of charity. Their great purpose is the handling with large vision of the obligations of a whole city to its less fortunate residents. They guarantee integrity and efficient conduct of charitable administration. They assure skill in administration, freedom from prejudice; they give support to charities of vital necessity, yet of less emotional appeal."

DR. FREDERICK A. COOK.

DR. COOK'S PLEA FOR PAROLE NOW UP TO MITCHELL

North Pole Romancer May Leave Prison March 3.

Washington, D. C., Feb. 5.—(AP)—Once again will Dr. Frederick A. Cook be a free man, if the recommendation of the federal parole board today that he be released from prison on March 5 is approved by Attorney General Mitchell.

Upon his own claim, the one-time explorer years ago was widely credited with having discovered the north pole. The claim came generally to be discounted and has since been a subject of controversy.

In Jail Since April, 1925.

Since April, 1925, he has been in the Leavenworth penitentiary on a 14 years and 8 months sentence for misuse of the mails in promoting oil stock.

He is about 65 years old, and the proposed parole would be granted on the day he becomes eligible.

Accused of Obtaining $375,000.

Cook was convicted in Fort Worth, Tex., of misuse of the mails in his oil schemes. The government charged that he had obtained approximately $375,000 through sale of worthless oil stocks.

In addition to the sentence, he was fined $12,000.

WOMAN BANDIT SLUGS CLERK IN JEWEL ROBBERY

The Gary police last night were searching for a stylishly dressed woman bandit who with a man companion robbed the Porter-Grady jewelry store at 8th avenue and Broadway, the busiest corner in Gary, of $5,000 in jewelry yesterday after she had slugged a woman clerk and imprisoned her in a washroom. The clerk, Miss Elmo Smith, 22, was under a doctor's care at her home at 1534 West 5th avenue.

The two bandits entered the store in the Palace Theater building while the manager, William Siltanen, 725 Connecticut street, Gary, was at lunch. They had made several previous trips to the store under the pretense of buying a diamond ring, and after ascertaining that Siltanen was absent, the woman told Miss Smith they had come for the ring. She then asked if there was a lavatory in the shop and when Miss Smith escorted her to the room she drew a revolver, pressing it against the clerk's ribs.

But instead of shooting the woman slipped a blackjack from under her coat and struck Miss Smith over the head, pushing her unconscious into the washroom.

Best Remedy for Cough Is Easily Mixed at Home

You'll never know how quickly a stubborn cough or chest cold can be conquered, until you try this famous recipe. It is used in millions of homes, because it gives more prompt, positive relief than anything else. It's no trouble at all to mix and costs but a trifle.

Into a pint bottle, pour 2½ ounces of Pinex; then add plain granulated sugar syrup or strained honey to make a full pint. This saves two-thirds of the money usually spent for cough medicine, and gives you a purer, better remedy. It never spoils, and tastes good—children like it.

You can actually feel its penetrating, soothing action on the inflamed throat membranes. It is also absorbed into the blood, where it acts directly on the bronchial tubes. At the same time, it promptly loosens the germ-laden phlegm. This three-fold action explains why it brings such quick relief even in severe bronchial coughs which follow cold epidemics.

Pinex is a highly concentrated compound of genuine Norway Pine, containing the active agent of creosote, in a refined, palatable form, and known as one of the greatest healing agents for severe coughs, chest colds and bronchial troubles.

"THE U. S. ARMY BUILDS MEN"

. . . and Sugar helps

The American soldier thrives on plenty of good food and consumes 50% more sugar daily than the average civilian

Seventeen million, six hundred and forty-five thousand pounds of sugar.

That's what the U. S. Standing Army consumed last year. The individual consumption, estimated at about six ounces per man per day, is based on the 134,505 officers and men in regular service in 1926. This individual figure does not include the sugar content of candy, jams and scores of other items in the regular peace-time ration.

This high average consumption of sugar by the United States Army, whose diet and health are safeguarded by a carefully selected staff of trained medical officers, is more evidence that our adult population is not taking too much sugar in its diet. As a matter of fact, the average man and woman in civilian life consumes a little over four ounces daily.

When food theorists "sound off" about sugar in any form, consider the army—its physical condition—its consumption of good wholesome food and sugar. Then you will realize that a sensible sugar ration belongs in a properly balanced diet. Good food promotes health, and sugar makes eating more pleasant. The Sugar Institute.

THE FINANCIAL CRISIS.
1. THE REASSESSMENT.

Chicago's financial difficulties are being heralded around the world. The treasuries of local governments in the second largest city in the United States are empty and the credit of many of these local governments is seriously impaired. They have no money and can borrow none. Essential public services, the police, the fire department, the county hospital, the schools, are in continual danger of being forced to suspend operations for lack of money to pay salaries and buy supplies. Each pay day presents a financial crisis and these crises have become successively more difficult to meet, even by extralegal means. Why?

One school of officeholders, led by the mayor and the president of the school board, blames the reassessment. That raises a number of related questions: What is the reassessment? Why was it ordered? What has been its effect upon the finances of the local governments of Chicago?

Every four years there is a complete new valuation of real estate for purposes of taxation; 1927 was the quadrennial year. Early in 1928 the work of the assessors and reviewers in valuing real estate for 1927 was completed. As the facts regarding the assessment began to reach the public murmurs of discontent arose on all sides. The murmurs soon became a roar. The tax bills began to go out just before the famous primary of April, 1928. It is not to be doubted that the fury of the voters in that primary against the Thompson-Crowe machine is to be explained largely by merited indignation over higher taxes and unfair taxes.

A hundred thousand complaints against the assessments had been filed before the board of review. Many of these were adjusted satisfactorily before the bills were mailed, but forty thousand taxpayers have flatly refused to pay the sums charged to them. The 40,000 paid what they regarded as a fair tax and invited the county treasurer to sue for the balance.

A series of studies made by Prof. Herbert Simpson of Northwestern university showed beyond any question that some sections of the city were favored as against others and that discriminations were made between neighboring property owners. John Doe, who had a political pull, would get off with a nominal tax, while the widow Roe, who had an identical building on a lot of identical size next door, but not an identical pull, would be taxed ten times as much. Tax fixing for cash and for political advantage was common, open, and notorious. Precinct captains took it upon themselves to fix the tax bills of their constituents and made no secret of it. The conception of an equal incidence of the tax burden in the county was reduced to a joke. The taxes which the shrewd and unscrupulous dodged were piled upon the friendless, the ignorant, and the honest.

In May, 1928, the state tax commission, headed by William H. Malone, ordered the old assessment thrown out and a new one made under rules calculated to prevent injustice. The right of the commission to enforce such an order was questioned. A special session of the legislature was called almost at once to remove any doubts on this score. The order was reissued, following the passage of the desired laws, in July, 1928. It is on the basis of that order, since sustained by the state Supreme court, that the reassessment is now being made. The assessors and reviewers struggled to avoid obeying the commission. Eighteen months have elapsed since the order was issued and their work is still far from completed.

The real estate taxes, needless to say, are the principal sources of revenue for the local governments. The last real estate tax collection made in Cook county was in the spring of 1928. No taxes were collected last April because there was no assessment upon which to base the bills. Likewise there can be no collection this April. The taxes which should have been paid in April, 1929, will be paid in June or July, 1930, according to the latest estimates. The tax which should have been paid in April, 1930, will not be collected until the late autumn, if then. Meanwhile the local governments have been financing themselves through borrowing in anticipation of taxes. A second editorial will attempt to explain this method of borrowing.

HELPING THE BOY SCOUTS.

Citizens of Chicago are being solicited at this time to underwrite Boy Scout activities for four years. Success of the campaign is certain. The value of the Boy Scout idea has been demonstrated for many years. Friends of the work will see to its perpetuation and extension.

Boy Scout supervisors have accomplished the difficult task of making virtue acceptable to youngsters when they are ordinarily least disposed to accept it. They have done it largely, but not altogether, without making boys self-conscious of their good conduct. But whatever the weakness of the good deed feature of the Boy Scout program, it is an error in the right direction. If it restrains boys whose undisciplined impulse is to do a bad deed, it is at least a happy expedient even if it does tend to develop meddlesome ideas of service in the boys.

Sponsors of the Boy Scouts claim that the organization has been an important influence against juvenile criminality. That must be true. It has offered a counter attraction to street corner gangdom. It has provided healthful recreation and constructive projects to engage the energy and interest of thousands of boys. Chicago cannot neglect to strengthen the institution in the face of prevalent crime conditions. A contribution to the Boy Scouts will be a well advised expenditure in the family budget.

THE DOCTORS PROTEST.

The Journal of the American Medical Association has made timely protest against the Porter bills requiring physicians prescribing narcotics to obtain a license to do so from the federal prohibition commissioner. The editorial remarks that this is in complete harmony "with the prevailing tendency to substitute a powerful bureaucracy in Washington for the authority of the state." We may add that it will force the medical profession, for the protection of their patients, to seek the same relief from the bootlegger of narcotics as it is now compelled to seek from the bootlegger of whisky when the condition of patients calls for the prescription of that medical aid.

At the same time the Medical Society of New York County has registered a protest against provisions of the dry law "which deprive the citizen of his age old right to privacy regarding his diseases and ailments and which compel the physician to betray confidential communications of his patient." This refers to the requirement that when a physician prescribes an alcoholic liquor he must file a slip giving the name and address of the patient and the disease with which he is afflicted. The society calls attention to the fact that the ethics of the profession from time immemorial have dictated to the physicians the duty of secrecy as to a patient's ailments and protected jealously his confidences. This duty goes back at least 2,500 years, for it is laid down in the famous oath of Hippocrates, the great Greek father of medicine. It is recognized explicitly by statute in some states, among others New York.

The passion of prohibition knows no such considerations as these two medical associations present. It demands an indefinite increase of power in government to invade private life, respecting no liberty, no reticence, no obligation. For the sake of reaching one individual who may be at fault it is willing to trample down the rights of thousands who are guiltless. Such a system is the child of fanaticism and of the ruthless will to power. It defies common sense, temperance, and common decency, and it cannot survive their protest.

RECOGNIZING RUSSIA.

News of further slaughter by the soviet government of suspected dissentients to the bolshevik tyranny or simply nonproletarians suggests the inquiry whether Senator Borah and other Americans who are demanding that our government establish diplomatic relations with that humanitarian régime give it their approval. The spectacle of Uncle Sam grasping the bloody hand of Russian bolshevism is one which may appeal to Mr. Borah and his associates, but we doubt it arouses enthusiasm in the American people. The press, including the official soviet newspapers, reports that Russian trade is being withdrawn from Europe and given to the recalcitrant United States, so the demand for recognition on that score is getting rather feeble. It must now be supported on moral or sentimental grounds and the reign of terror and persecution now going on in Russia, while it may not chill the ardor of Mr. Borah, is not likely to be overlooked by public opinion in this country. Neither are the activities of advocates of violent revolution carried on in many parts of the United States, largely inspired and funded from soviet sources. We have not recognized the soviet republic in a diplomatic sense, but we recognize its methods and intent.

FOR VALOR.

A Distinguished Service Cross bestowed upon a soldier for conspicuous gallantry in action comes rather late twelve years after the event, and, even though deservedly given, the delay detracts appreciably from the honor and lacks the military benefit supposed to follow from its bestowal in stimulating the morale both of the recipient and his comrades. But it has also an unfortunate effect in arousing suspicion of influence as expressed in the remark of a soldier upon such tardy rewards when he said the French do it better in kissing the recipient, since kisses "go by favor."

Editorial of the Day

WHERE BRITISH PAPERS FAIL.

[Toronto Globe.]

The London Times has called attention to a point which has been commented upon frequently in Canadian newspapers with amazement—lack of attention given by the press of Great Britain to affairs in Canada. It is something which is not understood on this side of the Atlantic, unless the assumption be that the old country is not interested in the chief dominion of the empire. Canadian journals publish columns daily about matters in the United Kingdom. The Canadian press, maintained by Canadian papers, has a well staffed office in London. It is considered worth while to go to this expense to keep the people of the dominion in constant touch with occurrences and sentiment in the British isles. Besides this, many Canadian papers have provision for special news of interest.

The Times was led to make its protest because of failure in the old country to note the speeches of Gen. Smuts here. "It is surprising and rather disquieting," it states, "that so little attention should have been paid in this country to the remarkable series of addresses which have been delivered in Canada during the last few days by Gen. Smuts. At a time when the ideal of a coherent British empire, for which some voices have been crying in the wilderness for a generation, shows signs at last of becoming a popular enthusiasm, it might have been supposed that there would have been a rush to claim so powerful an ally. Yet, except in the telegrams from our correspondents in Montreal and Ottawa, his speeches have passed almost unnoticed here. The news agencies have not reported them. The newspapers which profess the most fervent zeal for the empire have ignored them altogether. The only possible inference is that there is something amiss with the cost or the efficiency of our imperial communications."

A LINE O' TYPE OR TWO

Getting Adjusted to Bandits.

In these topsy-turvy thirties things are so upside down and turned around and higgledy-piggledy that we have to learn every day to do something different from the way we used to do it. Now, take going home for instance. We used to turn the old latch-key, throw open the door, and shout, "Hello, everybody! Popper's home." And then the mamma and the children and Aunt Emma would come rushing out with love and kisses.

That's old stuff; no good any more. The best way to approach the happy home when you come back at night is to stop the car a block or so away. Then slip on the gumshoes and tiptoe very carefully across the yard and, lying down flat on the tummy, wriggle up to the cellar window, tap gently on the glass and whisper, "Are you in there, mamma?" Of course, the bandits that tied mamma and the children and Aunt Emma and the cook and threw 'em down cellar while they ransacked the house and tried on papa's very best clothes have been thoughtful enough to stick court-plaster over their mouths, and, while they won't be able to shout a warning, perhaps they can kick their feet against a barrel or something and tip you off that the bandits have come.

But if you hear nothing from the cellar and the house looks all right, pull out the club you should always keep under the front porch. This should be a long, heavy club with three nails driven into the end. Then as you unlock the door drop the key quickly and step back, holding a large army service pistol in your right hand and the big club in the left. If all seems still walk right in. The bandits will grab you from behind and tie you up like they did the rest of the family and scold you for tracking mud into the house and all over the lovely rug in the front hall. The bandits have marked the rug to carry away with them, and naturally they don't like to have people track mud on it.

However, and oh well. The bandits will then tie you up and court-plaster your face, rendering conversation on your part extremely difficult. (Every householder should carry his own court-plaster these days, because since you may have to wear it over your mouth several hours you will naturally taste it, and so it would be nice to have it flavored to suit your own personal taste—strawberry, vanilla, lemon, chocolate, or tutti-frutti. You can explain while the bandits are tying your hands that they will find your own favorite sticking plaster in your upper left hand pocket, or in your pocketbook, or wherever it's most convenient to carry it.)

When you find your home in possession of bandits try to be as pleasant about it as possible. In this day and age it's liable to happen any time, and you might as well resolve to be a good sport and get used to it. Telling the leader of the gang that his face is dirty, or that he has a mean disposition, won't help you any. We've all got to learn that this is a new day we live in now and things aren't as they used to be. And take things as they come—including bandits.

IN A LITTLE STREET.

From bog and mist, from many a lonely hill,
I am come home; the dust and stones are past;
They say a heart inquiet can never be still,
But I am over and done with it at last.

What if the wind's calling my name I remember?
'Twill find me never wanting the wand'rer's dress;
The moon may burn to a smoldering orange ember;
I'll not be fey with following loveliness,

For I am at home, knowing it all for my own,
The nights I have seen, and the lotus-music of wind,
And why should I be crying and walking alone

LOLA MALLATT.

Ay, a Gurt Tale, Lad.

Speaking of books (or were you?) Crans Baldwin asked us the other night if we had read The Good Companions by J. B. Priestley and when we said we never heard of it he gave us such a look of loathing scorn, mixed up with contempt, hate, and other things, that right away we decided to buy the dinged book. Apparently lots of people have already bought it, for our edition is marked "Fortieth Printing." We've just finished with All Our Yesterdays and Good-Bye to All That, and while they're great books and well worth while we're a bit fed up on the trenches, and it was like sailing into a newer, brighter world to read The Good Companions. It's a grand, enchanting story—but wait, you may not like it at all. Still, fortieth printing, there must have been a lot of people who liked it and we don't wonder.

YESTERDAY we received the 77th contribution entitled "Why He Thinks Al Smith Is President." But we're standing to our original resolution. We will not print it until the score goes to an even 150. And by that time we'll be so sick of the darned thing that we'll never print it.

THEY'VE STARTED a campaign in Spain to ban all Spanish talking pictures in which the words are mispronounced. If we started a similar campaign over here regarding the English language there's a lot of movie-squawkie places that would be dark. Or else they'd have to stop saying "rooined."

THEOLOGY.

I never knew that there would be protection in conformity, but now I know that beauty must be hid beneath a mental dust

so theologians cannot scent
our trail of sweet abandonment.

They grow indignant when we chide,
but they've no beauty there to hide!

LAGNIAPPE.

NOW GET THIS RIGHT! The house judiciary committee reported to congress yesterday in favor of adopting "The Star-Spangled Banner" as the national anthem. That ought to settle it. The radio's got people to thinking our national song is either "A Little Kiss Each Morning," "A Little Kiss Each Night," or "Piccolo Pete," and making 'em stand up and take off their hats when they're played.

How to Keep Well, By Dr. W. A. Evans.

To the limit of space questions pertaining to hygiene and prevention of disease will be answered in this column. Personal replies will be made to inquiries, under proper limitations, when return stamped envelope is inclosed. Dr. Evans will not make diagnosis or prescribe for individual disease.

NERVOUS HEART.

MOST of the symptoms which cause people to fear heart disease are not caused by any disorder of the heart. Most of the cases of chronic heart disorder go unrecognized for years. Dr. E. S. Kilgore says that nervous heart should receive more attention than it does for three reasons.

First, of all forms of suspected heart trouble it causes most uneasiness.

Second, it is most often treated improperly or not treated at all.

Third, the results of proper treatment are better than with any other form of heart trouble.

What Dr. Kilgore throws together under the term nervous heart is a mixture of different conditions, of no relationship to each other, and many of them not heart troubles at all. Some cases of nervous heart are the result of excessive use of tobacco, tea, or coffee. For the relief of these cases about the only treatment required is to discontinue the cause, whichever it might be.

A large number of people who consult physicians because of suspected heart trouble have one of the following symptoms: They notice pulsations in the neck or in the abdomen, or they hear heart beats in the ears. Or, they think they get into trouble when they lie in some particular position, say on the right side. Or, they have a pain in the chest somewhere in the region of the heart. In very few of these cases is there any organic disease of the heart, nor is there any nervous heart disorder in most of the cases. Generally the difficulty is wholly psychic. Immoderate introspection, coupled with anxiety and fears, is responsible for the symptoms.

It is this inconsiderable group which caused Dr. Kilgore to say that most heart symptoms do not mean heart disease. Such cases should be carefully examined to exclude organic heart disease and perhaps irritable heart. If these are excluded treatment should be directed toward anxieties, fears and worries, and the heart should be left out of the picture. Irritable heart is very likely to manifest itself in adolescents, particularly those of a hereditary neurotic type. It is more frequently encountered among people who lead sedentary lives. Examination having proved the diagnosis of irritable heart, treatment along the lines of hygiene can be expected to result in cure in nearly every case.

HUSBAND IS HALF RIGHT.

Mrs. H. J. L. writes: For the benefit of myself and others in like circumstances will you please print this letter?

Owing to noisy neighbors I rarely sleep more than four to five hours, which naturally makes me rather nervous. My husband, a very sound sleeper, bawls me out and claims sleeplessness is only a state of mind and that one can train one's self to sleep regardless of all the noise in the world. Is this so?

REPLY.

NIGHT SWELLING OF TONGUE.

H. J. P. writes: Will you kindly explain what causes a swelling of the tongue in the night? It swells to about twice its normal thickness and this disappears about noontime. There is no pain. Several months go by before it comes again, but sometimes the lip is affected after the same fashion in place of the tongue and becomes normal in the same time.

REPLY.

This goes by the name of urticaria, probably giant urticaria. It follows exposure to something at long intervals.

ECZEMA, CAUSE AND CURE.

W. J. M. writes: What is the cause and cure of eczema? I have it all over my body. I have been on a diet for nearly two months now, leaving off first one food and then another. The eczema now burns and itches. The only relief I seem to get is from putting salve over the affected area. Will this cure it?

REPLY.

What is called eczema is generally the result of some industrial poisoning or food poisoning. If you have eczema and can find the cause and avoid it you will need no other cure. You have been experimenting with foods. Have you looked into cement, dust, hair, animal dandruff, cloth, dyes, etc., as possible causes? Salves are of service in giving temporary relief.

FRIEND OF THE PEOPLE

MUST ENTER UNDER ITALY'S QUOTA.

Highwood, Ill., Jan. 31.—[Friend of the People.]—My brother is an Italian by birth, but is a naturalized citizen of Belgium, residing in Belgium. He is anxious to come to this country and wants to know if he would be considered as a Belgian citizen as far as immigration quota is considered, and if so what is the quota of Belgium. F. B.

For the purpose of quota restrictions, the country of birth and not of citizenship is considered. Therefore it will be necessary for the person referred to to enter the United States under the quota of Italy.

This office cannot give any quota figures, as we have no record of same, but you can obtain this information by writing to the secretary of state, Washington, D. C., or the American consul abroad.

S. D. SMITH,
District Director of Immigration.

RESPONSIBLE FOR RENT.

Chicago, Feb. 4.—[Legal Friend of the People.]—A falls behind in his rent and moves out in the middle of the monthly term. Can the landlord collect for the two weeks of the uncompleted term? J. B.

Yes.

A tenancy is "by the month" if expressly so agreed, or if the rent is payable monthly and there is no valid agreement for a longer term. Since an oral agreement for a year to commence in the future is invalid under the statute of frauds, the tenancy under such an agreement is ordinarily by the month.

The Illinois statute provides: "In all cases of tenancy by the month, or for any other term less than one year, where the tenant holds over without special agreement, the landlord shall have the right to terminate the tenancy by thirty days' notice in writing." In 10 Ill. App. 624 it was held that "this section has no reference to the right of the tenant to terminate." Hence, the common law oral notice by the tenant is probably sufficient, but we advise written notice in all cases. The notice does not relieve the tenant of his obligation to pay rent to the end of his tenancy. There is no legal obligation to assign a reason for the notice. The right to increase the rent is incidental to the right to terminate.

TRIBUNE LAW DEPARTMENT.

PETITION AT END OF FIFTH YEAR.

Chicago, Jan. 30.—[Friend of the People.]—I came to this country as an immigrant May 3, 1925. Made the declaration of intention the following August. Have been a resident of Chicago all this time. Please tell me on what date I may make application for final papers. G. B.

The naturalization law requires that an applicant for citizenship must have lived in the United States at least five years continuously before he may file a petition for naturalization and the last six months of that time in the county where he may decide to file his petition.

FRED J. SCHLOTFELDT,
District Director of Naturalization.

FROM THE TRIBUNE'S COLUMNS

65 YEARS AGO TODAY

FEBRUARY 6, 1865.

NEW YORK.—The Herald thinks the rebel peace commission will prove a stepping stone to submission by the rebels to the Union. It is predicted that peace will come from Gen. Lee, while Jeff Davis, driven out of Richmond, is flying for some temporary place of refuge. The interview in Hampton Roads between President Lincoln, Secretary Seward and the rebel commissioners, Stephens, Hunt and Campbell, lasted sixteen hours. The Post's special from Washington says: "Mr. Lincoln declares without reserve that the peace negotiations were a failure."

ST. LOUIS.—A new military department has been created called the department of Missouri, composed of the departments of Missouri, Kansas and the northwest, and Maj. Gen. Pope has arrived to assume command thereof.

NEW YORK.—The Richmond Examiner in announcing the confirmation of Gen. Lee's appointment as general in chief of the confederate armies says: "He will remain in the field with the army around Richmond. He has published an appeal for arms. Gen. Breckenridge is expected to assume the position of secretary of war tomorrow."

BOSTON.—There was a great meeting in Music hall to express joy over the progress of freedom as manifested by adoption of the constitutional amendment abolishing slavery. Josiah Quincy presided. Among the speakers were William Lloyd Garrison and Maj. Gen. Butler. An original hymn written for the occasion by Oliver W. Holmes was sung.

30 YEARS AGO TODAY

FEBRUARY 6, 1900.

CHICAGO.—Patrick Crowe, believed by the police to have been one of the four bandits who held up and robbed the Chicago and North Western express train at Tower "W," 46 miles west of Chicago, on Oct. 13 last year, was captured by Stockyards police, who had followed him for three months during his wanderings through the west. Crowe is well known to the police and has served at least two terms in the penitentiary.

LOUISVILLE, Ky.—The conference to settle the gubernatorial contest participated in by Republicans representing Gov. Taylor and Democrats representing Claimant J. C. W. Beckham reached an agreement at midnight. The agreement is that the general assembly is to pass a resolution validating its acts finding William Goebel and Beckham elected, after which Beckham's title to the office of governor is not to be questioned. The Democrats grant immunity to Gov. Taylor and his associates from prosecution for treason, usurpation of office or contempt of court for what has been done since the fatal shooting of Goebel. The agreement is to be held in abeyance until approved by Taylor.

CHICAGO.—Defying his father who last month took steps to disinherit him, Guy McDonald, 19, son of Mr. and Mrs. Michael C. McDonald, 4501 Drexel boulevard, secretly married Miss Ellen Flowers, daughter of Mrs. Elizabeth Flowers, 2949 Prairie avenue. She met Guy two months ago for the first time since they had played together as children. "I have disinherited my son," said the elder McDonald after the ceremony.

10 YEARS AGO TODAY

FEBRUARY 6, 1920.

CHICAGO. — Burnham resorts and the rendezvous of gunmen in the neighborhood of 22d street and Wabash avenue were searched for a new figure in the slaying of "Moss" Enright—"Tommy the Wop," a professional killer from Buffalo, N. Y., alleged to have fired the shotgun which killed Enright. Police claim that "Dago Mike" Carozzo, president of the street sweepers' union and ally of "Big Tim" Murphy, Enright's rival for the title of labor "boss," went to Buffalo and enlisted the services of "The Wop" to kill Enright. "The Wop" is said to have been seen in Johnny Torrio's roadhouse at Burnham.

NEW YORK.—With damage already running in millions of dollars, the storm which has battered the Atlantic seaboard for 24 hours continued unabated. The storm is declared the most severe in 15 years.

CHICAGO.—Miss Sybil Bauer, Carl Schurz High school swimmer, competing under colors of the I. A. C., established two world's indoor records in connection with the Central A. A. U. championship events being held in the tricolor pool. She swam 50 yards by use of the back stroke in :37 4-5, and 100 yards with the same stroke in 1:25 2-5.

LONDON.—The Times' Paris correspondent says the French government has decided to accept the American senate reservations on the peace treaty.

AFTER THE NAVAL CONFERENCE

[Punch (Copyright).]

First Jack: "What's all this five power naval conference about, Arry?"
Second Jack: "Well, as far as I can see, there won't be no guns in the future, but the crews of enemy ships'll be allowed a few chi-kes and cha-ats at each other."

FILIPINO RIOTS.

Chicago, Jan. 31.—I cannot but commend the editor for his sincere and ardent editorial, "Protection for the Filipinos." That the recent warlike demonstration in a California town was unbecoming of honest and self-respecting people of the United States is true. As a Filipino I keenly feel the distress and embarrassment of my countrymen.

Rioting is a very unworthy and barbaric activity. Such a demonstration at home is looked upon as disgrace uncalled for. Only our belligerent and less civilized tribes have the habit of doing that kind of mob violence. When such hostilities brew, however, our local government generally succeeds in handling the situation without much scandal. It looks as though California authorities ought to be able to do as much, if not more. MANUEL E. ALOJADO.

INEXPENSIVE PASTIME.

Chicago, Feb. 1.—Being a boat owner, I was very much interested in the reprint of the New York Herald Tribune editorial about the motorboat show. It states that boating is "perhaps the most expensive of all luxuries except aviation."

Quite the opposite is true. I know that the general public believes as you do. Frankly, I want them to. I would not like to see the day when I shall be driven to the air as I have been to water. Now I have the whole lake to myself.

I regret my selfishness only to the extent that young America has such an erroneous notion and does not take advantage of the one sport that will develop its finer attributes more assuredly than probably any other form of diversion.

Please let the world think as they do—and please boost for more harbors, for when you (meaning the public at large) do wake up I want a place to moor my ship. G. A.

INCH BY INCH.

Evanston, Ill., Jan. 29.—Permit me, rather tardily, to thank you and congratulate you for your recent editorial on "Law and Custom in Free Government." You have hit the nail on the head.

Our lawmakers seem not to understand the distinction, and they seem, moreover, perfectly willing to trade the rights of citizens for votes for themselves. Inch by inch we are losing those liberties and privileges our forefathers intended we should have. By a terrible blunder we are deprived of the right of local self-government in so intimate a thing as our choice of eatables and drinkables. Then, by a legalistic twist, the writ of injunction is extended to operate against the rights of ownership, and now, by another legalistic twist, we are to be deprived of the free right of trial by jury, so that we may have it only after we have been convicted.

Attorney General Mitchell is quoted as saying that out of 80,000 criminal cases before the federal courts last year more than half were cases under the national prohibition act. Is this terrible breaking of laws by individuals, or is it terrible invasion of individual rights by lawmakers? I cannot believe for a moment that Mr. Wickersham and his committee are not aware of this, but what a shame it is that they have not the intellectual integrity to speak up.

Presumably, now that the attorney general has said that all prosecutors and prohibition agents must be drys, it will be only a step to require that all judges and juries be of the same mind. With such Hanoverianism in the saddle, it will probably not be long before voters will be asked to declare themselves before using the ballot.

JOSEPH G. HUBBELL.

DRAFTING INDUSTRY.

Indianapolis, Ind., Feb. 4.—Recently THE TRIBUNE, editorially, assumed that universal draft or service in time of war would place military officers in charge of industry. Months before that a TRIBUNE editorial stated that universal service would be fatal to production of materials because competition is the life of trade.

The American Legion, which is urging congress to adopt the Reed-Wainwright resolution for the thorough study and investigation of just such problems, in order that a fair and just principle of "equal service in time of war, and no special profit to any one" can be enacted into the basic law of our land, refutes both of the above premises.

Industry would not be confiscated or directed by military officers, but controlled, or mobilized, under the direction of war boards similar to the one which were successful in the last month of the world war, but made workable too late to prevent some 20,000 becoming millionaires through war profits. The war industries board brought war profits down 300 per cent. Overburdened eastern factories were relieved of some war orders, which were placed in 46 factories in the central west and west. Military officers would have nothing to do with the control of industry except to advise what materials are needed first, and they would do that in any event.

Regarding production, war breaks some laws. Competition is the life of trade; yes, in time of peace. Self-preservation, however, is the first law of nature. The Legion believes it would be a matter of self-preservation for industry to speed up its production to end war as quickly as possible, in order to get back to a peace basis of competition. Every element of our nation's life would work as feverishly to bring such an unprofitable business as war to a quick ending as would the soldiers in the field under an equal service and special profit plan.

It is due to such differences of opinion that the Legion is asking for a thorough and competent study of this principle, which the Legion believes holds great possibilities for the preservation of peace, and which assures victory if peace fails. A study is all the Legion is asking at this time—the adoption of the Reed-Wainwright resolution, with the purpose in view of reaching an agreement among the different elements of our national life, man power, labor, capital, industry and the professions. The proposed commission then would prepare a measure in detail for submission to congress.

FRED G. CONDON,
Publicity Director, American Legion.

FILTER EXHIBIT.

Chicago, Jan. 30.—In the center of the main lobby in our city hall building stand two large tanks of water.

In the one there is a continual flow of water which is very dirty looking and above which is printed a placard "Our Present City Water."

Directly opposite this tank there is another of what appears to the naked eye to be clear, crystal cool water. Above this tank is a sign: "Filtered Water."

Surrounding these two tanks are large lettered signs stating exactly how this pure filtered water can be had. Merely an additional cost of two cents per of many thousand gallons would give the public this pure, wonderful water.

I happen to be an expert in glass, and this is what I discovered: The effect given this wonderful filtered water is by the clever use of magnifying glasses and mirrors.

I say make them remove the mask.

NOZOL AMERICA'S NOSE REMEDY

QUICK RELIEF FROM CONSTIPATION

That is the joyful cry of thousands since Dr. Edwards produced Olive Tablets, the substitute for calomel.

Dr. Edwards, a practicing physician for 20 years, and calomel's old-time enemy, discovered the formula for Olive Tablets while treating patients for chronic constipation and torpid liver.

No griping is the "keynote" of these little sugar-coated, olive-colored tablets. They help cause the bowels and liver to act normally. They never force them to unnatural action.

If you have a "dark brown mouth"—bad breath—torpid liver—constipation, you should find quick, sure and pleasant results from one or two of Dr. Edwards Olive Tablets.

Customs Men Arrest Him After Thrilling Chase.

New York, Feb. 5.—[Special.]—George S. Goldman, a former United States customs guard, was arrested early today by customs men after a long automobile chase in which more than a dozen pistol shots were fired.

A load of liquor and wine was found in the taxicab which Goldman was driving. Arrested with the ex-guard was a man who gave his name as Peter Pandrea of Philadelphia.

For some time the customs authorities had received information that liquor was being unloaded at a municipal pier at the foot of West 54th street and transported from the pier in taxicabs.

Customs Inspector Edward Selvar and four companions drove to the pier early today to watch. A few minutes after they had extinguished the lights on their car they saw a taxicab driver out on the pier. The customs men switched on the lights of their car, jumped out of the machine and ordered the taxicab driver to halt. The driver stepped on the gas.

The officers scrambled into their car and gave pursuit, firing their pistols in the air first, and then directly at the cab. Eventually the right rear tire was punctured by a bullet and the car skidded against the curb. Two men sprang out, but were covered by the revolvers of two policemen who ran to the scene attracted by the shots.

Goldman became a customs guard in March, 1929. He was dismissed from the service in July last after he had been caught smuggling liquor from piers. The customs authorities found 160 bottles of wine and liquor in his cab today.

Store Owner Resists Two Robbers; Fear He Will Die

Fred Mayer, 72 years old, 2226 East 69th street, owner of a second hand shop at 4252 Evans avenue, was probably fatally injured yesterday when slugged by two Negro bandits he resisted. The bandits fled without loot. Mayer was taken to the Chicago hospital.

BUSINESS BUILT UP BY CONVICT'S WIFE MAKES BOTH RICH

New York, Feb. 5.—(AP)—A wife who, during the eight years that her husband was in jail, built up his $25,000 surgical instrument business until it brought $2,496,020 on the open market, today received $770,000 as her share from the sale of the firm under an order signed in Brooklyn Supreme court.

Aside from $265,000 for attorneys and a relative, the remainder of the nearly 2½ million dollars goes to the husband, Charles G. Davis, who is now serving a sentence of 10 to 20 years in Sing Sing prison for manslaughter.

Arrested in 1921 on a charge of killing a detective, Davis was adjudged insane. His condition, his attorney said, was due mainly to worry over the poor condition of his business, the Davis & Beck Surgical Instrument company.

Mrs. Davis took over her husband's company when he first was imprisoned. The firm prospered and grew. Last April she was permitted by court order to dispose of the business.

Davis, with at least five more years of his sentence to serve, will get a life income from $100,000 set aside for this purpose. He also receives $1,361,020 in stock from the American Cyanamid company, which bought the Davis & Beck surgical business.

Evanston Cop to Marry Girl After Auto Argument

When Policeman George Bein of Evanston placed a tag on the automobile of Miss Florence E. Steiger, 1618 Thome avenue, several months ago, Miss Steiger threatened to "get even" with him if it took all of her life to do it. Bein then canceled the tag, which he had issued for illegal parking, and Miss Steiger smiled gratefully. Yesterday Bein announced that he will marry Miss Steiger next Monday and that they will live at 617 Grove street, Evanston.

Loretta Young's Mother Drops Annulment Suit

Hollywood, Cal., Feb. 5.—[Special.]—Mrs. George Belzer, mother of Loretta Young, 17 year old film star, tonight announced that she was withdrawing a suit to annul the marriage of her daughter to Grant Withers. The pair eloped by plane to Yuma, Ariz., ten days ago and have been living in a secret honeymoon apartment in Hollywood since.

CAVALRY CHIEF TO MAKE CAPITAL MODEL DRY CITY

Hoover Picks Crosby to Run Washington Police.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., Feb. 5.—[Special.]—Maj. Gen. Herbert B. Crosby, chief of cavalry, United States army, has been selected by President Hoover as the man who will be charged with the responsibility of turning the capital into a model dry city for the rest of the nation. The army officer will become one of the city's commissioners as soon as he retires this year. His task will be to handle the police, fire and traffic departments.

The selection of Maj. Gen. Crosby followed reports that had been current for several months that the President would take drastic steps to end the crime wave that brought unfavorable publicity to the national capital.

In selecting an army officer the President had also in mind his pledge of last fall to make Washington a model dry city.

"Gen. Crosby will have under his direction the police, fire, and traffic services," Mr. Hoover said. "He does not wish to become presiding commissioner and prefers to devote himself to these particular branches. His headship of these departments will be assurance of just support and leadership to the men in those services. It will be a guarantee to both the official and unofficial residents of the district, and especially to the nation at large, that the capital of the nation will be free of organized crime."

Four Cases of Smallpox Reported in Evanston

Four cases of smallpox were reported to Health Commissioner John W. H. Pollard of Evanston yesterday after Policeman Leo Larkin had found a man suffering from the disease at Railroad avenue and Central street. Three other men who had bowled with him when he first contracted the disease were found ill at their homes. Two of them were quarantined and the other was removed to the Chicago Contagious Disease hospital.

ROB SYLVANIA O., BANK.

Toledo, O., Feb. 5.—(AP)—Robbers today held up the Farmers and Merchants bank at Sylvania, O., and escaped with approximately $6,000.

NEEDY STUDENT TURNS ROBBER AND IS CAUGHT

Detroit, Mich., Feb. 5.—(AP)—Leon Gaylor, 23 year old senior at Michigan State Teachers' college at Ypsilanti, borrowed his roommate's revolver and came to Detroit today to raise money to complete his college course.

Gaylor picked out a shoe store at 414 Michigan avenue, on the edge of the downtown retail district, and held up the proprietor. He got only $8, ran out and jumped into a taxicab. A policeman on foot chased him through the heavy traffic and overtook him at Washington boulevard and State street.

After first giving another name, Gaylor admitted his identity and told of being "broke" with a $50 note due and a sweetheart whom he would be able to marry if he could complete his course and get a job.

THOUGHT LAWYER WORKED FOR LOVE, SHE SAYS; SUED

Now He Asks $50,000 Fee for Her Divorce.

New York, Feb. 5.—[Special.]—Mrs. Beatrice Flager Sullivan, widow of John H. Flagler, industrial millionaire, testified today in federal court that she had thought an attorney who handled a divorce for her in 1916 was working for love and without thought of monetary reward.

The attorney, Clarence Spellman of Kansas City, is pushing a suit against Mrs. Sullivan for $50,000 counsel fees. According to his story he obtained a divorce for the defendant in 1916 from James Davische in an Ohio court.

Obtained Her Divorce.

Later, when Mrs. Sullivan was contemplating marriage with Flagler, whom she married in 1920, Spellman testified that he warned her that she would need another divorce decree before she could be legally wedded. This decree, he says, he obtained for her in 1920.

Under cross-examination by Charles Taylor, Spellman's attorney, Mrs. Sullivan, who now lives in Newark, stated that she considered the plaintiff's work a labor of love.

Thought It Love Service.

Q.—You mean you thought he was serving you for love? A.—Yes.

Q.—Did you expect to marry him? A.—I did.

Q.—Did Mr. Spellman ever write you proposing marriage? A.—Not in those words, perhaps.

Q.—Did he write you many love letters? A.—O, yes, so many I couldn't count them.

Q.—Can you produce a letter in which he asked you to marry him? Mrs. Sullivan admitted that she could not but said that many of the letters began with "Dearest," "Dear" and "Dearest Bee" and were signed "Lovingly, Clarence," and "Your loving lawyer."

PAROLE REFUSED TO C. S. WHARTON BY U. S. BOARD

Charles S. Wharton, former congressman and assistant state's attorney, has been refused a parole from Leavenworth penitentiary by the federal parole board, according to Washington dispatches yesterday. Wharton is under a two year sentence imposed by Federal Judge Wilkerson following conviction for complicity in the $133,000 Evergreen Park mail robbery two years ago.

No reason was given by the parole board for refusal to grant the plea for parole, made by a number of the former congressman's friends. Wharton started serving his sentence on June 13, 1929, after his conviction had been affirmed by United States Circuit Court of Appeals. He became eligible for parole after serving eight months.

New Harbor for China

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

SHANGHAI, Feb. 5.—The national government announced today that a contract had been signed with the Netherlands Harbor Works company of Amsterdam for development of a modern Chinese harbor at Hulutao, at the headwaters of the Gulf of Pechihli. The Chinese hope this harbor will provide an independent outlet for Manchurian products, which will not be controlled by either Japanese or Russians.

The contract totals $6,400,000 in gold. The job must be finished within five years and is guaranteed by revenues from the Peiping-Mukden railway.

At the present time Manchurian products, in order to reach tidewater, must pass through either the Japanese controlled port, Dairen, or the soviet port of Vladivostok. Development of Hulutao, with a new system of Chinese railways, is expected to avoid foreign interference.

CRIMINAL COURT CUTS NUMBER OF PENDING CASES

The report on the work done by the thirteen Criminal court judges during January was made public yesterday by John H. Passmore, clerk of the court. The report shows that for the first time in many years the number of pending indictments has been reduced to near the 1,000 mark. The number pending at the start of the February term was 1,066, and it is hoped it will be below 1,000 by the start of the March term.

According to a court observer, this reduction is partly due to the fact that during the last few years nearly twice as many judges as there were formerly have been assigned to the criminal bench. Other factors are that the grand jury does not indict nearly so many defendants as before and that a large number of cases are disposed of by striking them from the docket and by orders of nolle prosequi.

Only 324 indictments were returned by the January grand jury, while 434 cases were classed as disposed of. The report shows 115 persons were sentenced to the penitentiary and 25 to Pontiac reformatory. It also shows 225 cases stricken off with leave to reinstate and 86 orders of nolle prosequi.

Husband Denied Divorce; Wife Loses Counter Plea

Superior Judge Lewis yesterday denied both the suit for divorce brought by Roy Kneeland, a piano salesman, on charges of cruelty, and the cross bill for separate maintenance brought by his wife, Mrs. Frances Kneeland, 4851 North Central Park avenue, on charges of infidelity and desertion. The judge declared that neither side had presented enough evidence in the two day hearing. The Kneelands have four daughters.

FEEDER BUSES SURE IF COURT O. K.'S EXPENSE

Surface Lines Win Victory at Springfield.

Springfield, Ill., Feb. 5.—[Special.]—Following the hearing of the Chicago motor bus case today, the Illinois commerce commission indicated a willingness to grant petitions for feeder buses in the northwestern section of Chicago, provided the surface lines secure permission from Federal Judge Wilkerson to spend the money.

The hearing was adjourned until Monday in Chicago. In the meantime the commission expects to learn whether Judge Wilkerson will direct the receivers to expend the million dollars necessary for the installation of the buses.

The matter of how Judge Wilkerson is to be approached had not been determined when the hearing was adjourned. Ald. Thomas J. Bowler of the council subcommittee on buses said he was willing to go before the judge with a council committee.

Attorney James G. Condon, representing the Chicago Motor Coach company, said his company would withdraw from the territory as soon as the commission orders the installation of competitive feeder buses.

Ald. Bowler said that if the motor buses were withdrawn the Nevin Bus company of New York would supply temporary service pending installation of the feeder buses. He asked that in addition to the feeders the surface lines are ready to install the service authorized on Montrose, Higgins, and Northwest highway.

JUDGE HOPKINS' CONDITION 'FAIR' AFTER OPERATION

Judge Jacob Hopkins, veteran Cook county jurist, was reported last night as being in "fair" condition after an operation for an intestinal obstruction had been performed in the afternoon at Mercy hospital. Dr. Philip Kreuscher and Dr. Karl A. Meyer, who performed the operation, said another operation would be necessary in about three weeks.

The judge, who is now serving in the Criminal court, and who has served in the Superior and municipal courts for 19 years, became ill last Saturday after a court session. His condition became worse yesterday and he was removed to the hospital, where an operation was decided upon.

Judge Hopkins refused a general anesthetic, insisting that local anesthesia was sufficient. He laughed as five doctors entered the operating room and remarked, "I would rather have a jury of twelve than five of you."

FALL ON ICE PROVES FATAL.

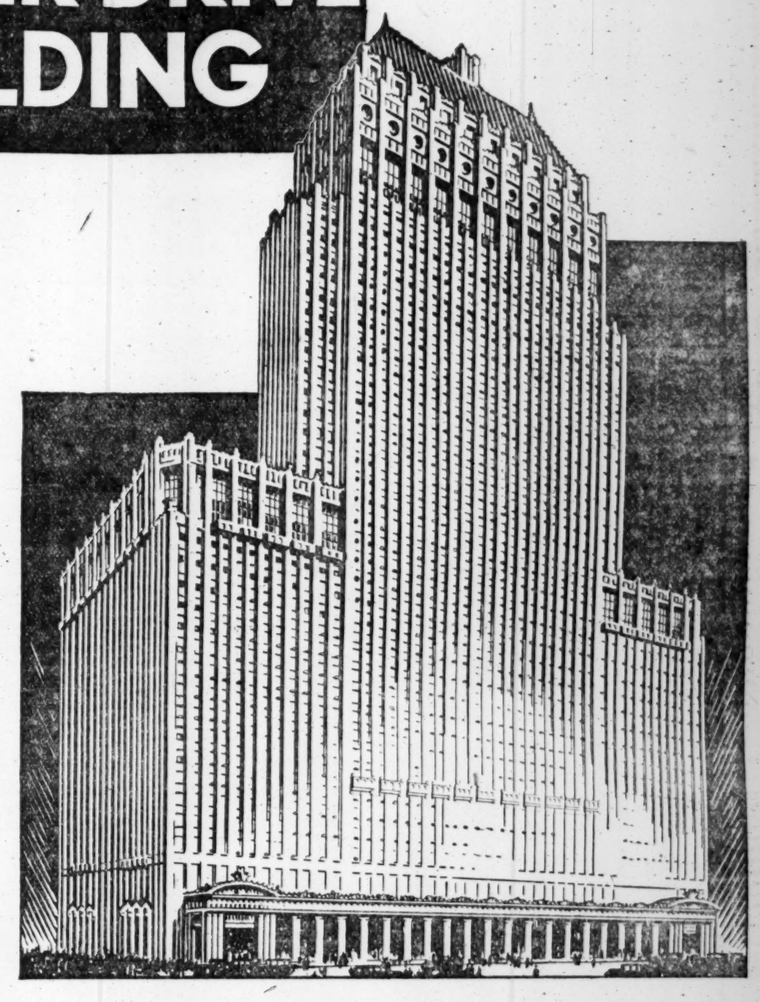
20 NORTH WACKER DRIVE BUILDING



No Shadow Falls Upon This Building . . . .

Here is a business structure that stands alone . . . apart from the crowded lanes of Loop skyscrapers . . . its four walls free to light and air. Washington Street on the north, Madison on the south; at the west the river's broad expanse . . . and before it on the east stretches the breadth of Wacker Drive.

Outside the shadow of the Loop—yet at the very core of things. Near the great Northwestern and Union Stations. Near elevated and surface lines that come from all parts of the city. And at its doors, for the convenience of motorists, the city's widest boulevard.

The "Building Everybody Knows" offers to commercial and industrial concerns a business address of permanent prestige . . . an address known nationally as the site of the Chicago Civic Opera Company. It offers offices remarkably roomy, remarkably clean . . . designed and equipped to facilitate in every way the transaction of modern business. Space will be subdivided to meet individual requirements. Offices are sound-proofed from the Civic Opera Company premises and are entered through separate entrances and elevators.

That Chicago business already has made The 20 North Wacker Drive Building its own is best evidenced by the partial list of tenants.

"SELF-CONFIDENCE starts Behind the Scenes"

By BEATRICE FAIRFAX

Answering CHICAGO Girl's Letter

Happy self-confidence of charm is within your grasp, through a simple secret

HOW can I be popular?" . . . Again and again girls ask me that question.

For instance, read this from Sally M's letter:

"I am a young girl, considered beautiful, but I am always shy at a party. Other girls not any prettier are always being invited out, while I am overlooked . . ."

Perhaps I can help you, Sally, because the mysterious power to charm lies within yourself. Men are like mirrors. They reflect a girl's own conception of herself. If she is poised, self-confident, sure of her charm, they hover round like bees around summer flowers.

Clothes are Important

Clothes are very important in giving a girl this happy self-confidence. If everything she wears is DAINTY and COLORFUL, a girl feels charming and therefore she is charming.

Begin behind the scenes, Sally, with your lingerie, stockings, all your intimate things. When these are dainty, lace-trimmed, colorful, they make you feel very feminine, very charming.

With this self-confidence you go out ready to conquer the world, and you do.

But some girls say they cannot afford to wear lovely underthings every day. Frequent washing takes some of the color and charm out of the garment.

This is very foolish, for if a girl but use that invaluable product, Lux, her daintiest things will stay as alluring as new, so long that the most modest budget can well afford them. This product is especially made to keep colors and textures as charming as new. Anything safe in plain water alone is just as safe in Lux.

And in Your Home, Too

(Left) After 12 Lux washings—every thread in place—silk and lace fibres intact, color intact. Retains all the charm it had when new.

(Right) After 12 washings with an ordinary good soap—silk fibres a little out of place—lace damaged. Lustre impaired, color dull.

The Original BAUME BENGUÉ (ANALGÉSIQUE)

AND USE IT THIS WAY Wring out a hot cloth and wrap it around the throat to get the pores well open, wipe dry and rub in plenty of Ben-Gay. Then wind the throat snugly with flannel. Relief starts at once. The stiffness and soreness quickly begin to go as soon as Ben-Gay's penetrating warmth stirs up the blood to healthy action. Ben-Gay will not burn or blister. Doctors have been prescribing it for 30 years to break up chest colds—and to quiet the pains and aches of nerve and muscle.

ILLINOIS WINS, 28-25; FIFTH CHICAGO DEFEAT

BRUINS' 24 TO 17 VICTORY EVENS BASKET SERIES

Beat Fort Wayne to Hold Third Place.

BY WILFRID SMITH.

Chicago's Bruins won the final game with Fort Wayne last night at the Stadium, 24 to 17. The victory divided the four game series with the Hoosiers and the Chicagoans will leave on their eastern trip in third place in the league race. The Bruins now have won five games and lost four.

The game was worthy of the long rivalry between the cities. Chicago led at the half, 15 to 10, but the Bruins have held the advantage at this stage in each of the four games. So the fans waited for that inevitable second half rally by Fort Wayne. But last night the Hoosiers were only able to tie the score at 16, all, and from there on the game was all Chicago.

Tillie Voss, who replaced Al Kellett at center for the Bruins, and Gil Ely, playing for Ray Kennedy, were two reasons for victory. And then, there was Nat Holman.

Gives Banks a Lesson.

It may have been that Holman was thinking about the five field goals Davie Banks scored against him on the Stadium floor Sunday night. And he may have remembered that he left that game with five personal fouls, for he gave Davie a lesson last night in offensive and defensive play.

Holman scored three baskets and three free throws to lead both teams at the net. But what cheered the veteran most was that Davie committed five fouls. That fifth foul of Banks was a work of art. Davie was drawn into it as Nat dribbled toward the Chicago basket. Banks reached forward to stop a shot and Holman clamped his arm on Banks' wrist which brought Nat up with a jerk, much as if Banks had grabbed him by the arm.

To climax the pleasure of the minute, Holman then scored the free throw and Chicago led, 16 to 14. More important, Banks went out of the line-up just when it seemed as if his long shots might break up the game, for he had counted twice from the center of the floor in the brief time that the second half had been under way.

Saunders' Basket Ties Score.

A minute later Rus Saunders tied the score with a one hand shot as he pivoted on the free throw line. Then Holman counted again on Miller's foul, and Chicago led 17 to 16. Hickey made the lead three points when he scored his only basket of the game from the free throw circle.

With eight minutes to play, Chicago duplicated the Fort Wayne stalling attack which had won the Sunday night game for the Hoosiers. Voss broke loose, but was fouled by Chadwick, and then counted once on the two penalty tosses. Ely's quick breaks were responsible for two more field goals in the remaining time.

Saunders added one point to the Hoosier total in the last minute to make the final score, 24 to 17.

Mike Wickhorst, long a member of the Bruins, played his first game at the Stadium against them. He started in the lineup in Shimek's position, the former Iowan being out of the game for three weeks with a fractured elbow. Mike was replaced by Miller in the second period, but came back again after Banks' removal.

INDIAN REJECTED AS CARNERA'S FOE IN ST. LOUIS BOUT

St. Louis, Mo., Feb. 5.—(AP)—State Boxing Commissioner Seneca C. Taylor this afternoon rejected Theodore (Tiny) Roebuck, Kansas City Indian boxer, as the opponent for Primo Carnera, Italian giant, in the latter's appearance at the Arena here next Tuesday night.

Players Fight, Referee Punched at Basket Game

Paterson, N. J., Feb. 5.—(AP)—Three fights featured the American basketball league game here tonight as Brooklyn defeated Paterson, 25 to 20. The first half ended with the teams deadlocked at 14 to 14.

Soon after the start of the final period, Bill McIlwain, Paterson forward, and "Red" Conaty, Brooklyn guard, engaged in fisticuffs. Both were banished from the floor.

Shortly afterward, protesting one of Referee Sugarman's decisions, a Paterson fan ran on the court and punched Sugarman in the mouth. This called for a general attack upon the official, but the police came to his rescue.

As the game was resumed a free-for-all fight started in the crowd, but all the participants were ushered from the armory before they got beyond control.

St. Goddard Wins Ottawa Dog Derby, $1,000 and Cup

OTTAWA, Ont., Feb. 5.—(AP)—Emile St. Goddard, 24 year old musher from The Pas, Man., won his ninth important victory in dog sled racing today, capturing the first annual Ottawa international dog Derby. He had an elapsed time margin of 20 minutes and 20 seconds over Earl Brydges of Cranberry Portage, Man., second of the four finishers.

EMILE ST. GODDARD.

St. Goddard won both of the first two laps to gain a lead that was good enough to win, although he finished third on the final 33 mile lap today. Starting with a margin of 20 minutes and 25 seconds, St. Goddard ran over the course today in two hours 56 minutes and 56 seconds, more than 19 minutes slower than his record trip of the first day. Then, he set a mark of two hours 37 minutes.

The victory brought him a $1,000 cash prize and the Chateau Laurier challenge cup.

CRANE JUNIORS TRIM LYLE FIVE FOR 31 IN ROW

Hollywood, Cal., Feb. 5.—(AP)—De Paul university of Chicago defeated Hollywood Athletic club basketball team, 27 to 24, tonight, in one of a series of Pacific coast games. Joe, Jim, and B. O'Connor divided scoring honors for De Paul.

CHICAGO GOLDEN GLOVES PRELIMS RUN TWO DAYS

Ashland Boulevard Tests Open Tuesday.

BY WALTER ECKERSALL.

Young Chicago is fighting mad. Called softies by lads from the farms, mines and mills, and out of town boxing centers, Pop Dearborn's soda jerkers, bellhops, and whatnots are ready to show 'em.

Although the finals of THE TRIBUNE's Golden Gloves tournament are nearly three weeks away, entries already have passed last year's total of 648. Because of the large entry, sectional trials in the three sides of the city will require two days instead of one, as planned.

The first Chicago trials will be held at the Ashland Boulevard auditorium, Tuesday and Wednesday. More than 200 will take part.

Berz to Head Drawings.

All Ashland Boulevard fighters must report at the auditorium not later than 6 o'clock on the first day of the trials, to be weighed and examined. The first bout will start at 7 o'clock. Winners will be compelled to box at least twice on the opening night and the same number on the second night. Four will be qualified in each class for the Coliseum finals.

Harry Berz will direct the drawings and Dr. Louis K. Eastman and his staff will examine the contestants. Each contestant will be allowed one second. Professional seconds also will be on hand.

No boxer will be allowed to compete until he has registered with the A. A. U. The tournament will be conducted under A. A. U. and Illinois state athletic commission rules. A. A. U. inspectors will be available at the hall for registration purposes.

Meyer Will Not Compete.

Entries for the north sectional trials at the Fronton, Feb. 13 and 14, close tomorrow at midnight. More than 200 already have filed.

George Meyer Jr. of Quincy, Ill., winner of the heavyweight title last year, will be unable to compete at the Coliseum. Meyer recently underwent a tonsil operation and says he cannot be ready for a month. In addition to annexing THE TRIBUNE heavyweight title, Meyer won his bout in the inter-city series with New York.

Tickets for the Coliseum finals and the series of bouts between Chicago and New York at the Chicago Stadium, March 19, now are on sale at THE TRIBUNE's Public Service Office, 1 South Dearborn street. Admission prices, $1, $2, and $3.

GRID PLAYERS WIN

BY FRENCH LANE.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Lafayette, Ind., Feb. 5.—This section of Indiana, made famous by Purdue's great football team of last fall, will depend upon its football players to carry on in THE CHICAGO TRIBUNE's Golden Gloves tournament in Chicago late this month.

The championships were fought in the Journal and Courier's sectional meet here tonight. When the smoke of battle cleared and 2,500 spectators had finished cheering it was discovered that gridiron heroes of Purdue and Jefferson High school had carried away most of the honors.

Sigmund Grecius, hefty guard of the Purdue teams of 1926, 1927, and 1928, won the heavyweight championship, and the big boy can sock with either hand. He also has picked up considerable knowledge of fisticuffs and is going to make it interesting for those coal miners, brakemen, butcher boys, and machinists who are coming from all parts of the middle west to fight for THE TRIBUNE's Golden Gloves.

Purdue Boy Wins Title.

L. R. Harvey, a member of Purdue's freshman team of last fall, won the light heavyweight title. Harvey captured his preliminary skirmishes so impressively he won by default in the championship round. He will let somebody know they have been in a scrap before he permits a TRIBUNE

South Section Prep Teams Plan Semi-Finals Surprise

The five members of the City High School league which play their schedules out on the far south side again have something in store for the other members of the league. The south section has always played the rôle of a small brother in the preseason calculations of fans in the central, north, and west divisions. The attitude of these has been that the south section was all right in its own territory, but that it couldn't quite compete with the other sections when it came to city championships.

Each year the south section representative in any of the league semi-finals has always reversed that impression. And, though the south section team lost, the winners always carried away the conviction that the game was their hardest of the year. The latest example of this was the Schurz-Parker semi-final football game, when the champions to be received the scare of their young lives, and later admitted as much, after snatching victory from the south siders in the last minutes of play.

Two Teams Undefeated.

The south section basketball teams this year are no exceptions, and other sectional fans will do well to include them in any title reckoning. Two of the teams, the Morgan Park heavies and the Calumet lights, have records of six victories and no defeats. Both the Bowen heavies and lights are in second place and the two leaders will be pressed to stop them again in their second meetings.

Coach Bernard Peterson of Morgan Park has the problem of keeping his heavies in first place and of bringing his lights out of last place. It's a unique spot for a Morgan Park lightweight team, since they were in the city semi-finals four years in a row until last year.

The heavies lost a fine guard in Frank Henke, who was graduated in midyear, but the other regulars remain. They are Capt. John Handbury and Dick Kephart, both rated among the best shots in the section, at forwards; John Rankaitis at center, and Bob Penson, Ray Janus, Ed Havey, and Ed Clauter guards.

No Letter Men on Lights.

The lightweights were handicapped in that no letter men returned. The team lines up as follows: Gilbert Krause and Dick Hudson, forwards; Jack Wright, center, and Pete Howard and Herb Ganner guards.

The Calumet lightweights, coached for the second year by George Boyle, turned in a good practice record of ten won and five lost, and will be heard from ere the city final is reached. The team is fortunate in more ways than one. They didn't lose any players by graduation, and then there's Earl Keth, 6 feet 3 inches tall, the tallest lightweight center in the league. Roy Quanstrom and William Commerford are the forwards, while Capt. Howard Schneider and Ray Marpool are at the guard positions. Bill Ivan and Stanley Lindahl also break into the box scores frequently.

Sets Season's Record.

Both Bowen teams, coached by Clarence Applegran, former Illini star, are rated the most dangerous in their respective divisions. The heavies have lost but one game, and that to Morgan Park by 5 points on the latter's floor. The team has one of the most consistent scorers in city league history in Bill Haarlow, and he's only a sophomore at that. He scored nine baskets and three free throws in one game. Morgan Park held him to two baskets, but he dropped in ten free throws in the same game for a season record.

Fenger Loses Three Regulars.

Coach Wesley Fotch of Fenger was the hardest hit by graduation, losing three heavyweight regulars. They were Roy Johnson, center, and Ed Balcer and Helze Benson, guards. Howard Dekker, lightweight forward, also was lost via the diploma route. The heavies line up this way: Heavies, Art Swanson and Capt. Jerry Greek, forwards; Bill Bellenga, center, and Humphreys and Matimasovic, guards. Charles Resan, Abe Mer, Bob Sloan, and Capt. Gottlieb Schoenwald are the lightweights.

Coach Nato Wasserman of Parker had the least amount of heavyweight material of any coach in the city. Harry Birge, captain, and forward is a sub from last year's team, while the others, John Archbold, forward; Paul Noftsker, center, and Walter Karlbloom and Albert Long, guards, had no previous experience. The only substitute, William La Pedus, is a deaf-mute and had never played until this year. The team surprised Wasserman however, by defeating Calumet and giving both Morgan Park and Bowen battles.

The lightweights are led by Bill Snyder, one of the best basket shooters among the ponies. Art Dietrich is the other forward, while James Maney handles the center duty and Theodore Armsbury and George Butusov are the guards.

COCHRAN DIVIDES WITH REISELT, BUT SHOWS GAIN

New York, Feb. 5.—(AP)—Welker Cochran of Hollywood, former 18-2 balk line billiard champion, registered a slight gain over Otto Reiselt of Philadelphia in their three cushion match today, although they divided the fifth and sixth blocks.

Cochran won the afternoon block, 50 to 40, in 50 innings, but Reiselt took tonight's meeting, 54 to 50, in 44 innings. The division brought them to the halfway mark of the match with Cochran leading, 300 to 276.

Gar Wood's Yacht Sinks After Explosion; One Hurt

Miami, Fla., Feb. 5.—(AP)—The Gar Senior, fast cruiser of Gar Wood, speedboat enthusiast, sank in Seybold canal here tonight after an explosion had torn the stern from the craft and set it afire. Two men who were working in the engine room escaped, one with minor injuries.

Waukegan High Swim Teams Sink Deerfield

Waukegan High school swimming teams defeated Deerfield at Waukegan last night. The seniors won, 50 to 39, and the juniors triumphed, 43 to 14. Hussey was the individual star for the senior winners, while Woertz was high scorer for the junior winners.

FLAG WINNERS' HOLDOUT FEVER PASSES UP CUBS

Only Two Bruins Remain Unsigned.

BY IRVING VAUGHAN.

A pennant winning achievement usually brings on an epidemic of holdouts the following spring, but the Cub officials seem to have escaped. Only two signed documents are missing. This was the information divulged by William Veeck, club president, upon his return yesterday from the leagues schedule meeting in New York.

Veeck also brought back the information that the deal launched last December with the idea of bringing a seasoned catcher to the league champions had been abandoned.

The Cubs were willing, even anxious, to go through with the transaction, but the club owning the man wanted by Chicago decided if he was good enough for the Cubs he was good enough to keep. The name of the player and the club to which he belongs are not known, but there is a suspicion that the Boston Braves were concerned.

Hope for Trade Fades.

The present indication is that the Cubs at this late date will not be able to steam up and consummate a deal with any other club in the league. This means McCarthy will have to go into camp with four catchers, only one of whom is a certainty. This one is Zack Taylor. If Hartnett's arm comes back everything will be satisfactory in the backstopping department, but Gabby's status will be a matter of doubt until he has engaged in a week or so of strenuous outdoor throwing. Just now the trick wing appears sound, but it hasn't been tested under actual battle conditions.

The two Cubs who haven't responded to the contract offers submitted a month ago are not classed as holdouts. Veeck hasn't even heard from one of them. When an athlete keeps quiet about his contract it means he has no kick to register. He simply is slow. The other man now outside the fold wrote to headquarters that he wasn't satisfied with the salary named and would come to Chicago shortly for a conference.

Small Advance Squad.

Everybody slated to leave for the Catalina camp with the battery contingent a week from Tuesday noon is in the fold, so the missing documents must be held by fellows like Cuyler, Stephenson, English, or Grimm.

So many Cub athletes are living in California that the early squad leaving Chicago will not number more than a dozen. Root, Malone, Moss, Walsh, and Teachout will join in Los Angeles. Guy Bush is thinking of going there a week ahead of the getaway from here.

Wendell Phillips Cagers Win Twice from Bowen

The light and heavyweight teams of Wendell Phillips of the central section of the City league triumphed over Bowen of the south zone on the former's court yesterday. They were practice games. The heavies won, 27 to 19, and the lights, 24 to 13. Hunter featured for the winning lights, scoring five baskets, and Bray, with five baskets and two free throws, starred for the heavies.

Omaha Sees Basketball Without Tipoff; Likes It

Omaha, Neb., Feb. 5.—(AP)—Local basketball fans, who last night saw Missouri and Creighton play the first half of their basketball game without using a tipoff at center, voted in favor of abolishing the tipoff, A. A. Schabinger, Creighton coach and athletic director, announced following a tabulation today.

Babe Ruth's Auto Stolen in St. Petersburg Street

St. Peterburg, Fla., Feb. 5.—(AP)—Babe Ruth's roadster was stolen here today. The car was left on a downtown street by Mrs. Ruth, and when she returned to get the automobile it was gone.

Crisler Leads Candidates for Gopher Grid Job?

Reports persisted yesterday that H. O. [Fritz] Crisler, assistant coach at the University of Chicago, soon will be named successor to Dr. C. W. Spears as head coach of football at the University of Minnesota.

FRITZ CRISLER.

News dispatches from Minneapolis reduced the candidates for the position to Crisler and Bernie Bierman of Tulane, a Minnesota alumnus. President Lotus D. Coffman of Minnesota was said to have studied the records of both applicants yesterday and would make a decision soon.

Mr. Crisler, who was sought by Minnesota at the time Bill Spaulding resigned to accept an offer from the University of California, southern branch, said last night that he had submitted the terms under which he would take the Minnesota post. He would not admit, however, that he had definite word of his appointment. He said there would be an announcement in a day of two.

President Coffman refused to confirm or deny rumors that Crisler would lead the Gophers next season. He told THE TRIBUNE he had "nothing to say."

"Would you deny that Mr. Crisler is to be your choice?" he was asked.

"I have nothing to say," he repeated.

ELDER TIES FIFTY YARD DASH MARK AT CINCINNATI

Cincinnati, O., Feb. 5.—(AP)—Jack Elder, Notre Dame track and football star, ran the 50 yard dash in five and two-fifths seconds here tonight on the indoor track at St. Xavier college to win from Robert Brand, St. Xavier; Jack Mahony, St. Xavier, and Dick Mahony, Notre Dame, who finished in that order. Elder's time of :05 2-5 tied the national intercollegiate indoor record for the distance.

TILDEN LOSES TO "EASY VICTIM" IN RIVIERA TENNIS

CANNES, France, Feb. 5.—(AP)—Big Bill Tilden, American tennis champion, was beaten today by F. G. Peters, sixth ranking British player, in one of the biggest upsets ever witnessed on the Riviera. The match was decided in straight sets at 9-7, 8-6.

Tilden attributed his downfall to overconfidence and failure to keep his mind on the game.

"If I played negligently," he remarked, "it was because my mind was on bridge."

Columbia's Stalling Game Nips Dartmouth, 33 to 32

Hanover, N. H., Feb. 5.—(AP)—Columbia basketball team defeated Dartmouth tonight, 33 to 32, in an Eastern Intercollegiate league game, holding a precarious one point lead in the last minute with Bill McCall, Dartmouth forward, on a scoring rampage, the Lions took to stalling and the game ended in a general mêlée under the Green basket.

Midwicks Enter Polo Final; Beat Hurricanes, 11 to 10

Los Angeles, Cal., Feb. 5.—(AP)—In an overtime contest marked by fast, hard riding, the Midwick polo team today edged out the New York Hurricanes, 11 to 10 to advance to Sunday's final in the Pacific coast open championship. The Los Angeles quartet will be opposed by an invading Argentine aggregation.

Pladner Beats Boddington in 12 Round Paris Fight

Paris, Feb. 5.—(AP)—Spider Pladner, former flyweight champion of France, defeated Arthur Boddington, British bantam, on points in a 12 round bout here tonight.

Champaign, Ill., Feb. 5.—[Special.]—Illinois handed the University of Chicago basketball team its fifth consecutive Western conference defeat in a drab game here tonight, 28 to 25. The Illini, hampered by the loss of three squad members, took advantage of weakness in the Maroon play and led at half time, 15 to 13.

Capt. Mills and Bur Harper, Illini guards, led the scoring with nine points each. Bob Bartholomew, substitute Illini forward, scored three times from the field. Paul Stephenson led the Maroon attack with four field goals.

Play Listless Game.

Although both teams played rather listlessly during the first half, the Illini controlled the play most of the time. Two free throws by Bur Harper and a field goal by Bartholomew put Illinois into the lead in the first three minutes of play, but a field goal and free throw by Fish and two more free throws by Capt. Changnon sent the Maroons into the lead five minutes later.

The lead changed hands five times before Capt. Mills sent the Illini to the dressing room with a two point margin.

Harper Breaks Tie.

Boesel, Chicago center, tied the score a minute after the start of the second period, but Harper shot two baskets in quick succession, and from this time on Chicago was never able to maintain the pace.

This was the third victory for Illinois in four starts. Lineup:

REDS' 2 TRADES NET DUROCHER AND M'WEENY

New York, Feb. 5.—(AP)—Cincinnati's Reds of the National league today drew on clubs of Greater New York for two players, surrendered one, and promised to deliver another later. The transfer of Leo Durocher, flashy fielding shortstop but light hitter, was effected by the Yankees to the Reds for an unannounced sum of money and an unidentified player. The Cincinnati player, however, is not expected to join the Yankees, but will be used to pay an obligation the club owes in the Pacific Coast league.

Cincinnati gave Adolfo Luque, veteran Cuban pitcher, to Brooklyn in an even trade for Douglas McWeeny, a big pitcher with a world of stuff, but weak last year in control.

The trade between Cincinnati and Brooklyn involves two pitchers who were ineffective last year. Luque, the only Cuban player in the majors, is nearing 40 years of age, but still is a smart, resourceful pitcher. McWeeny, who is only 31 years old, is a big fellow who had a good year in 1928, but never could get started in 1929.

Dan Howley, manager of the Reds, has moved to the National from the American league and the addition of Durocher marks the third American league player to go with him. The others, Bob Meusel of the Yankees, and Harry Heilmann of Detroit, are expected to strengthen the Red's outfield.

FLYNN, LOYOLA BASKET STAR, RULED INELIGIBLE

On the eve of their eastern invasion the basketball team of Loyola university was dealt a considerable blow following an announcement yesterday by Daniel Lamont, director of athletics, declaring Tommy Flynn, star forward, ineligible for further athletic competition this semester.

Flynn failed to maintain the necessary scholastic average in the mid-term examinations.

The loss of Flynn is a severe blow to the Rambler quinet, as he was one of the mainstays.

This was Flynn's first season on the Loyola squad and he already has developed into one of the best defensive players Loyola has had, besides being one of the leading scorers on the team.

Just who Coach Sachs will use in Flynn's stead the remainder of the season is problematical. John Smith and John Durburg loom as the most logical choices.

The Ramblers are slated to leave Chicago tomorrow night for the first trip to the Atlantic coast any Loyola team ever has made.

ZEBRA AND ZIDA, ZEV'S DAUGHTERS, WIN N. O. RACES

Victory of Royal Omar Pays 73 for 1.

New Orleans, La., Feb. 5.—(Special.)—Zebra and Zida, daughters of the great Zev, upheld the reputation of their illustrious sire today speeding over the Fair Grounds oval to win the first and fourth races, respectively. Zida's victory came in the Krass Company, Ltd., $1,200 allowance purse.

Zebra scored in the $1,000 claiming race for two year olds over three furlongs, an event that started the day's racing.

Jockey Steffen was up in each instance.

Zida went into an early lead and then won the six furlong sprint in a driving finish. F. F. Brandt's well backed Ell-Weir staged a sensational finish, but was a neck short of first money while Lightning Jones weakened in the final drive, pulling up third. Zida was the odds-on favorite, paying $3.80 for a $2 straight ticket and shortest price possible to place and show, $2.10.

Royal Omar, a seven year old son of the Kentucky Derby winner, Omar Khayyam, handed the form players a jolt when he won the sixth race and paid $146.90 for a $2 investment.

RIDERS ARRIVE THIS MORNING FOR 6 DAY RACE

The six day bicycle riders who will compete in Chicago's 23d international grind will arrive here from New York this morning. In the party will be all the riders, with the exception of the four Chicago boys along with the trainers. The riders have been training in the east for a month while the majority of the foreign riders have been in active competition in Europe. The riders will stay at the Morrison and expect to have a couple of road workouts before the race starts Sunday night.

Saturday night there will be a program of professional, motor paced and amateur races. The main race will be a five mile motor paced match in which Franz Deulberg of Germany will battle Alfred Letourner of France. The race will be decided the best two in three heats.

Letourner and Deulberg will be paced by Jimmy Hunter and Charley Stein, who will travel between forty and fifty miles an hour.

TRAINING'S OVER; JACK'S FIGHTERS READY FOR BELL

Chastain Meets Ebbets in Coliseum Ring.

The assorted bone crushers slated to display themselves on Jack Dempsey's card tomorrow night at the Coliseum yesterday completed what is known among the trade as strenuous training. They met this requirement by going through the usual sessions of glove wielding, and, as no ears or teeth were knocked from their anchorages, the exhibition tomorrow is certain to be carried out as originally planned.

The only doubtful matter remaining is the attendance, which is of more than ordinary concern to Promoter Dempsey, who, since taking up the task of perpetuating the art of flattening noses, has several times been forced to use red ink in the ledger.

No Return Bout Is Promise.

Although two ten round bouts are supposed to be the real attraction, there is more than passing interest in the engagement between George Trafton, the football behemoth, and Battling Criss. Trafton is the only fellow boasting a win over Art Shires the Retired. Criss would have fought Shires if charges of "shadiness" hadn't canceled the bout. They will be given four rounds tomorrow night to prove which is the worse fighter. Both have promised, in the interests of boxing, not to demand a return match.

Harry Ebbets and Clyde Chastian principals in the feature ten rounder went through their last strenuous workouts at Barry's gymnasium. Ebbets boxed six rounds, using Danny Gasparo and Pep Justo as sparmates. Time and again the blonde easterner brought a short right cross into play during the going with his sparring partners, and gym habitues who watched him went away satisfied that he is more than a threat for the middleweight title.

Medill Meets Myers.

Chastian stepped around Georgie Kerwin and Jimmy Owens for five stanzas. Ebbets probably will outweigh Chastian three pounds when the two weigh in tomorrow.

Neither Joey Medill or Spug Myers will encounter any trouble making weight. Both Joey and Spug tipped the beams under the required 146 pound mark after their workouts yesterday. This bout between Medill and Myers will be the third, the former winning hairline decisions both times. They are billed for ten rounds in the semi-windup.

A pair of six rounders and a four comprise the balance of the show. King Levinsky, Maxwell street fish peddler with the kayo wallop, will swap blows with Chick Rife. They meet at 175 pounds and are scheduled for six stanzas. Walter Madey and Jackie Williams, heavyweights, clash in the other six rounder. Danny Gaspuro and Kayo Franklin, 170 pounders, open the show with a four canto affair.

Boston Bruins Plan Trip to Coast for Hockey Game

Boston, Mass., Feb. 5.—(AP)—The Boston Bruins' management announced today that its hockey team, regardless of its success in the championship playoffs, may make a postseason trip to the Pacific coast and play in San Francisco and several other California cities.

In the WAKE of the NEWS

POT-FOURRI.

DECISION of the state athletic commission in the Carnera-Rioux farce was not different from conclusions reached by The Wake. Our opinion, if you recall, was that "Primera" was not party to a "fix," else the scene would have been better presented and that Rioux, either through fear or lack of courage, was looking for the easiest opportunity to take a dive. The commission fined the latter the limit allowed by the boxing law and suspended him from further appearance here.

Conclusions of the athletic commission and The Wake were not those of some other boxing critics, for whose opinion we have respect, that "Primera" or his entourge had advance knowledge a dive would take place. At any rate, Rioux will not soon, if ever, appear again in a Chicago arena.

If we had paid $5.99 for a seat, we'd feel we just about got our money's worth, not from the windup, but from the preliminaries and the sight of Carnera in ring togs, although we have no more idea now of his ring capabilities than we had before.

Here's a tip for motorists touring to or from Florida: If you put your car into a garage en route for greasing, change of oil or any repairs, inquire in advance what the work will cost. Most service stations are honest, but there also are "gyps." We have just received word that at St. Augustine, Fla., the family bus was left in the service station of a nationally known manufacturer for greasing, change of oil and washing. Charges—$35. Why stand the holdup? Well, hotel and legal charges to recover your car would cost more than $35.

Whether or not the groundhog saw his shadow, the baseball season opens in less than ten weeks.

Voice from Purdue.

Wake: Now every one can relax. The severe strain under which Loyola labored is at an end. The unbeatable five has been defeated by Purdue. And, Harve, after all, the unjust publicity given Coach Piggy Lambert, isn't it poetic justice that Loyola in the second half, when it made its best showing, voluntarily shifted to the "man-to-man" defense, which Lambert was supposed to have requested. Purdue teams do not ask favors from opponents—they don't need to. Purdue Eddie.

Washington of E. Chicago Whips Roosevelt, 36-24

Barrens Hide Sand Cranes, but Bob Peeks

BY BOB BECKER.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Punta Gorda, Fla., Feb. 5.—Thanks to the isolation and the preserving influences of the lonely and virtually uninhabited barren lands some thirty-five miles east of this little town, there still exist a number of sand hill cranes in this section.

It is worth a trip into these silent southern wastes against a semi-tropical setting [comparable in many ways to the Michigan barrens, because both offer refuge to wild life] just to hear the trumpeting of the cranes when you disturb them on feeding grounds.

Sight Long Horned Cattle.

We discovered these lonesome looking prairie lands a couple of days ago when Kelly Day, a resident here, piloted us on a rough ride and hike beyond the pine timber into the open country. We covered miles of the flat, grassy prairie, barren of houses, cultivation, hard roads, or railroads. Herds of thin, fierce looking, long horned cattle dotted the grassy plains and we saw one bunch of ugly razorback hogs grubbing around a clump of palmettos, but for the most part the barrens belong to the birds. And what a treat these lands are for the bird fan!

We heard the trumpeting of the sand hill cranes before we saw them. These weary birds, from 40 to 45 inches in length, of brownish gray plumage, except for a patch of red-dish skin covering the top of the head, find these lonely prairies an ideal home. They like the burned-over areas, the sloughs, the ponds, and the thousands of acres of grass found in this flat country.

Cranes Complain Musically.

So shy and wary are these birds that we could not get within a half mile of them. On our approach they began to complain in musical blasts and then took to the air. The whoopers [as cranes here are called] are the feathered kings of the prairie barrens. Only one bird, the big stork, or wood ibis, can challenge them as far as size goes.

Hawks Pit Speed Against Maroons' Power Tonight

BY HARLAND ROHM.

Still tied for second place by grace of the New York Americans' victory over the Rangers, the Blackhawks open a series of five games at the Stadium tonight, with the Montreal Maroons as their opponents. The Maroons are leading the Canadian division of the league.

On paper the big, bruising Montreal team rates far stronger than the Chicagoans, yet the Hawks have won both earlier games between the two teams. Both were identical, 4 to 3, and in each case the Hawks won in the waning minutes.

Except for Earl Miller, whose collar bone, fractured six weeks ago, has mended sufficiently so he likely will take the ice in the next game, the Hawks will have their full strength tonight. Vic Ripley, center, who has been slightly ill all season, which has reflected in his play, has improved with a rest, and the others have no injuries despite the strenuous road trip just finished.

The Maroons may have one handicap, as Clint Benedict, their veteran goalkeeper, isn't likely to play. Flat Walsh, another veteran, will replace him.

Nels Stewart, huge center, is the leading goal getter in the Canadian division of the league, while the Maroons have two other star centers in Hooley (presumably short for Hooligan) Smith and Soo Bill Phillips. Phillips' first name is extended, as the Maroons boast two Bill Phillips on their squad, the second having been bought from Vancouver a short time ago. Then there are the pugnacious Babe Siebert, Dave Trottier, Dutton Munro, Wilcox, Boucher, and Jimmy Ward, who are stars in their own right.

MAJESTICS PLAY CUYLER'S PONTIAC QUINTET TONIGHT

Kiki Cuyler, Cubs' fleet outfielder, will make his annual invasion of Chicago's basketball courts when he brings his Pontiac, Mich., quintet to the Broadway armory tonight to meet the Majestics. Pontiac is a member of the National Professional league, while the Majestics rank as one of the best teams in the metropolitan district.

The May and Malone girls team, one of the strongest in the city, will meet the Racine, Wis., team in a preliminary game, which will start at 8 o'clock. The Cuyler game will begin an hour later.

The tournament here has been one of the most successful conducted throughout the five states of the middle west. The big armory was packed on both nights, and about 5,000 in all watched the amateurs. The Lafayette team selected tonight follows:

MIDDLEWEIGHT CLASS—J. E. Campbell, Purdue athlete, a red haired kid. Went after his two opponents tonight as if he got most of his pleasure out of life by punching an opponent in the jaw.

WELTERWEIGHT CLASS—Elmer [The Dago] Swick, Half back on the Jefferson High school football team. Seemed to be having a friend in the title match and carried him along to the third round before opening up. Then he knocked his foe down four times in a minute and a half.

BANTAMWEIGHT CLASS—Gilbert Goldsberry, football player at Jefferson High. Can hit, but hasn't much of a defense. Says he will bring a defense and his punch to Chicago.

FLYWEIGHT CLASS—Bernard Silverman, student at Purdue. Upset the dope when he whipped Jimmy Fiddler, Jefferson High school lad, in a four round overtime battle. The spectators from Purdue and from Jefferson High almost staged a battle royal after the decision was announced.

MARTIN DEFEATS CONGER, EDWARDS IN NEWARK RACE

Barbuti Finishes Last in All Three Sprints.

New York, Feb. 5.—[Special.]—A new foreign track star catapulted himself into prominence tonight as Dr. Paul Martin, veteran of Switzerland, took the measure of Ray Conger and Phil Edwards in the 1,000 yard invitation run, one of the features of the tenth annual Newark A. C. meet at the Newark armory.

To the utter amazement of a crowd of 4,000 that expected a renewal of the duel between Edwards and Conger, Dr. Martin, an 800 meter semi-finalist for Switzerland in the last Olympic games, conquered the American and the Canadian in one of the greatest upsets of the 1930 season.

Furth Equals Record.

There were witnessed many fine exhibitions. Sol Furth of New York university equaled the world's 70 yard low hurdles records. Joe McCluskey of Fordham defeated Gus Moore by 50 yards in the sparkling time of 9:25 2-5 for two miles. Eddie Roll captured the Newark 500 in near record time, and Ray Barbuti, Olympic 400 meter champion, in his first race since he captured the international crown, ran fifth and last in every heat of the sprint series.

Martin's Spirit Wins.

With a half lap to go Conger and Martin sprinted. Martin passed Edwards on the final turn and finished a dozen yards in front in the brilliant time of 2:15 2-5. Conger nipped Edwards at the tape for second place.

Barbuti's debut as a sprinter was not auspicious. He finished last, trailing, at 50 yards; tore his blocks from their moorings and ran not a foot in the 60 yard test and was last by eight yards in the 70 yard event.

CHICAGO STOCK TRADING ACTIVE; PRICES HIGHER

Investment Issues Set Pace for List.

BY THOMAS FURLONG.

Utility shares swung into line with the investment issues and advanced to higher ground in the trading session on the Chicago Stock exchange yesterday.

Automotive stocks were steady, but the majority of gains recorded were of the fraction class. Trading was fairly active with transactions approximating 247,000 shares.

National Securities Investment issues and Corporation Securities set the pace. National Security common and certificates improved 3½ and 1¼ points, respectively, while the Insull holding firm, Corporation Securities, spurted 2 to close at close to 68. Continental Chicago on heavy sales gleaned more than a point, and Insull Utility pushed its way forward for an even point.

Cities Service, American Commonwealth Power A were the leaders among the utilities, each registering gains of a point or more. Middle West with sales of more than 27,000 shares was far out in front in the point of volume, but the price was only fractionally changed at the finish.

Plan Special Meeting.

Missouri Kansas Pipe Line on sales of 2,200 shares dropped back a fraction to 22. Stockholders will be notified of a special meeting within a few days to consider several changes in the firm's capitalization. The plans call for the elimination of the present preferred stock and the authorization of a class B common which will share in control and dividends with the class A common.

Automotive shares were steady with Bendix and Borg Warner each advancing a fraction to close at 41. Auburn fluctuated within a 5 point range but closed unchanged.

At the regular weekly meeting of exchange governors a resolution was passed providing for a minimum commission of $5 on transactions involving $200 or more, except in cases of shares selling for less than $1. On transactions involving less than $200 the minimum commission shall be $3. Under the resolution commissions on all bond transactions shall not be less than $2.50. At the present time the minimum commission on all stock transactions is $5 and on bonds $2. The new rule becomes effective after being posted for a week.

New Exchange Members.

Harvey T. Hill, assistant to the president of the exchange, stated yesterday that 100 memberships have changed hands since Sept. 5, 1929, when the governors voted a seat dividend of 100 per cent. Members now number 330, with 140 members still holding two seats. The newest members are Thomas G. Wheelock of Chicago and Joseph Mattison of New York.

The price of the last seat transferred was $30,000, according to Mr. Hill. At the present time 44 seats are offered, it was stated.

Formal approval was given to listing of $27,400 additional shares of Insull Utility Investments, Inc.

AUTO INDUSTRY IS PERKING UP; CHRYSLER GAINS

Willys Tells Hoover of Prospects.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

New York, Feb. 5.—News from the motor industry today was of a more cheerful character. Several units reported extraordinary January shipments and the general tone of statements was such as to encourage confidence in the future.

January shipments of Chrysler built passenger cars, trucks, buses, and commercial vehicles show an increase of more than 50 per cent over December with orders calling for still further increases in production in February. Retail sales are continuing their steadily progressive gains each week over the previous week's figures, last week's sales to the public of Chrysler products being 18 per cent higher than the week previous.

Dodge passenger car shipments in January totaled 8,700; De Soto, 4,407; Chrysler lines, including the 66, 70 and 77 and Imperial, 2,242; Plymouth, 1,586; Dodge trucks, buses, and motor coaches, 1,489, and Fargo commercial vehicles, 313.

Marmon Shipments Rise.

January shipments of Marmon and Roosevelt automobiles were the largest of any January in history of Marmon Motor Car company, President Williams said today, adding the outlook for the current month was equally bright. C. J. Shearer, treasurer, was elected a vice president and a director; E. C. Badger was appointed treasurer, and J. W. Anderson named general works manager.

The outlook for the automobile industry is brighter than it has been for several months, H. J. Mellum, secretary of the Nash Motor company, told stockholders at the annual meeting today.

Sales at retail were steadily increasing. He added: "Our sales at the New York automobile show were 7 per cent greater than they were last year. The reflex from the Chicago show is somewhat better than it was a year ago. On the whole, I consider the situation quite cheerful." All directors were reelected.

Hoover Hears Prospects.

John N. Willys, chairman of the board of the Willys-Overland company, told President Hoover in Washington today the automobile industry now expects to produce 500,000 more automobiles in 1930 than in the previous year.

Willys was accompanied to the White House by Senator Fess of Ohio. The manufacturer said the automobile business this year would be as good from the standpoint of profits as it was last year, because the depression which followed the stock market decline had caused drastic cuts in overhead charges.

The sales of automobiles, he said, has been picking up rapidly within the last thirty days and the production of all automobile plants in the country should reach capacity within two months.

Dismisses Receivership Application for Radio Co.

Paterson, N. J., Feb. 5.—(AP)—Application for a receiver for the De Forest Radio corporation was today dismissed by Vice Chancellor Lewis, who declared he found the company "did not owe a dollar and was in a flourishing condition of growth." The vice chancellor stated the petition, brought by H. C. Vorhoff, offered no substantial proof that stockholders were in danger of losing money they had invested.

Foshay Receivers Sell Dixie Power Co. of Utah

New York, Feb. 5.—(AP)—The Dixie Power company of Cedar City, Utah, has been sold to the North American Electric and Gas company for $1,175,000 by the receivers for the Foshay companies, which recently were petitioned into bankruptcy.

Joint Stock Land Bank Issues Shrink Heavily

BY SCRUTATOR.

Some interesting things have happened to the investments that were made by the public, including many persons of small means, in the stocks and bonds of the joint stock land banks.

As for the 650 million dollars, par, of bonds issued up until the end of 1928, the purchasers had a loss on them early last summer, at market prices, that exceeded 100 millions. This despite the fact that the bonds had been referred to in the law creating the federal farm loan system as "instrumentalities of the government."

An offer was made yesterday, informally, by a dealer in these securities, to obtain for any one who wanted them joint stock land bank bonds, engraved with this phrase, to the amount of a half million dollars—at a price of 25 per cent of the par value. These, of course, are the paper of the more distressed banks. A few of the half hundred still in existence, among them one in Chicago, have their bonds selling at figures that are not tremendously off from face value.

Sell Far Below Par.

Stocks of the joint stock land banks, except in isolated instances, are selling far below par. From May, 1927, to May, 1929, there was a shrinkage in value of fourteen million dollars for the stockholders of twelve of these institutions.

Two of the large banks, one at Kansas City and the Bankers of Milwaukee, are in receiverships. The protective committee of the stockholders of the former institution holds that the government is morally responsible both to the stockholders and the bondholders for their investment and should find a way to let them out with their capital intact.

The Kansas City bank had capital of $3,800,000 and had issued bonds of about forty-four millions before the receivership was put into effect in May, 1927. It had outstanding loans on farm lands of forty-six millions. A member of the protective committee yesterday displayed a federal farm board report, dated only thirty-five days before the receivership, showing that the book value of the bank's shares was $126 each.

It is the contention of this and similar organizations that the purchases of both stocks and bonds of these institutions were made only because of the well founded belief that the government itself was standing behind them. The Kansas City bank had 375 stockholders in New York, 44 in Connecticut, and 200 in Ohio. On the stock lists were residents of thirty-seven states. It is argued that these persons would not have gone into the banks unless they had been convinced of the actual support of the government in keeping them from loss.

Feel Relief Warranted.

The law creating the farm loan system specified that all loans and the appraisals on which they were based must be approved by the federal farm loan board. This was done. The supervision was so close that some bankers were quoted as saying that the officers of the joint stock banks, although nominally the choice of the stockholders, were merely clerks.

Joint stock land banks and the federal land banks were formed to give the farmer money at a reasonable rate, a function which they fulfilled. Patriotic appeals were made and the safety and desirability of the land securities were urged by officials. Investors bought the bonds with a return barely above 4½ per cent. The buyers feel that the government enticed them in on the plea of extreme safety, that if its agents had functioned properly there would have been no severe losses, and as they did not, congress should grant legislation that will save them.

EXPECT SLASH TODAY IN BANK RATE AT LONDON

New York, Feb. 5.—(AP)—Advices from London indicated that a reduction in the British bank rate tomorrow was highly probable.

Wall street banking circles, however, were less confident that the New York reserve bank would immediately follow London, and while a cut in the New York rate tomorrow remains a possibility, there is a growing belief that it may be delayed several weeks.

The cheap money policy of the reserve system in early 1927 has caused so much censure from certain quarters that a more cautious policy may now be followed, it is believed.

STOCKHOLDERS APPROVE PLAN OF OIL SHARES, INC.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

New York, Feb. 5.—Provisions for repurchase of shares of Oil Shares, Inc., of any withdrawing stockholder have been approved by stockholders through an amendment to the charter, effective April 8 and thereafter.

Certificates delivered for withdrawal must represent 500 shares of preferred and 500 common, or multiples of 500 shares. The directors shall determine as of the close of business on the day of such delivery the value of assets; total of liabilities, including contingent liabilities, but excluding capital stock and aggregate value of one share of preferred and one of common.

WOOLWORTH, OTHER CHAIN STORES REPORT HIGHER JAN. SALES

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

New York, Feb. 5.—The statements of six of the seven chain stores reporting today on January sales showed substantial increases compared with the same month of 1929. National Bellas Hess company was the exception to the rule of advancement.

Sales of the F. W. Woolworth company during January amounted to $18,408,152, compared with $17,660,183 in the first month of last year. The increase amounted to 4.2 per cent.

M. H. Fishman, Inc., reports total sales for January of $83,059, as compared with $38,567 for January, 1929, the increase of $44,492 being equal to 115.36 per cent. Bickford's, Inc., for January, 1930, reports gross sales of $408,020, against $427,770.

Sales of the National Shirt Shops in January amounted to $283,865, compared with $243,158 in January last year, an increase of 16.7 per cent. W. T. Grant sales amounted to $5,783,590, an increase of 13.6 per cent over the total of $3,329,489 in January of the preceding year. Waldorf System reports sales of $1,380,179, compared with $1,298,735 in January, 1929, a gain of 6.2 per cent. National Bellas Hess company reports $2,472,673 in sales, against $2,816,533 in January, 1929, a decline of 12.2 per cent.

Week's Calif. Oil Output Shows Slight Increase

New York, Feb. 5.—(AP)—Production of crude oil in California for the week ending Feb. 1 averaged 708,600 barrels daily, an increase of 5,500 barrels over the previous week.

Youngstown Sheet and Tube Reports Net of $21,564,174

New York, Feb. 5.—(AP)—The net income of the Youngstown Sheet and Tube company for 1929 amounted to $21,564,174, equal to $19.53 a share on 1,061,667 average no par shares outstanding during the year and $17.28 a share on 1,200,000 common shares outstanding at the end of the year.

This compares with profits of $10,446,336, or $9.53 a share on 1,000,000 common shares in 1928, after payment of dividends on the 7 per cent preferred stock then outstanding.

Transue and Williams Steel Forging corporation of Alliance, O., reported net earning for 1929 of $425,844, equal to $3.25 a share, as contrasted with $226,142, or $2.26 a share in 1928.

The Endicott Johnson corporation of Endicott, N. Y., reports net earnings of $2,771,563 for 1929, equal to $5.01 per common share, as compared to $3,601,263, of $6.96 a share in 1928.

Sales Higher, Values Lower.

George F. Johnson, president, said that actual shipments of shoes were higher, but a decrease in the market value of hides and shoes resulted in lower prices. "We enter 1930 with an inventory more sound in units of value and quality than for several years past. The opportunity to make a good return on our investment is greater than ever before."

The U. S. Industrial Alcohol company reports earnings for the last half of 1929 of $3,024,806, equal to about $8.10 per common share, compared to $2,377,464 in the like period of 1928. Net profit for the full year totalled $4,720,857, as increased from $2,295,183 for 1928.

Gross earnings of Southern California Edison for the year ended Dec. 31, 1929, amounted to $40,325,465 as compared with $35,281,927 in 1928, an increase of $5,043,537, or 14 per cent. The net earnings after deducting operating expenses and taxes, including provision for income tax, were $27,127,176 in 1929 as compared with $23,486,980 in the previous year, an increase of $3,640,195, or 15 per cent. After fixed charges, the amount remaining for dividends and depreciation amounted to $20,417,020 as against $17,521,053, an increase of $2,895,966.

Equals $3.44 a Share.

After setting aside depreciation, the amount available for stock for 1929 amounted to $15,483,958 as compared with $13,167,905 for 1928. After providing for dividends on preferred stock, the amount available for common stock based on the average number of shares outstanding during the year was equivalent to $3.44 per share on 2,537,942 shares in 1929 as compared with $3.10 per share on 2,205,497 shares in 1928.

The Whiting corporation of Harvey, Ill., foundry equipment manufacturers, reported sales of $331,064 during January compared with $227,374 in January, 1929, a gain of 45.6 per cent. Sales in 1929 exceeded 1928, the previous record year, by 28 per cent.

CHINA'S MONEY CRISIS BECOMES MOST ACUTE

SHANGHAI, Feb. 5.—(AP)—China's currency depreciation crisis became the most acute in the history of Chinese exchange operations today when the Mexican dollar declined to a new low level of 34.1 gold cents.

At today's quotation, the Mexican dollar, widely used unit of exchange in China, was near the low level of three Mexican dollars for one gold dollar.

New York, Feb. 5. — Bear forces raised the white flag early in the struggle on the stock exchange front today. Covering operations developed on a wide scale and prices were lifted to the highest level reached since the autumn break.

The turn overtopped the 4,000,000 share mark for the first time this year, the official total being announced at 4,362,470 shares.

Popular anticipation of a downward revision in bank rates both here and in London tomorrow was the secret of the advance. That London will announce a cut as a sequel to the reichbank reduction is regarded in some well informed quarters as a virtual certainty. Such action undoubtedly

Again we ask

If you are waiting for the right time to invest... how will you know when it comes?

On December 27, 1929, our advertisement under the above heading appeared. Since that time both the stock and bond markets have had a distinctly better tone and in many cases prices have advanced materially.

We did not at that time and we do not now base the argument on the outlook for higher security prices in the immediate future. Over a period of time, good bonds will yield considerably less than they yield right now. Carefully selected common stocks of strong corporations will yield less and be worth more than they are selling for at this time. Possibly prices may go lower sometime in the near future, but most people will not buy securities at the bottom because there is no sure way to know when securities have reached their absolute lows and are ready to start upward. Experience indicates that most of the buying is done after the rise has been under way for some time and the benefit of very low prices is largely gone.

If you have money to invest, this is a good time to place it in high grade securities giving a good return. Your capital will be well employed and will increase over a period of time.

That this is a good time to secure very satisfactory income combined with interesting possibilities of capital appreciation is indicated by the current market level of National Securities Investment Company Preferred Stock Allotment Certificates carrying a bonus of Common Stock and a Warrant to buy additional Common for several years at a price below the current market. These Allotment Certificates are now selling around 88 where they yield approximately 6.80%. The Preferred Stock, based on December 31, 1929 values for securities owned by the Company, had net assets applicable to it of $137 per share. These securities represent holdings in many of the largest and most promising companies in the United States. They have participated in the current stock market improvement.

When you buy these Allotment Certificates you obtain a share of 6% Preferred Stock (parvalue $100), a half share of Common Stock for each share of Preferred, and the Purchase Warrant for an additional half share of Common. Funds that you place in these Certificates are invested in a diversified portfolio, with a large margin of safety and at a rate of return of approximately 6.80%. We recommend the purchase of National Securities Investment Company Allotment Certificates on an investment basis.

TIDE TURNS IN WHEAT AFTER EARLY SPURT

BY CHARLES MICHAELS.

Bullish enthusiasm predominated in the wheat markets early yesterday and prices moved up around 1c on commission house and local buying, the announcement that the Canadian provincial governments would guarantee any advances made by banks to the Canadian Pool having considerable influence.

The upturn brought in profit taking, and later some of the early buyers turned to the selling side and found support lacking, with the close at the bottom with net losses of ¾@1¼c. March finishing at $1.14⅛@1.14⅜, and May $1.18⅝@1.18⅞.

Many traders opened up during the day due to the meeting of the wheat advisory committee with members of the farm board, not knowing what might develop overnight. In the last 15 minutes of trading fairly general liquidation developed which caused a sharp decline. Winnipeg was firm early, but broke rapidly toward the last and closed 1⅝@1¾c lower. Buenos Aires was off 1¼@1⅝c, and Rosario ¾c for the day, while Liverpool finished ½@⅝d higher.

Foreign News Bearish.

News from abroad was not of a character to assist advancing wheat prices in North America. Russia was said to have sold a cargo to the United Kingdom and would offer another while 375,000 bu have arrived at Hamburg unsold. There was little interest shown in North American wheat at the seaboard with sales of only 300,000 bu reported, mainly Manitobas.

Decidedly conflicting reports are being received from time to time regarding the activities of the farm board. Chairman Legge who was in Chicago was credited in a Washington message with saying that the farm board would ask congress for $100,000,000 to $150,000,000 additional to handle the 1930 crops, but denied the statement late in the afternoon.

It is claimed that the board has loaned only $10,000,000 to grain cooperatives so far. The latter continue to take cash wheat at the board's loan basis in the leading markets, and mills were said to be competing with the co-ops at Minneapolis for the high protein content spring wheat.

A marked improvement was indicated in the flour demand in the southwest with export sales during the week of 100,000 bags, the activities of the cooperatives in the cash market there seemingly having little effect, but in the northwest it is said that business has been restricted in consequence. Government weekly weather crop summary was construed as generally favorable.

Corn Eases with Wheat.

Some of the best buyers of corn on Tuesday were on the selling side yesterday and with the late weakness in wheat the market eased and closed ⅝@⅞c lower with March 87⅝@87¾c, and May 91@91¼c. Iowa reports suggested an increased movement, but was expected to be mainly in the way of consignments as purchases to arrive remain small. Shipping sales were 68,000 bu with the spot basis ½c higher to ½c lower. Buenos Aires closed ⅝c lower.

Oats showed fair resistance to pressure from scattered liquidation and selling by cash houses, with the finish unchanged to ¼c lower, March being 44¼c and May 45⅝@45⅝c.

Persistent selling of March rye forced that delivery to a discount of 1c under May at the last, with the close at net losses of 1⅞@2¼c, with March 83c and May 84c. Reports from Germany claimed that country had 75,000,000 bu rye for export.

FINANCIAL NOTES

Directors of the Newport corporation, producers of dyestuffs and industrial chemicals, with plants at Passaic, N. J., and Carrollsville, Wis., have offered stockholders of record Feb. 21 rights to subscribe to additional common stock at $20 a share in the ratio of one new share for each 40 held. The rights will expire March 20. The stock closed yesterday at $27.50 a share on the New York Curb exchange.

A special meeting of stockholders of the S. H. Kress company chain store system has been called for Feb. 28 to vote on a proposal to acquire the John Franklin corporation for 206,700 shares of Kress common stock. The Franklin corporation owners seventy-one stores, about 35 per cent of the number in the Kress chain.

Hunterdon County, N. J., 4½ per cent bonds due 1932-'49 were offered in the amount of $200,000 by H. L. Allen & Co., at 100⅛ and 101⅛ and interest to yield 4.40 per cent.

Transfer books for Armour A and B common stock will be closed for a period of two weeks, beginning Feb. 17, for transfers, but will open for the purpose of exchanging Armour A and Armour B voting trust certificates for A and B common stock.

St. Joseph, Mo., 4 per cent bonds due 1931-'49 are offered in the amount of $500,000 by M. M. Freeman & Co., income at prices to yield 4.35 per cent.

EASTERN BUYING OF LARD

Active buying of lard yesterday credited to eastern and foreign interests, based on the increase of only 5,403,000 lbs, at western packing points during January, which was considered one of the largest manufacturing months of the year, with stocks of 44,732,000 lbs, as compared with 92,141,000 lbs last year, absorbed the offerings which were mostly from scattered interests.

Bellies were sparingly traded in, and declined 7½c. American cut hams and fat backs in Liverpool were 1s lower. Prices follow:

BUTTER PRICES HIGHER

Stimulated by firmer spot prices, March butter futures advanced 1¾c, equal to $210 a car, on the Chicago mercantile exchange. February gained 1c, equal to $192 a car. General trading sentiment seemed to be that price levels were abnormally low and overdue for a rise. Sales were 141 cars and receipts, 9,730 tubs.

February egg futures failed to fully reflect a 3c advance in spot levels and closed ¾c higher, with the settlement at 27¾c about 10c below the spot market. Sales were 83 cars and receipts, 7,750 cases.

Receipts at Chicago today, 6,500 cattle, 45,000 hogs, and 12,000 sheep.

Fully 10@20c of the recent gain in hogs was erased yesterday, with the finish dull and lowest of the day. The extreme top came down 10c at $10.60 and the general average was off 15c at $10.25, but prices are still 20@25c above the close of last week.

Small packers and shippers bought readily at the reduction, but the supply was large enough for immediate requirements and buyers were in control most of the day. An expected decrease in supplies for today brought some of the smaller interests on the market for additional droves in midsession, but 8,000 hogs were still in the pens at the close. Five of the leading markets expect a combined total of 86,000 hogs for today, against 100,000 last Thursday.

Receipts Are Small.

Although the small supply of cattle unloaded yesterday had a tonic effect on the weakened condition of the market, only a few of the "specialties" recovered some of the recent sharp loss. There has been an acute scarcity of well finished steers and yearlings on the market this week and a few of these kinds sold at the highest prices in recent weeks.

One shipment of prime 1,340 lb steers reached $15.50, "equal to the highest for that weight since Jan. 6. Only a small share of total offerings was eligible to more than $14.00, while the inside price on the bulk of sales ranged downwards to $10.75. Some plain 1,350 lb steers sold as low as $11.15 and a load of 1,032 lb averages was obtained at $10.00. Cows and heifers sold on a "catch as catch can" basis. Calves broke $1.00. Stockers and feeders were slow and unchanged.

Lamb Market Uneven.

The few top light lambs available yesterday filled special orders at stronger prices, while others ruled weak to unevenly lower, medium and weighty stock showing the sharpest price cuts again, considering the closer sorting.

Shippers, city butchers and yard traders bought the "cream" of the supply at $12.75@12.90, owing to the scarcity of light and heavy weight lambs. The bulk of the total supply consisted of lambs averaging 90@100 lbs that sold at $11.00@12.25. Some extreme weights were bought as low as $10.00 and odd lots down to $9.50. Aged sheep declined 25c, good ewes selling at $6.50. Yearlings ruled weak to unevenly lower. Feeding lambs were unchanged.

ORE SHIPMENTS.

Grasmeresberg company, controlled by Krenger & Toll company, shipped 9,543,000 metric tons of ore during 1929. Shipments lacked only 147,000 tons of duplicating the record of 1927.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

New York, Feb. 5.—Keen competition featured the sale of $1,000,000 Cuyahoga county, O., road extension bonds today, with eleven bidders in the field. The issue, which matures serially, from 1931 to 1940, is a direct obligation of the county and the first in some time to be legal for investment by savings banks in this state. The award went to the Chase Securities corporation and Stranahan Harris & Oatis, Inc., at their joint bid of 100.819 for the bonds as 4½s. The bankers will offer the bonds at prices to yield 4.40 per cent.

PLAN 4 STORY FLAT BUILDING FOR OAK PARK

Will Go Up at Elmwood and Washington.

BY AL CHASE.

William Reichert has drawn plans for a four story and basement kitchenette apartment building which Dr. Walter A. Code proposes to erect at the southeast corner of Washington boulevard and Elmwood avenue, Oak Park. The structure is to occupy a lot 50x130 feet. Frank Mango is to have the general contract. Work is expected to start on the project in about two weeks.

The three stores at 3340 Bryn Mawr avenue, lot 50x125, were sold by Charles O. Dobroth to Harvey Otter of Tankeetown, Fla., for an undisclosed consideration, subject to an incumbrance of $16,000. Henry H. Brown of R. Dobroth & Co. was broker.

Evanston Deal.

The sale of a two-thirds interest in the fee at 810 Davis street, Evanston, to the Evanston Trust and Savings bank as trustee for an undisclosed buyer was recorded yesterday. This buyer already possessed a third interest in the property. In yesterday's transaction Peter Olson conveyed a third interest and the second third was transferred by the Chicago Title and Trust company to Charles Carroll, who in turn transferred it to the Evanston bank.

In none of the transactions was the consideration disclosed. The ground is 105x200 feet and is improved with a three story building, which houses Rosenberg's—a department store operated by the Wieboldt Department Stores. Smart & Golee and Nels M. Hokanson were brokers.

Roosevelt Road Deal.

Title to the property at the northeast corner of Roosevelt road and Independence boulevard, lot 125x100 feet, has been transferred by Harry W. Silver to Meyer Krom. The land is improved with a three story building containing stores and offices. John C. Farwell was attorney for Mr. Krom.

Jacob and Sarah Weinstein have sold the automobile show room and garage at 3854-56 Roosevelt road to the West Side Trust and Savings bank, as trustee, for an undisclosed consideration, subject to $34,500. The lot is 50x125 feet. Lapkoss & Weinstein were attorneys for the sellers and Lewis & Lewis acted for the buyer.

SALVATION ARMY PURCHASES SITE FOR MEN'S HOME

Plans for a north side center for the collection of donated articles and an industrial home for men have been announced by the Salvation Army in connection with the purchase of the property at 2213 Dominic street, just north of Webster avenue, from George E. White of the White Lumber company.

The ground is 350x100 feet and a part of it is used by the lumber firm. The Salvation Army proposes to develop a receiving center for the collection of waste paper, old clothes, etc., from the north side during the spring. The organization now has centers on the south and west sides.

Later a two story industrial home to accommodate about 100 men will be erected. The property purchased is convenient to railroad switch tracks and the north branch of the river.

CORPORATION EARNINGS

AMERICAN RADIATOR.

Net profit of the company and Standard Sanitary corporation for 1929 was $20,112,171, equal after preferred dividends to $2.02 a share. Net available for dividends of the American Radiator company in 1928 was $13,413,742 and of the Standard Sanitary Manufacturing company $8,869,585, a total of $21,283,327. The American Radiator and Standard Sanitary corporation was formed in March, 1929.

AMERICAN GAS AND ELECTRIC.

The preliminary report of the company for 1929 shows net profits of $21,171,192, equal to $6.11 a share on 3,076,522 no par common shares, as against $18,135,060, or $7.94 a share on 1,984,342 common shares in 1928.

ARIZONA EDISON COMPANY.

Reports gross revenues of $1,765,056 for the year ended Dec. 31, compared with $1,-771,676 for the preceding twelve months. Operating expenses, maintenance and taxes other than federal income tax totaled $963,-351 as against $928,434. Gross income amounted to $801,805, which compares with $643,241 for the year ended December, 1928.

CONSOLIDATED CIGAR.

Reports for the year ended Dec. 31 net profit was $3,314,000, after depreciation, taxes, etc., against $3,613,798 in 1928. The 1929 net profit is equal after subsidiaries and parent company's preferred dividends to $9.51 a share on 250,000 no par shares of common, against $10.60 a share earned in 1928.

CONLEY TANK CAR.

Operated at a profit for the year ended Dec. 31, 1929. A surplus of better than $70,000 will be shown after preferred dividends but before federal taxes. This is an improvement of nearly $100,000 over last year, when a deficit of nearly $30,000 was shown after preferred dividends.

E. F. GOODRICH COMPANY.

Reports net income for the year ended Dec. 31 of approximately $7,400,000. Net sales for the year are estimated at $164,000,000. Inventory of raw materials was valued at cost or market, whichever was lower on Dec. 31, 1929, than a year ago. Operations of Hood Rubber are consolidated in the above results only during the four months' period since Sept. 1, during which it operated as a subsidiary of the Goodrich company.

REPUBLIC PETROLEUM.

Reports net income for the year ended Dec. 31 of $356,435 before depreciation and depletion, equal to $1.03 a share on 344,000 shares of $10 par stock now outstanding, against $316,381, equal to 92 cents a share, in 1928.

NEW YORK AIRBRAKE.

AMERICAN THERMOS BOTTLE.

CONTINENTAL BAKING.

LET'S GET DOWN TO COLD·FACTS ABOUT "WINTER" OILS

A PLAIN STATEMENT OF TRUTH TO EVERY MOTORIST AND FLEET OWNER WHO WISHES TO AVOID MOTOR TROUBLE IN COLD WEATHER

CONTRARY to general opinion, the mere fact that an oil will not congeal at low temperatures does not make it a good lubricant for winter use in Chicago.

That will be apparent when you realize the fact that when your engine is running, the internal heat created by burning gas is terrific, whether in February or in August. Any automotive engineer will tell you that!

Even in zero weather, your motor bearings must often withstand temperatures of over 400° F. Don't run the risk of abusing your engine . . . of incurring an expensive spring overhaul . . . by using an oil which vaporizes as soon as your engine warms up—and many so-called "winter" oils do.

It will be obvious to every thinking motorist that the safest oil for winter use is one that lubricates perfectly at both coldest starting temperatures and highest engine heat.

THIS winter, for the first time, you can buy such an oil—the New Waxfree Havoline, refined by the revolutionary Govers Process—hailed by impartial oil experts as the greatest triumph of the refining industry.

The New Waxfree Havoline is a rich, fluid lubricant even at 5° below zero. It circulates to every bearing at the first touch of the starter, permitting your engine to turn over on the coldest Chicago morning —and when your motor warms up, it is all lubricant—pure, sturdy, oily—withstanding the highest temperatures that will ever be found on any bearing surface—insuring complete protection from frictional wear in the hardest winter going.

Wax in oil, you know, congeals in cold weather causing engine stiffness and excess battery wear. This same wax turns water-thin with heat and has no lubricating value.

BE guided by these facts. Thousands of Chicago motorists have already discovered that waxfree means carefree.

If you want the assurance that your engine is fully protected at all times plus the knowledge that it will always be ready to "go" in the coldest Chicago weather, fill your crankcase with the New Waxfree Havoline—today! A Havoline dealer near you has the correct grade for your car now.

The Ace of Spades

By WILLIAM MACLEOD RAINE

SYNOPSIS.

Jim Rutledge, accompanied by Sim Hart, is sent out with a herd of cattle to fulfill a contract made by his father, Chandler Rutledge. On the trail they are overtaken by some men from the Moss outfit, enemies of Rutledge. The Moss men start a stampede and drive off some of the Rutledge cattle. Jim recovers them, but in doing so shoots and injures one of the Moss raiders. The men of the Moss outfit swear to be revenged for the injury and pursue him. Jim takes refuge in a ranch house, where he finds Ellen Lawson alone in the house. She hides him when the Moss gang comes to the house inquiring for him and sends them off on another trail, even though she learns that he has injured her brother. Jim rides on into the town, after saving Ellen from the unwelcome attentions of Pete Moss. Shear, the town marshal, threatens to arrest him for the attack on Steve Lawson, but Harrison Pendleton, an old trail driver, arrives on the scene in time to save him from arrest. Shortly afterwards, Shear, the marshal, kills Doc Brown, who had threatened his life. This causes a great deal of excitement in the little cattle town.

INSTALLMENT X.

A WORD OF WARNING.

The eyes of the two clashed. Manders made no comment in words.

"Where did they take him?" he asked Pendleton.

"What about Jim here?" Pendleton asked the marshal.

Shear waved that matter aside with a gesture of the hand. He had more important matters on his mind now. Moreover, there was a chance he might need young Rutledge as a witness.

"Take your weapons into Wright's store and check them while you are in town, young fellow," Shear told Jim.

The young man nodded. He would check the rifle, but he had no intention of walking the streets without a revolver well concealed but handy for use.

A man joined the two Texans as they walked away. He was a fairhaired lad in the early twenties. He wore the chaps, hickory shirt, and wide hat of a cowboy.

"Never saw the beat of it," he said, the excitement of what he had just seen still quick in his blood. "Shear is sure chain lightnin' on the draw. Doc pulled first, looked to me. An' at that Shear took time to aim. Then, bingo! All over. Plumb spang through the heart."

"Glad to meet you," the youths murmured in unison, and they shook hands.

"First time I ever saw one of these noted killers in action," Jim said.

"Will you be my foreman, Rutledge?"

"Me too," Jerry replied. "An' I want to tell you I'm ridin' 'round the remuda. Can't any of 'em have a difficulty with Jerry Denver long as his legs are what they are. Say, did you notice how Shear an' Manders gave each other the glare, kinda like two strange dogs sizing each other up? My advice to Mr. Sheriff would be, lay off that guy."

"Is there any trouble between them?" Jim asked.

"I wouldn't say trouble exactly. It's known they don't like each other. Manders runs with the Brown crowd, known to be unfriendly to Shear. Story is they're after his job as marshal. He's been talkin' about closing their place, the Green Parrot. So folks say. Can't prove it by me."

"You'd ought to join an old ladies' sewing circle, Jerry," his employer drawled. "You'd certainly be at the head of the class for gossip. You any good at tatting? Or making crazy quilts?"

"I keep my eyes open," the cowboy said.

"And yore ears. You been in town 'most a day, an' I'll bet my boots you can tell who's going to run for sheriff next time."

"They're gonna run Shear. His crowd is. The other side will back Manders again."

"By jings, he did know. An' I get this encyclopedia of universal knowledge for thirty dollars a month, Jim. Think of that."

"There's no law against you raisin' my wages, Mr. Pendleton," the cowboy intimated.

"If I was hirin' an editor for The Trail News instead of an ornery cow hand I might. Or if you could rope a longhorn with yore tongue, Jerry."

"What about Doc Brown's brothers?" Jim asked. "Are they liable to make trouble?"

"If they've got the guts," Jerry answered promptly. "Me, personal, I've got my doubts. They're vindictive guys. That's their reputation. But Joe Shear has served notice on 'em to leave, an' I don't reckon either Bart Brown or Mart aim to commit suicide yet awhile. One in a family is enough."

Pendleton shook his head mournfully, speaking in a murmur as though to himself. "I'll never be able to keep him for thirty dollars. One of these circus sideshows will grab him off sure as flies stick in molasses."

"What say we go in to the End of the Trail an' wet our whistles?" Jerry proposed.

"Our whistles aren't as dry as yours, Jerry," Pendleton told him. "You run along. I got a few words to say to Jim private."

Jim waited for the older man to open up whatever subject was on his mind. Young Rutledge had a capacity for silence.

"How long is it going to take you to do yore business here, Jim?"

"Can't tell. Be two-three weeks, anyway. Maybe more," Jim said.

"Be mighty careful, boy. I don't know any more ornery outfit than the Moss gang. They'll get you if they can. Better stay in yore own camp. An' when you have to be in town bring some of yore boys with you, good dependable lads that won't go hellin' off an' leave you."

"That's good advice," Jim agreed.

Unfortunately, Jim could not take immediately the advice Pendleton had given him. His riders were with the Circle R herds two days back on the trail. He had ridden ahead to meet the buyer, a young Englishman named Dashe Sackville who had recently stocked a ranch in Wyoming. He was buying the Circle R herds to supply a contract he had made with an Indian agency.

Whether any of the Moss family were here Jim did not know. If they came to town, and nothing was more likely, Shear would be sure to tell them of his presence. The last thing the Circle R driver wanted was trouble. Therefore he kept himself inconspicuous, not frequenting any of the saloons or gambling halls where the outlaws would be likely to congregate.

Sackville was a pleasant and companionable man in the early thirties. He had come to the west because of a predisposition toward consumption. He took a fancy to Jim.

"You seem to know cattle, Rutledge," he said. "Is it a gift? I like the life, but I have had no experience. I'm gullible—haven't cut my eye teeth, as one fellow said after he had sold me a blind horse. I don't suppose, you know, that anybody could saw off on you—that's the odd expression one of my cowboys used—a horse that can't see."

Jim laughed. "No, I don't think he could, Mr. Sackville. But that is no credit to me. I've been brought up with horses and cattle ever since I was born. I know their habits. It's not a gift and it's not brains. My foreman, Sim Hart, knows them better than I do—and in some ways Sim is a lunkhead. He has had more experience. That's all."

Sackville smiled wryly. "Mine is costing me a good deal. I'm a mark for conscienceless scoundrels who can tell a plausible story. They seem to feel I'm fair prey because I'm an Englishman, you know."

"I've noticed that," Jim admitted. "Not with you, but with others from across the water. Better get a good foreman and go slow for a time."

"Will you be that foreman, Rutledge? I'm not satisfied with the man I have. I don't trust him."

"Isn't this rather sudden, Mr. Sackville? You've known me just about six hours, and you've never even seen me with cattle. For all you know I'm bringing our herds in gaunt as wolves and with their tongues hanging out. Maybe I'd better change the order of my advice. Go slow, and get a good foreman."

"I've talked with Mr. Pendleton. He recommends you highly. And, by Jove, I like your looks and your way of talking. I'll be fair with you. If I make money, so will you. They say there's a fortune in cows. Let's find out for ourselves."

Jim was not sure that this would not suit him very well. His father had plenty of other sons to carry on with him. The young man felt he could do better on his own if he had a good chance, and this looked like a very good one. But it was not a matter to be decided in a day.

"Let's sleep on that, Mr. Sackville," he suggested. "I'm pretty young. You may not feel the same about it in two or three days. Anyhow, I wouldn't be able to throw in with you until after I've been back to Texas and seen my father. I've got to finish the job I'm on now."

"Take your time. The offer is open. But I want you with me. If I don't get some one honest and experienced I'm lost."

Chris	John Miljan
Ben	Tenen Holtz
Wardell	Richard Travers

BY MAE TINEE.

Good Morning!

KIND—Night club-gangster melodrama.

QUALITY—Fair.

PHOTOGRAPHY—Good.

ACTING—Commendable in spots.

SYNCHRONIZATION—Satisfactory.

STORY—Just another hectic yarn of the Great White Way in which a night club hostess learns that it's better to be a policeman's wife than a gangster's "come-on."

REMARKS—The film's main interest lies in the fact that it features the talking début of Blanche Sweet, who has been absent from the screen for some time. She does well what is given her to do and her voice registers quite pleasingly. I thought her rather frail in appearance. Mr. Moore you will like, I guess, though his brogue is a bit thick and forced. Charles Miljan and Tenen Holtz do good work. The film's a sort of a dachshund. Body's too long for the legs it has to stand on.

See you tomorrow.

Central Illinois Masons Honor David S. Davidson

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Pana, Ill., Feb. 5.—Masons from many central Illinois cities joined the Pana Royal Arch chapter here tonight at a banquet in honor of David Smith Davidson of Chicago, most excellent grand high priest. He was the principal speaker. Ex-Mayor Henry N. Schuyler, fifty-nine years a Royal Arch Mason and sixty years a member of the Blue lodge, also spoke.

The Inquiring Reporter

Every Day He Asks Five Persons, Picked at Random, a Question.

The Tribune will pay $5 for each question accepted for the Inquiring Reporter to ask. Send your name and address with your question to "Inquiring Reporter," Chicago Tribune. For today's question Jack Hodgson, care Lincoln Community High school, Lincoln, Ill., was awarded $5.

The Question.

How did you get your nickname?

The Answers.

Miss Virginia Sawyer, 7939 Eberhart avenue, stenographer—I seem to have inherited a flock of them; a half a dozen, at least. I am called Ginger, Ginny, and Gin [I don't drink]. Mother calls me Dolly, father calls me Cutie. My brother calls me anything [small a]. And, in fact, I usually answer.

Francis Helnis, 7328 Sangamon street, clerk—I have had it all my life. As you see, I have red hair. The nickname "Red" is the preferred stock, though Russy is brought into play by a few of my friends. However, at home they always call me by my right name; which, come to think of it, is proper.

Miss Eleana Galvarro, 2227 Bissell street, student—I am a Spanish girl; I state that so that you will understand the cause for my only nickname. My baby brother called me Papapa, which means little potato. Then my parents took it up and called me Papapa. My American friends do not take to Papapa, which is just as well.

John Schwitz, 315 South Harvey avenue, stock clerk—My last name is Schwitz, and some wit at the office clipped the Schwitz and made it Swish and by which name I have since been called by the fellows at the office. Schwitz means sweat in German. So far as I recall that's the only nickname I have had thrust upon me.

Mrs. Blanche Drew, 414 North Oakley avenue, housewife—When I was a child my younger brother called me Smiley, because I was always happy and smiling. I never had any nicknames after I grew up, though I never lost faith in the value of a smile and a happy disposition and countenance. I used to call my oldest son Donny Dew, I suppose because of its poetical relationship to Drew.

Lincoln Speech at Gettysburg Example for History of U. S.

Students of history entering THE TRIBUNE contest for the best 500 word history of the United States would do well to study the wording of Lincoln's Gettysburg address as a model of brevity.

This is the latest suggestion of the history editor, who, willing to help to that extent, yesterday again called attention to the approaching deadline of midnight, Feb. 15, when all manuscripts must be received at Tribune Square. To the writer winning first prize will be awarded $1,000. Second and third prizes will be $500 and $250, respectively, and seven additional prizes of $50 each will be awarded the next seven best entries. The contest was inspired by the agreement of former President Coolidge to write a 500 word American history to be carved upon the Mount Rushmore memorial in South Dakota.

The first paragraph of the Gettysburg address, the history editor pointed out, summarizes, in twenty-nine words, the essence of the revolutionary period perhaps better than it has ever been written, before or since.

The words, "Four score and seven years ago our fathers brought forth on this continent a new nation, conceived in liberty and dedicated to the proposition that all men are created equal," bring American history from 1776 down to 1861, including the war of the revolution, the history editor believes, and challenges any contestant to cover the ground any more concisely.

But one story reached the editor's ears yesterday which made the writing of 500 words seem redundant for telling the history of America. The history of mankind was once told, according to a story credited to the Talmud, in but seven words.

The Talmud tale, the editor was told, recounts the wish of an ancient king for the history of mankind. He summoned his wise men to go out into the world and bring him the essence of knowledge as man knew it. They returned in ten years with twenty camels loaded with manuscripts. Aghast at such a tremendous amount of material he ordered them to bring him a briefer account and they went out and returned with one camel weighed down with volumes. Again, still unsatisfied, he sent them forth and they came back with but one book, a thick volume containing hundreds of pages.

"But I have no time to read this," the king rebuked them, "is there not one among you who can give me, in a few words, what I wish?"

"Sire," said an old sage, "there is but this: 'Man is born, he lives, he dies!'"

"And that," said the history editor, "is something to shoot at."

Clergy Select Griswold New Chicago Bishop

Episcopal Coadjutor Soon to Be Elected.

BY THE REV. JOHN EVANS.

The Rt. Rev. Sheldon Munson Griswold, for 13 years the suffragan bishop of Chicago, was elected bishop of the diocese yesterday afternoon on the fifth ballot. The election of Bishop Griswold to succeed Bishop Charles P. Anderson was the closing work of the 93d convention of the diocese, which opened Tuesday at St. James' cathedral at Cass and Huron streets.

Bishop Griswold was elected bishop of the missionary district of Salina, Kas., by the national house of bishops in 1902. In 1917 he was elected suffragan bishop of Chicago and was installed on Jan. 8 of that year, which was the 14th anniversary of his consecration as a bishop. Bishop Griswold is an alumnus of Union college and of the General Theological seminary, New York.

Before his elevation to the episcopate, Bishop Griswold was a missionary at Mohawk and Frankfort, N. Y., and later became the rector of Immanuel church, Little Falls, N. Y. For 12 years he was rector of a church at Hudson, N. Y. Bishop Griswold will be 70 years old July 8.

In his address of acceptance following the election, Bishop Griswold declared that his first official act after being installed as bishop of Chicago would be to call for the election of a coadjutor—a bishop who would have the right of succession. A suffragan bishop does not have this right.

The laws of the Episcopal church require that the election of a bishop be confirmed by a majority of all other bishops of the church and by a majority of the standing committees of all the dioceses. This procedure usually requires three or four weeks. Sixty days must elapse after the call for a special convention of the diocese before the election of a coadjutor bishop can take place. A coadjutor bishop for Chicago, therefore, cannot be named before May.

Bishop Griswold spoke feelingly of Bishop Anderson, who died a week ago, as he accepted the election and declared that he did not feel capable of filling the late bishop's place.

"I desired to be Bishop Anderson's coadjutor with the hope that I should never succeed him," said Bishop Griswold. "I shrank from being his successor. You know me and I know you, and while I may lack in many capacities, yet I have a great capacity for love. I have loved the laity, the clergy, the parishes and missions of this diocese, and I have learned to love this great city.

"I want to retain my pastoral relationships with the clergy and people and shall assign a great deal of the administrative and executive work to the coadjutor elect."

The first ballot gave Bishop Griswold 43 out of 103 ballots cast. Dr. George H. Thomas obtained 34 votes and Dr. George Craig Stewart, 22. Scattering votes were given to Dean Duncan H. Browne of St. James' cathedral, Dean Frederick C. Grant of Western Theological seminary, the Rev. Dr. Robert S. Chalmers of Baltimore, and the Rev. Dr. Howard Chandler Robbins, formerly dean of the Cathedral of St. John the Divine, New York. On succeeding ballots Bishop Griswold continued to gain and the final ballot gave him 56; Dr. Thomas, 25, and Dr. Stewart, 23.

Attorney J. V. Norcross then asked for recess so that the laity might confer before voting on the clerical election. When the lay vote was taken it was 35½ for and 33 against, giving a margin of half a vote, as 35 votes are required to approve the clerical election.

On the motion of the Rev. E. Ashley Gerhard, rector of Christ church, Winnetka, the election was made unanimous and the convention was adjourned.

DEBATE SEPARATION

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

LONDON, Feb. 5.—Possible disestablishment of church and state in England was discussed during the second day's session of the Church of England. A resolution, offered by the archbishop of York, calling for the appointment of a committee to investigate the relations between the church and state, was adopted, 382 to 105.

The archbishop of Canterbury first had pointed out the motion was not a movement towards disestablishment, but the discussion indicated demand for changed relations between church and state in order to prevent disestablishment.

The greatest unanimity was displayed by the house of bishops, the vote being 33 to 1 for the resolution, the archbishop of York having predicted the next election in England would be fought over the issue of church and state.

"There now is a tension between what is recognized by the convocation and what is sanctioned by the law of state," he said. "While I consider spiritual independence so essential that the price of disestablishment is not to be too great to pay if there is no other means of securing that independence. Yet we must search long and carefully before it is decided that the price has got to be paid."

The bishop of Winchester declared: "We face the gravest conflict between the spiritual and the secular since the reformation." While the bishop of Durham came out absolutely for the disestablishment, saying:

THE STAGE

RICHARD BENNETT has been engaged by the Shuberts to star in "Siberia," a play adapted from the Hungarian of Lajos Zilhay. Rehearsals will begin today and the play is expected to open in Philadelphia about March 14. "Siberia" was announced for production two years ago by the now defunct Actors' theater.

John Drinkwater, British author of "Bird in Hand," has cabled from London asking the members of that company to place a wreath, in his name, at the base of the statue of Abraham Lincoln in Lincoln park on the birthday of the Emancipator next Wednesday. To perform this handsome gesture the players will assemble at the St. Gaudens monument at noon on the holiday.

Mr. Drinkwater is a great admirer of Lincoln and something of a specialist in Lincoln lore. His chronicle drama, "Abraham Lincoln," attracted a great deal of attention in this country and in England a decade ago. Incidentally, Herbert Lomas, who plays the Gloucestershire innkeeper in "Bird in Hand," was the actor of the rôle of Lincoln in the English production; and there isn't any reason to doubt that he wasn't much better than its American interpreter.

There are echoes of the stock market's débâcle in gossip from the directors' meetings of well known New York theatrical clubs. The Lambs has abolished credit. Henceforth its members who wish to sign their tabs with a flourish must deposit from $50 to $100 in the club's treasury, and their accounts will be permitted to run only to the amount of their cash reserve. In other words, they must pay in advance. The Friars, for the first time in its history, is bringing suits against 20 members to collect $5,000 in unpaid dues.

"Young Sinners" a play now running successfully at the Morosco theater, New York, will be duplicated for a Chicago engagement at one of the Shubert theaters, beginning late in February. The principal rôles will be acted by Marjorie Peterson, Hardie Albright and Frank Shannon.

Eugenia Leontovich, naturalized Russian comedienne, who appeared here last fall in a rôle resembling Sarah Bernhardt ("Fires of Youth" was the title), has been assigned to the leading part in "Candle Light," which the Shuberts will send on tour in March. She replaces Gertrude Lawrence. Miss Leontovich was the Mrs. Pepys of "And So to Bed," last season.

Among the current novels which are scheduled for dramatization is Blair Niles' "Condemned to Devil's Island." The tentative title for the play is "If God Made the World." C. C.

Scouts' Troops Soon to Replace Gangs of Boys

20 Year Campaign Begins with Today's Effort.

It was a favorite saying of Theodore Roosevelt that "if you want to do something for the average man you must start when he is a boy."

Today a handful of Chicago leaders will meet in the Union League club to follow that advice. If their appeal eventually is successful, a $1,250,000 fund will be raised for the greatest expansion of scout activity in Chicago history. The program for this will cover a four year period and the 1933 World's Fair.

Members of the campaign executive committee are Silas H. Strawn, chairman; R. Douglas Stuart, president of the Chicago council; Mason Phelps, vice president of the council; Laurence B. Robbins, chairman of the board; James H. Douglas Jr., George Rossetter, chairman of the business and professional groups; Stephen Y. Hord, chairman of communities organization, and James B. Forgan, chairman.

In the absence of Mr. Strawn, who is in Washington, Mr. Robbins will speak for the special gifts group at the opening campaign luncheon today. Mr. Rossetter will preside and Harry A. Wheeler, former president of the Chamber of Commerce of the United States, will be the principal speaker.

While campaign dinners are being conducted tonight in forty communities throughout this city, Coach A. A. Stagg of the University of Chicago, a former scout commissioner, will explain by radio the reason of the four year expansion program. The broadcasting by WMAQ will be from 7 to 7:30. Others who will speak are Judge Francis Allegretti of the Boys' court, Dr. Shailer Mathews, president of the Chicago Church federation, and Judge Henry Horner of the Probate court.

"In recent years the Chicago council has appealed for funds to enable it to carry out its plans on an annual budget basis," the committee explained yesterday. "The growth of the movement now demands a financing which will allow the council to plan for at least a four year program. The council has set a goal to reach all boys of scout age in Chicago in the next 20 years. The four year financing program is the initial step toward that goal."

The program provides for doubling the present 15,000 scout enrollment to 30,000 by 1933, intensive work in selected city areas of juvenile delinquency, increased camping facilities, plans for extending the education and vocational program, development of troop servicing or higher efficiency, and the expansion of Sea Scouts.

Although the Chicago council represents the largest scout organization in the entire Boy Scouts of America, its membership does not reach the standards of the national organization. At present one boy of twelve of scout age is a scout. Allowing a 40 per cent turnover during the coming four years, it is estimated that at least 62,500 boys will have been enrolled.

"The problem of juvenile crime in Chicago is grave," the committee pointed out. "Approximately 20,000 boys, between the ages of 10 and 17, are arrested annually at a cost of $1,600,000 to this city. The 'gang' danger is shown by the fact that over 90 per cent of cases of stealing occur in groups of two or more boys. On the other hand, a survey by the Institute of Juvenile Research shows that those areas in the city where juvenile delinquency is low are marked by the presence of scout troops, while the areas where the rate is high show few troops."

Eight areas in which scouting will be tried have been selected by the Chicago council in cooperation with the Institute of Juvenile Research, the Chicago crime commission, the sociological department of the University of Chicago, and other social agencies. Those areas are the near north side, lower northwest side, near west side and Pilsen, Bridgeport, Stock Yards, the south side Negro section, Grand Crossing and South Chicago steel mill districts. In these areas is a boy population of 56,257. The council hopes to make scouts of 20,500 boys in those areas by 1933.

Lake Forest Children Plan Ice Carnival

BY THALIA———.

The young skaters of Lake Forest are polishing up on their best stunts these afternoons in anticipation of the big event of the season, the annual Winter club children's carnival, scheduled to take place next Wednesday.

Of course, the youngsters must be alive to the possibilities of being disappointed, as the weather so often manages to spoil their most exciting outings. Last year the carnival had to be postponed and postponed until there was almost no hope left for good old Sol. Even in the summer time, the annual children's horse show usually has to be put off once or twice because of bad weather.

The party, when, as, and if it is given, will be in costume and will include a program of racing and stunt events after which the participants will repair to the clubhouse for cocoa and sandwiches in front of a big fire.

Some of the girls who are becoming the most proficient at the fancy skating include Marie Louise Hulburd, the DeForest Hulburds' daughter, Helen Dick, child of the A. B. Dicks, Barbara Mabbatt, daughter of the Richard Mabbatts, Louise Blossom, Dorothy Young, Margaret Prince, daughter of the Rev. and Mrs. Herbert Prince, and Anita Smith. Short coats of leather or bright patterned woolly sweaters with gay berets of wool to match the sweaters or in a plain color; woolen stockings, and short oversocks comprise the popular skating costume among the younger set.

New members of the board of directors of the Vocational Supervision league appointed at the society's recent annual meeting include James R. Offield, Morton D. Hull, Norman W. Harris, J. Weller Kimball, Lucius Teter, and Mrs. Frederick A. Ingalls. The following officers were reelected for another year: George H. Mead, honorary president; Mrs. Edward D. Pomeroy, president; Mrs. Payson S. Wild, Mrs. David W. Longstreet, Mrs. Frederick de Coningh, and Mrs. John Jay Healy, vice presidents; Mrs. Willer E. Post, secretary; Mrs. Otto G. Schmidt, treasurer.

The 800 crippled children who are to witness a special benefit performance of "The Princess and the Goblins" at the Harris theater this afternoon, through the generosity of the Charles B. Goodspeeds, will have lollipops and candy to add to the delights of seeing the Junior league's play. The leaguers who are to distribute the candy include Martha Fitts, Jessica Hambleton, Cornelia Fairbanks, Emeline Bush, Mrs. Norman Pritchard, and Carol Bourne.

Mr. and Mrs. John V. Farwell of 120 Lake Shore drive leave next Tuesday for Pasadena, Cal. They plan to spend the season motoring about the surrounding countryside.

Mr. and Mrs. William J. Chalmers of 1100 Lake Shore drive depart tomorrow after a busy season of opera and entertaining for Phoenix, Ariz. They will remain there for several weeks and then will motor on to California to stay out the winter.

Mrs. Ellen Dudley Root has returned from New York City, where, it is understood, she has been seeing producers and plays with an eye to acting professionally.

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Lyon Fentress of Hubbard Woods are being congratulated upon the birth of a son last Saturday at St. Luke's hospital. The infant is to be named Thomas Lyon Fentress Jr. Mrs. Fentress was Miss Celeste Pope of Washington, D. C., before her marriage.

F. Herman Gade has left after spending a fortnight with the Howard Gillettes of 50 Banks street. He is to sail on Friday for Paris, where he will join Mrs. Gade.

The Edward D. Shumways of Lake Forest have taken a cottage at Useppa island, Fla., for several months.

The Kent S. Clows of Lake Forest have returned from a visit with the Jay Morse Elys on their plantation at Thomasville, Ga.

Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Tullis [Anne Wood] are in Florida visiting Mr. Tullis' uncle.

Mrs. Heaton Owsley of 3150 Sheridan road is spending the week in New York City at Delmonico's.

Dr. Julia C. Strawn has been visiting Mr. and Mrs. William Wrigley Jr. at their place at Catalina island.

Earlier Wagner Opera Draws at Auditorium

"THE FLYING DUTCHMAN."

Romantic opera in three acts by Richard Wagner. Sung by the German Grand Opera company at the Auditorium, Feb. 5. Conductor, Hans Blechschmidt.

THE CAST.

Der Hollaender	Gotthold Ditter
Daland	Laurenz Pierot
Eric	Karl Joern
Steersman	Josef S. Lengyel
Senta	Margarethe Baeumer
Mary	Helen Lanvin

BY EDWARD MOORE.

This early Wagner work, or rather the Chicago performances thereof, are almost in need of a reference history to get them properly placed. The last time it was professionally presented here was in 1923 when another German opera company visited the Great Northern theater. Before that you must go back to the days of Conried, or maybe it was Grau, when the Metropolitan Opera company used to make brief stops at the Auditorium and Chicago had no other opportunities of hearing opera.

It would not have been surprising, therefore, if it were an unknown piece to most of Chicago's opera-going population. This was not the case. On the contrary, the Auditorium was filled last night with an audience that hung on every scene and every phrase with a delight betokening long, thorough, and affectionate acquaintance.

So to these and to the others who had had less chance to get clubby with the opera it no doubt registered as good news to find an insert in the program stating that another special performance of it will be given at popular prices next Sunday afternoon. That will be the last appearance of the company here this year. Thereafter it will be meeting its assignments elsewhere.

It is a grand old show, written in the days when Wagner believed that the way to operatic salvation lay along the path trodden by Meyerbeer. How completely he changed his mind can be discovered by thirty seconds' audition of any part of "Tristan" or "Die Meistersinger" or any one of the "Ring." In the year 1930 there may be some of us who in contemplation of "Der Fliegende Hollaender" prefer our Meyerbeer undiluted, but when Wagner permitted himself to write Wagner and not Meyerbeer, we can see the early flashes of what became great deeds in music.

And it was a fine performance, just as its predecessors this week have been, a little leisurely in spots, but generally keeping up a good pace and spirit. The manner had changed from the spacious gestures of the Norse pantheon to something more earthy and in keeping with a fantastic legend of the folk. That was not only good stage common sense, but the singing stayed on its former level. Mme. Baeumer, who had not been heard previously, became audible as a full throated Senta with striking dramatic power in a fine voice. There was first class singing at great length by Mr. Ditter and Mr. Pierot, more of the same at less length by Mr. Joern, and Mr. Lengyel was disclosed as an excellent lyric tenor.

This was the first time for the chorus, and the group of girls in the spinning scene are entitled to be proclaimed far and wide as an ideal example of what a chorus should be. This is quite the most attractive number of the score, and the spinners in voice, looks and action were altogether persuasive. Similar creditable and enjoyable singing had been accomplished by the men in the scene before while hauling to and fro on a rope. This business of rope hauling, as nearly as can be discovered, is the whole duty of all Wagnerian mariners.

Meanwhile the Columbia School of Music were presenting its annual professional artists' concert at Orchestra hall. The school symphony orchestra directed by Ludwig Becker played a Glinka overture, a Schubert symphony, and a Delibes ballet. Of the soloists, Walter Spry, pianist, played Weber's "Concertstueck," Ruth Ray, violinist, played the Conus Concerto; George Lane, baritone, sang a Handel aria, and Leslie Arnold, baritone also, a Verdi aria.

PATOU AND OTHERS TELL WORLD WHAT TO WEAR IN SPRING

[Copyright; 1930; By the New York Times.]

PARIS, Feb. 5.—Patou keeps the waistlines normal and lengthens the formal afternoon skirts to ten inches from the floor. Other styles he offers include:

Printed transparent afternoon ensembles with short jackets or three-quarter coats.

Wraps of printed taffeta and faille dance ensembles with short fur trimmed jackets, the featured colors being navy, black and white, and rose opaline.

Mme. Elsa Schiaparelli is showing adjustable scarf blouses for the sun bath or street wear. Her smooth tweed tailleurs (tailor mades) with bright blouses and scarf collars, braided through the coat necklines are interesting novelties, as are her multiple week-end apron dresses.

Business Men's Art Club Show Reveals Results of Hobbies

BY ELEANOR JEWETT.

The most beautiful gallery in Chicago, and possibly the limits could be widened to take in the whole of the United States, is the new Lakeside Press gallery which opened yesterday with an introductory exhibition of paintings and etchings by members of the Business Men's Art club.

The gallery is a delightful size. There is one fairly long and wide hall and opening from that there are three smaller rooms, each with huge windows facing the lake. The gallery is in stone and smooth wood and the hanging spaces are wood covered with natural monk's cloth.

The Business Men's Art club also is something about which we can be proud. It is made up of business men over 30 years old—and many of them are nearer 50 than 30—who have taken up the serious study of painting as a hobby and to increase their powers of enjoyment. The idea has been ten years in the growing and today the club is 178 members strong and other clubs patterned on it are flourishing in various large cities of the east and middle west.

In the current exhibit there are several paintings and prints which would rank high in professional company. There is, for instance, "The Wave," by Oscar Lumby, a small but very beautifully painted surge of greenish water along a rocky coast; and there is the intriguing "Dutch Lunch," by Leo Ruckle (who, by the way, plays second oboe in the Chicago Symphony orchestra), in which bread and sausage and a stein are depicted with fascinating verisimilitude. The "Frosty Morning," by William R. Watson, an attorney, is one of the finest paintings in the gallery. "In Russet Garb," by H. B. Colby, is a warmly colored, misty landscape of fall days.

Among the etchings Alfred De Sauty has two that are beautifully drawn. His "Floreat Chicago" may be seen again in the Chicago Society of Etchers' show current at the Art institute; his "Chicago by Moonlight" was one that was chosen last year to represent American etching in London. Mr. De Sauty is in charge of the fine binding department of the Lakeside Press.

"Wonder Girl's" Few Flaws Only Serve to Make Her Human

BY DORIS BLAKE.

A man is in love with The Wonder Girl. She is so beautiful people stare at her on the street. They make remarks about her beauty. In addition, she has a mind—one that operates, too. Her intelligence is far above the average and she holds a responsible position. In other ways she is superior, too. For a year the poor victim of all these charms was walking around on air. It was the most wonderful experience in all of his twenty-five years, he tells. BUT—

Lately a queer thing is happening. Some of the glamour is beginning to wear off. The girl still seems beautiful and superior—yet "some of the grab phase of life seems to be creeping into the romance," "Charles" tells. He seems to take her more for granted. And he can now even notice a lack of perfection in certain things about her.

"Is it," Charles asks, "a natural consequence? Is it a healthy symptom? Or is it the first stages of 'cooling off'?"

It's probably all three, Charles—and the better for all concerned. It must have been difficult trying to live up to that Ideal. Being you created out of love and a nice girl. Now, you'll be able to look at her as one human being is entitled to look at another. It wasn't anything serious, I should judge. Your symptoms were only that of a terribly love struck youth. One does, in a year or two, recover gradually.

If you plan to marry her, it is much better for you and the girl, too, not to enter the sometimes prosaic atmosphere of matrimony with too much poetry in your system.

SAYS MRS. GLAB OFFERED PAY TO GET MATE SLAIN

Druggist's Widow Ready for Questioning.

Los Angeles, Cal., Feb. 5.—(AP)—Deputy District Attorney Wayne Jordan, acting on information given him by a prisoner, ordered an intensive search today for Mrs. Hazel Glab and an unnamed man for questioning about the slaying two years ago of her husband, John Glab, a wealthy druggist, formerly of Chicago. Jordan said he had been told Mrs. Glab offered money "to have her husband killed."

The widow was located late tonight and promised to be available for questioning.

Jordan said the prisoner, George A. Davis, told him he knew Mrs. Glab had paid W. R. McIntyre, former policeman, who is in jail on a hit and run driving charge, $500 "to keep his mouth shut" and made another offer of $500 to have her husband "bumped off."

Davis was taken to McIntyre's cell where he repeated his statement. McIntyre denied the accusation but admitted that Mrs. Glab had "loaned me $1,000." Later the former policeman said he had paid back only $500 of the "loan."

The man sought, Jordan said, is believed to have disposed of the gun with which Glab was killed. Inability to find the weapon, Jordan said, has blocked previous efforts to identify the slayer.

WOMAN SLUGGED AS SHE LEAVES FRIEND'S HOME

Mrs. Dora Wolfson, 54 years old, 1844 Millard avenue, was unconscious and in a serious condition last night at the Mount Sinai hospital, apparently having been slugged and robbed in the hallway of an apartment building at 3245 Douglas boulevard. Mrs. Wolfson was suffering from several blows on the head, and the Fillmore street police were investigating to determine how she had been injured.

She had driven from her home with her husband, Irving, a grocer, to the home of Joseph Rosengard, a salesman, at 3245 Douglas boulevard, and had left the car to call on Mrs. Rosengard. A few minutes after Wolfson had driven away, the Rosengard's doorbell rang and Rosengard, going down into the hall, found Mrs. Wolfson lying on the floor. Her purse was missing.

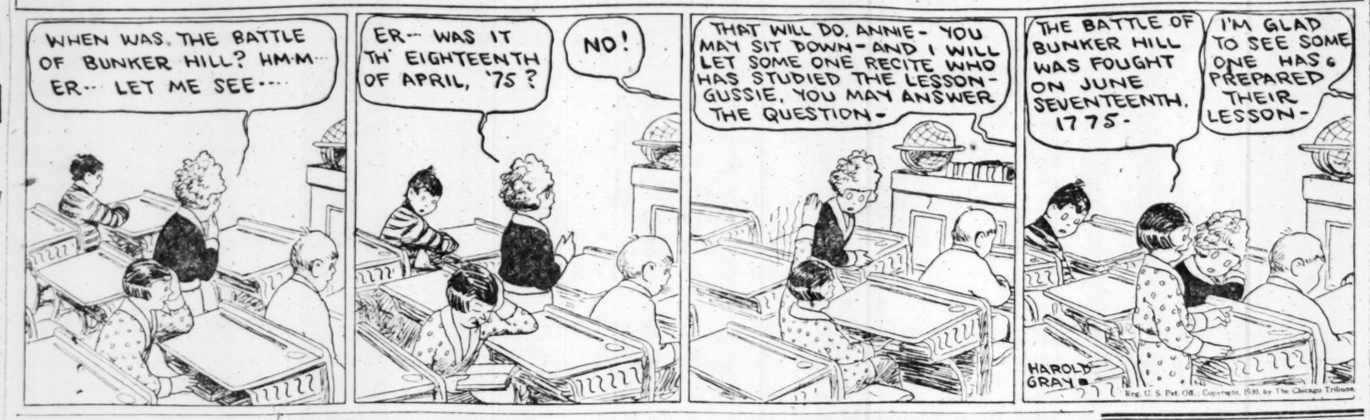
Wolfson said his wife might have had $1,000 in the purse, as she collected that amount on Tuesday on a note.

J. L. MONAGHAN, IN PUBLIC OFFICE MANY YEARS, DIES

James Lester Monaghan, 71 years old, who for thirteen years was deputy county controller, died suddenly yesterday at his home, 6334 Sheridan road, of acute indigestion. Since 1907, when he resigned his position in the county controller's office, Mr. Monaghan had been in the insurance business. He is survived by his wife, who was Miss Ada Cooke of Chicago, and by three daughters, Mrs. Bert E. Fox and Misses Mary and Florence Monaghan, all of this city.

Mr. Monaghan was born in Philadelphia and came to Chicago in 1877. He was elected to the Illinois legislature, being a member of the 36th general assembly.

LITTLE ORPHAN ANNIE: Is There No Justice?



Radio Brings Elmer Music of All Kinds

BY ELMER DOUGLASS.

There were worth while programs and the evening sped by profitably.

The new series of orchestral programs, with Countess Olga Albani as soprano soloist, from New York, through W-G-N, 7:30 to 8, promises well so far as excellent orchestral selections are concerned, promises not so well so far as moderation in advertising is concerned, and did not measure up highly so far as concerns last evening's soprano soloist.

Miss Olive Palmer, soprano, Paul Oliver, tenor, the Revelers male quartet, and the splendid studio orchestra continue week after week to supply the New York program through W-G-N, 8:30 to 9:30, with just about as attractive an entertainment for popular consumption as the most particular could ask for—providing the listener is not too classical.

The Chicago Concert company, directed by Frank Bennett and assisted by the WLS Concert orchestra, presented an altogether pleasing program from WLS, 8 to 8:30. The Chicago Concert company has been off the air for some time, and I am sure the radio audience is glad to hear them again.

On a chain program through WMAQ, 9 to 9:30, Fannie Brice and Henry Burbig burlesqued through the balcony scene of Shakespeare's "Romeo and Juliet," and the radio audience certainly laughed. Juliet's balcony was the fire escape at the rear of the house and Romeo was parked in the back yard.

Woman Who Defied Cop's Order to Halt Fined $12

Mrs. Lillian H. Geddes, 1500 East Prospect avenue, Park Ridge, was fined $12 and costs yesterday by Judge Robert E. McMillan in Shakespeare avenue court on charges of driving through a traffic light and resisting an officer. When Mrs. Geddes was stopped by a policeman two weeks ago after passing the red light she refused to give her name or stop until the policeman shut off the motor of her car.

English Author of Over a Book a Year Since '95 Dies

LONDON, Feb. 5.—(AP)—Edwin William Pugh, novelist, died tonight at the age of 56. He was one of the most prolific of modern English writers and had averaged better than one book a year since his first success, "A Street in Suburbia," came out in 1895.

DUCE AND 100,000 FASCISTS MARCH AT BIANCHI RITES

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

ROME, Feb. 5. — One hundred thousand black shirts with Il Duce at their head marched this afternoon to the persistent rythm of military drums at the funeral rite of Michele Bianchi, former minister of agriculture and one of the four leaders of the fascist march on Rome in October, 1922.

Austrian Chancellor Johann Schober called off his engagments today in honor of Sig. Bianchi and accompanied Premier Mussolini in the cortege to the cetnral station when a special train bore the remains to Paola, in the "toe" of Italy's boot. Troops lined the streets and followed the coffin to the station, and planes droned overhead.

In front of the station the procession halted and Il Duce mounted a small podium trimmed with black draperies. Amid a dead silence he called out in a powerful voice, "Michele Bianchi," to which thousands yelled back, "Present." Three volleys were then discharged by the militia. Then Il Duce returned to work, betraying obvious signs of profound emotion.

Civil Service Law Balks Ouster of Married Women

The civil service commission yesterday threw cold water on the plan of Ald. John Toman [23d] to turn over the city jobs of married women to unemployed men. There is no provision in the civil service law, the commissioners stated, by which women can be removed simply because they are married. The council, at the request of Toman, has directed the city clerk to request all city department heads for information concerning the employment of husbands of married women working for the city.

JURY TRYING COP AS EXTORTIONIST IS DEADLOCKED

The jury trying Michael De Laurentis, suspended Des Plaines street policeman, and three others on charges of extortion was locked up for the night last night by Judge Philip J. Finegan in the Criminal court when the foreman, George L. Dandre, 3001 Sunnyside avenue, reported that the jurors were unable to agree on a verdict.

De Laurentis was absent when court adjourned for the day, having been missing since the middle of the afternoon when he walked out of the courtroom while the prosecutors were making their closing arguments. His codefendants, Edward Otis, Harold Ardner, and Thomas Cook, who had been absent most of the day were present when the jury was locked up and were taken into custody by Lieut. William Blaul as they were leaving the courtroom. Lieut. Blaul refused to disclose the charges on which they were rearrested.

Besides the periodical disappearances of the defendants the state was further harassed by the disappearance of Gene Masentier, 4553 Sheridan road, the complainant against the four men. Masentier charged that the four men had obtained money from him by posing as federal agents with a forged warrant charging him with violation of the prohibition laws.

FOUR TO RECEIVE BUDD MEDAL FOR SAVING LIVES

Four employés of electric railway lines will receive the Britton I. Budd medal for saving human life at the eighth annual first aid and safety first banquet of the associated electric railway and motor coach lines of the Chicago area at the Palmer house this evening.

Those who will receive the medals are Arthur Broska, 2453 Sunnyside avenue, equipment inspector of the Rapid Transit lines, who resuscitated a man overcome by gas; Frank Trochim, 1657 West 18th street, wireman helper of the Rapid Transit lines, who revived a woman overcome by gas in the apartment building in which he lives; John J. Walter, 3116 West 53d place, cashier of the North Shore line freight station at 41st street and Union avenue, who revived a man overcome by carbon monoxide gas; and Ygnacio Yasso, 1047 Polk street, track laborer of the Chicago, Aurora and Elgin railroad, who removed a fellow employé from a third rail.

CHIEF PUNISHES SELF WITH 35 LASHES FOR INDIAN LAW VIOLATION

Bonners Ferry, Idaho, Feb. 5.—(AP)—Charlie Isadore today resumed the feathered coronet of chief of the Kootenai Indians. Descendant of a long line of chieftains, he was deposed last fall by tribesmen for drunkenness and debauchery. Davis was made chief.

Last week Charlie with two others engaged in a drinking and stabbing bout. An Indian policeman arrested them and brought them before Chief David.

At the bar of judgment Charlie drew himself up, folded his arms, and stood beside David.

"It is I, Chief Isadore," he announced, "who will name the penalty for these offenders. I sentence thee, Louis White and Alec Pierre, to seven days' work on the woodpile and digging trenches."

Then he threw back his head and shouted: "And Charlie Isadore, I sentence thee to thirty-five lashes of the whip."

Charlie bared his swarthy back and did not flinch from the thirty-five bloody lashes. Then he said:

"Charlie Isadore sentences himself to twice thirty-five lashes should he ever again drink the white man's firewater."

DEATH NOTICES

In Memoriam.

COHEN—Norman Cohen. In loving memory of our dear son, who passed away nine years ago today, Feb. 6.
A precious one from us is gone,
A voice we loved is stilled,
A place is vacant in our home
Which never can be filled.
PARENTS, SISTER AND BROTHER.

FELLNER—Adolph Fellner. In loving memory of my dear grandfather, who passed away 1 year ago today, Feb. 6, 1929.
Only to see your face again,
Only to hear you speak,
Only to see you smile again,
Only to kiss your cheek.
I think of you in silence;
No eyes can see me weep.
But many a solemn tear I shed,
When others are asleep.
YOUR HEARTBROKEN GRANDCHILD,
ELSIE.

FELLNER—Adolph Fellner. In loving memory of our dearly beloved husband and father, who passed away one year ago today. Gone but not forgotten.
WIFE AND CHILDREN.

GREENBERG—Abe Greenberg. In loving memory of my darling father, who left us 17 years ago today, Feb. 6. Gone but not forgotten. DAUGHTER TILLIE.

PODOLSKY—Louis Podolsky. In loving memory of our dear husband and father, who passed away one year ago today.
O, how we miss you, words cannot tell.
The bright, happy face we loved so well.
The sweetest memory is all that is left
Of our dear father, gone to rest.
LOVING WIFE, DAUGHTERS AND SON.

YESTERDAY'S PUZZLE SOLVED

THINK THIS OVER
THE NEXT TIME YOU LIE AWAKE

WHEN, after an evening cup of coffee, you toss sleeplessly, don't blame yourself for lack of will-power. Blame yourself for lack of initiative.

For you know it's one single ingredient of coffee that steals your sleep—caffein. Undoubtedly you've heard of Sanka Coffee—genuine, delicious coffee from which 97% of the caffein has been removed. But you just haven't got around to trying it. And what a treat you're missing.

Uncommonly delicious! . . .

For Sanka Coffee is uncommonly delicious. Nothing is added—only the caffein that steals your sleep is removed. Sanka Coffee is a blend of the choicest Central and South American coffees—skillfully roasted and blended to bring out the finest flavor, the most tempting aroma. Coffee experts recognize that no other blend is finer.

Physicians endorse Sanka Coffee wholeheartedly. Your grocer carries it—ground or in the bean—in pound cans that preserve its freshness and its fragrance. He sells it on this money-back basis: "If, after a thorough trial, you are not fully satisfied, return what's left and we'll refund the full purchase price." Get a can of Sanka Coffee today—and sleep tonight!

Make the night-test! . . .

The first time you try Sanka Coffee, drink it at night. It won't keep you awake. Next morning you'll know, from actual experience, that you've discovered a delicious coffee you can enjoy morning, noon and night—without regret!

U. S. CALLED FOR EMERGEN WHEAT RELI

Plan Direct Buy to Boost Price

BY PAUL POTTER.

Scarcely seven months af passage of the federal gover agricultural marketing act, the farm board has been called u create a stabilization corporat which means the United Stat ernment will for the first time to purchase sufficient of the wheat crop to relieve present d ized price levels.

At the close of its first t meeting here yesterday the growers' advisory committee farm board recommended the diate creation of such a natio plus control corporation under granted by the marketing a ticles of incorporation are bein up in order to exert the gover action at the earliest possible

Legge Gives Approval.

Although Alexander Legge, man of the farm board, could reached after the announcem the committee, it is understoo well as S. R. McKelvie, grain of the board, sat in with the growers and approved their W. G. Kellogg, chairman of visory group and general man the farm board's central sales tive, made the announcement.

This proposed entry of th board into the weakened natio international wheat markets is be an unprecedented peacetim of the federal government to tempted control of raw foodst the benefit of the producers.

While the new stabilization tion would be closely related Farmers' National Grain corp a $20,000,000 cooperative sales created last fall by the farm it is more than a mere coor and marketing organization. the marketing act's provisi board of directors may be gi most unlimited leeway in am grain purchased, and how the may be disposed of.

To Use $500,000,000 Fun

Any losses that might be i in the processing, holding or ing" of wheat in the dome world market may be repaid revolving fund of $500,000,000 priated by congress last June farm board. Loans are made federal farm board from this the stabilization corporation. the plan of the board that an incurred in unusual years an made up from profits of the tion during more favorable se

The act also provides that t board may recognize an exist poration as the agency for co its stabilization activities.
